Williwaw

Ketchikan High School
Ketchikan, Alaska

Williwaw is a name given to a sudden gust of cold land air, common along mountainous coasts.

The 1962 WILLIWAW represents our school--its students, faculty, and various activities--in pictures. It gives us something to remember our years in high school, which go only too fast. It is presented to the students of Kayhi, especially the Seniors, as a memory of our activities at Kayhi in 1962.

Dedication

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

We proudly dedicate this 1962 yearbook to Mr. and Mrs. Wengert, who as a husband and wife team have done their utmost to further education in our school. Mr. Wengert has contributed to the business student his knowledge and practices, so that the student of our school is ready to meet the world of business. Mrs. Wengert has given to our English department the preparatory work needed so badly by many of the students planning to go to college.

We are very grateful that our school is fortunate to have two such teachers. So with deepest gratitude we are dedicating the 1962 WILLIWAU to them.

Senior Class History

In the fall of 1958 began a play which ran for four years in the halls of Kayhi. Main characters for the first act were Pete Amundson--class president, Jim Bell--vice-president, Tom Zaruba--secretary, Sandy Taggart--treasurer, and Rosie Kristovich--sgt.-at-arms. Ethelyn Miller did a fine job of directing, and our Freshman Frolic initiated the policy of having the best and most well remembered dances of any class. Homework mixed in with the fun and excitement and the first act was over all too soon, as we became Sophomores and stepped into Act II.

Our leaders were ones we all remember . . . John Tadlock--president, Pete Amundson--vice-president, Dixie Berkey--secretary, Lynda Davidson--treasurer, and Cliff Fosse--sgt.-at-arms. We won many leading parts in school clubs and activities, and the stars in the Class of "62" soon became well known. Our leading role in Pep Club began with John Tadlock as President and Sharon Beckman, song queen. Latin Club stars were Dennis Simpson, Marion Tucker, and Ronalee Myser. Tom Seierup and Wally Jones gave their support to the Kings. With excellent directors, "Moonglow," our Sophomore Hop, became the best dance of the year.

As our play progressed into the third act, vacant places were filled by new actors. Our class stars were president--Pete Amundson, vice-president--Bill Wright, secretary--Charlein Knott, treasurer--Mary Kinerk, and sgt.-at-arms--Frank Pettygrove. Our role in Pep Club continued with Marian Davies as secretary, Kathleen Borgen, Mary Kinerk, Charlein Knott, and Ginny Oathout as song queens, and Sharon Beckman, this time as one of the cheerleaders. The Kings again showed the backing of our class with Tom, Wally, Lance O'Neil and a newcomer, LeRoy Wilder. Homecoming was a real success with Barbara Haws as Homecoming Queen and so many other Juniors working on it. The Junior Jinx fulfilled its purpose of raising money for the Prom, and under the directorship of Bert Kimura and Mark Miller, our "Enchanted Garden" became a memory to last a lifetime.

The last and most memorable Act of all, starring Tom Seierup as class president, Wally Jones as vice-president, Rosie Kristovich as secretary, and Dixie Berkey as treasurer, had begun. The SBA ran smoothly under the leadership of Bill Wright and LeRoy Wilder, with Mary Kinerk, Barbara Haws, and Pete Amundson as their supporting officers. Dennis Simpson, Marian Davies, and Marian Tucker all did a wonderful job in Torch. Our leading roles in Pep Club this year were played by Harlan Swain--president and Ronalee Myser--treasurer. A better setting for the Senior Ball couldn't have been found than in an "Evening in Paris," and the atmosphere created under Mark Miller's direction added to a wonderful dance. The mighty Kings were supported again this year by Tom, Wally, Lance, and LeRoy. TOURNAMENT??????? Our play is nearing it's closing scene . . . Many of the supporting players have not been mentioned, but they are well remembered, for without them there would not have been a play at all. The final scene has come, bringing Baccalaureate, and Graduation. As we look back over our four years, and renew old memories, we thank all those who have helped us along the way, for without them we would have been lost.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

A new position requires much listening, plus the normal amount of doing. There is no time left in which to expound. I shall not attempt to expound.

I am impressed with the energy of our students. I am confounded by the time necessary to channel and direct the activities of the school into which much of this energy pours. I am awestruck at the range of student abilities and perplexed at the curriculum problem this divergence poses.

I sincerely hope that my work for the students may match the effectiveness of the work done by the Williwaw committees of last year and this year.

Ray Bassett
Principal

VICE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Never in the history of the world has the challenge of our young people been so great; never has it been so important for high school students to take full advantage of every opportunity for learning.

Of equal importance to the gaining of academic competence is full acceptance of the opportunities for forming lasting friendships, earning recognition among classmates, and developing respect for the opinions of others.

To this year's graduating seniors, I wish every success and happiness; to those students who will be returning next year--a pleasant summer vacation.

Harvey M. Stroud
Vice Principal

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

It is my hope that the end of this school year will find each student possessing not only greater factual knowledge, but also a deeper understanding, a greater sense of personal responsibility and a higher degree of pride in himself, his school and his community.

As instructors, administrators, and supervisors, we teachers attempt to inspire the student to attain these worthwhile ends. The cooperation we have received from the students justifies our feeling of pride in our students and in our school. As the faculty and the students continue to work together on a friendly, cooperative basis, Ketchikan High School should become greater with each succeeding year. The success of the individual can be measured only by the success of the school as a whole.

Kayhi Kings

The Kayhi Kings, led by their able co-captains, Larry Kemp and Wally Jones, are having another fine season. Up to the time this was written they have compiled a 13-1, won-loss conference record and took 3 out of the 4 games from their Canadian Rivals, the Prince Rupert Rainmakers. They placed second in the Jaycee's International Tournament against some of the finest adult teams in Southeastern Alaska and Northern British Columbia. Larry Kemp was placed on the all tournament first team and picked the Most Inspirational player of the tournament. Kings--Seierup, Jones, O'Neil, and Wilder were picked on the all tournament second team. The Kings also took Juneau four straight games to win the Pan Am Totem. Good luck Kings in the remaining games of the season and in the Southeastern Tournament.
