Juniors Learn New Skills

The unusual aroma in the halls each day was from the Sea-Education Cooking class.

The class was designed to teach students certain cooking skills which would enable them to work as cooks on the ferries, fishing boats, or at logging camps.

They were taught how to prepare tasty, hearty, nutritious meals. During the year the class prepared meals for the faculty, and sold several items they baked. They became famous for their homemade pies and rolls, and their recipes were in great demand around school.

One pizza to go (?)

Mrs. Beers shows the students their dancing dolls.

On November 13, Folksingers Bob and Evelyne Beers appeared in a special concert for the Kayhi students.

While Mrs. Beers sang, her husband accompanied her on an unusual, antiquated instrument, the psaltery, which sounds much like a harp and a fiddle.

The talented couple performed such songs as "Island in the Sun," the "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet," and "Try to Remember." They told stories about the origins of some of the songs they sang.

Ketchikan Hosts Exchange Student

Mrs. Wengert and Ueli enjoy a good laugh.

If you don't know what they are talking about, laugh like crazy.

Kayhi's third exchange student, Ulrich Fricker (Ueli, as he prefers to be called), is from Aarau, Switzerland.

During the 1970-71 school year he made his home with the Ira Elerding family.

Ueli's favorite sports are swimming, tennis, skiing, and fishing. He was active in the Ketchikan Ski Club and Pep Club. He attended tournament in Mt. Edgecumbe also.

Ueli was sponsored by the International Christian Youth Exchange. He was one of 20 Swiss students who passed the I. C. Y. E. selection tests.

Ueli's father is an insurance agent and he has one brother who attended school in Arizona in 1967.

Ueli enjoyed making comparisons between Swiss schools and Kayhi and he felt that we were more strict.

What do you think of our American beverages Ueli?

Ueli explains a trig problem to Marly.

Senior Carnival Nets $1,200

The class of '71 broke all records at it's senior carnival on November 14. Gordon Lee and Mike Elerding headed the carnival committees, in spite of which it was pretty good. Marly Edenso, Debbie Ruaro, and Charlene Ortiz ordered the booby prizes and Mike Fredini handled 'Gus' . . . the giraffe. The spook house was full of "horrors" and by the end of the night the spooks were hoarse but they said it was a real ball. The cake walk ran wild and Devils food cakes were heavenly. Everyone got a bang out of the sponge throw, especially Mr. Stekl, Mr. Hansen, and Mr. Adame. Just for the "halibut" we let a couple of real crabs run the fish pond. They did it on porpoise. The class of '71 grossed $2,100 the most ever, and netted $1,200 not counting the money from Gus the Giraffe which went to some worthy cases . . . uh, er, causes.

International Homecoming

Bonfire adds a festive glow to Homecoming.

Up, up, and away

Enthusiastic supporters watch bonfire.

The Prince Rupert Rainmakers arrived in Ketchikan on December 17 for a two-game series with Kayhi. That evening, the Pep Club hosted the teams at a dinner.

The following morning a pep assembly was held. A special feature was "The Masculine Marching Men of 1971", a group of seniors who thought they might be able to give the drill team a few tips.

Friday night, a car parade, and the annual bonfire preceded the game. Homecoming activities drew to a close with the Queen's Ball.

Linda Veerman and Ron Wallin reigned over the annual senior ball held January 2 at the Elk's upstairs ballroom. Music was provided by the Fragile Lime, a Seattle band. Vice-Principal Richard Hansen crowned the King and Queen and Linda was presented with the traditional bouquet of red roses. A smörgåsbord of turkey, ham, salads and dessert was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew at midnight. Mike Frediani was chairman of the ball and was assisted by Ricki Haksheffel, Mary Nault and Jenelle Kandt, who were in charge of decorations.

After several years of inactivity, the F.T.A. was again organized. The club is designed to encourage an interest in the teaching profession.

Barbara Hale was elected president, Laurel Van Hoof was vice-president, and Candy Pickrell was secretary-treasurer. A constitution was written and the club was officially chartered.

The Club consisted primarily of tutors and teachers' aids. They met to discuss mutual problems and concerns that they had encountered in their work in the local elementary schools.

Lettermen Purchase Gym

The Kayhi Lettermen's Club started off with a bang this year. Four wrestlers were elected to offices in the club. Ralph Mackie was chosen for president; Mike Elerding, vice-president; Tony Martin; secretary; and Bill Moran, sgt. at arms. In October, the club held its annual slave auction, and raised over $500.00. Soon after the auction, the lettermen received the Marcy Gym set, a $2,700 muscle building machine the club had been working towards for two years. Twelve wrestlers, 7 track and cross country men, and 3 basketball players made up the club. Members earning a varsity letter in more than one sport included Fred Bass, Ric Boyd, George Brounty, Dan Hook, and Bill Stewart.

Senior Tony Martin set an all-time record during the annual Lettermen's Slave Auction by selling for $100.00. Tony was purchased by a group of freshman girls, who it is rumored, had more cents, than sense.

This year, because of its large size, the concert band was split into two groups, the Kayhi Concert Band consisting of 57 members, and the Freshman Band consisting of 47 members. Both of the Bands are under the direction of Mr. Wally Ost.

In the beginning of the year, each band chose officers. The High School Band officers were: Carmen Bernhoft, president; Steve Alsup, vice-president; and Ricki Marksheffel, secretary-treasurer. Freshman Band officers were: Ben Griffith, president; Tracey Lovett, vice-president; and Shawn Sneller, secretary-treasurer.

The two bands first performed at a fall concert on November 23. The music varied from "Raindrops" by Bacharach to "Abduction from Seraglio" by Mozart. In December the High School Band appeared in the annual Christmas concert.

On January 31 and February 1, the High School and Freshman Bands presented a joint program with the Schoenbar Bands.

Other activities included a tour to Prince Rupert, Terrace and Kitimat, B.C., and a musical in which only band and chorus members participated.

Edgecumbe Hosts S.E. Tourney

Parents and friends were on hand Tuesday, March 2 to see Kayhi students and chaperones board the Taku for Mt. Edgecumbe and the 1971 Southeast Alaska Basketball Tournament. On the way north the ferry made several stops to pick up students from Wrangell, Petersburg and Juneau, also on their way to tournament. The students were met by several buses which took them to the terminal. There they took a small boat to Mt. Edgecumbe. Most of the Kayhi students unless they had other housing arrangements, were housed at the dorms in Edgecumbe.

Ketchikan played against the host school and came out victorious, 67-59. The Kayhi Pep Band and the Mt. Edgecumbe Pep Band entertained throughout the game. The Ketchikan and Sitka Drill Teams marched before the games. Several dances were held in Mt. Edgecumbe and in Sitka, sponsored by various clubs and organizations.

Although the Kayhi supporters had to leave on the ferry Saturday night they left plenty of school spirit but apparently that wasn't enough for the Juneau-Douglas Crimson Bears defeated the Kings 60-47. Metlakatla defeated Haines 64-60, Wrangell beat Mt. Edgecumbe 93-62 and for the first time in 25 years the Petersburg Vikings won the S.E. Basketball Tournament by downing the Sitka Wolves 91-61.
