'77, That's Our Goal

We, the class of '77, have finally reached our goal here in this year's WILLIWAW. Our years have been four chapters in the book titled HIGH SCHOOL. They are over now, and we face a new book which each will write his or her own way. And many volumes will follow after that. These lines and pages of our future are a challenge, true, but then this is what we have been waiting for.

And we have waited proudly. Few are our regrets as we look back all the way to that funny-brief year we call "Freshman". Having passed that hurdle, we looked forward with real anticipation to our Sophomore year. And we eagerly took on the task of promoting spirit in Kayhi. Onlookers could see in us an excited dedication to the school we had known for only a year.

In our Junior year, the "goal-oriented" class became even more involved. Four of our guys were field-goal oriented, and accompanied one, lone first string senior to a number one in Southeast and second in State. But we were all good that year; just looking forward to being great as Seniors.

Yes, sports (for gals and guys) has been a major area in which the class of '77 proved its loyalty to Kayhi. But our ambition to be best has also been realized by membership in a leadership of student gov't, drill team, mat-maids, band and chorus, photography, journalism, F.H.A., H.E.R.O, drama, speech, and foreign languages as well as many other areas.

And it is true that each Senior class has become better; now it has reached its peak. We trust that each successive graduating class will hold true to the excellence that characterizes the class of '77.

Each year at this time class officers are asked to record in this space an account of the class year, a glowing picture of all that the school is and how their class has made it that way. Traditionally these letters to fellow class members have too often been saturated with false statements and half truths.

But this year we plan to lay it on the line. Let's face it; Kayhi has its faults. And when we say Kayhi, it has to mean us, too. School spirit and involvement were seriously on the decline for some years. These have recently reversed their trend, and now we can, as the next senior class, see ourselves in the position to promote a continuation of this renewal. Or we can sit back and say, "If we can just last until graduation, the problems will go away."

And what will the class of '78 say about all this? We know. Yes, we're "Alive and loving, full of fun. . .", but we are full of keen competitive minds as well. . .athletes strong in sports as well. . .talented musicians, artists and writers as well. . .

We know what we'll say to the challenge of our senior year. We have spirit and drive, and the leadership to direct these strengths. We have the potential to overcome all the problems that remain—and there will be lots of those.

Our senior year at Kayhi will show this school more than a few surprises. Already we have managed to do away with many petty disagreements that have so often divided other classes. We compete not only for individual achievement, but also for class distinction. We work together.

And together we are ready to tackle our senior year with everything we've got to prove once again that we are..and above all, Kayhi is, number 1. '78 class officers

'79 is Really Alive

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

People don't ask who we are . . . they know. People don't have to ask what we are . . . they know. People don't have to ask where we are . . . they know.

Who are we? My class needs no introduction - we just like to be referred to as "The Great Class of '79." I think that we have proved that we are great to most of the school.

Mr. Hansen wrote in last year's annual, "I have noted a great improvement in spirit this year." Yes, over the year of '75 to '76 he said this . . . the year in which we were called "punk little freshmen". It was the year that we proved to our school who we were, what we want in life and how we were going to get it!

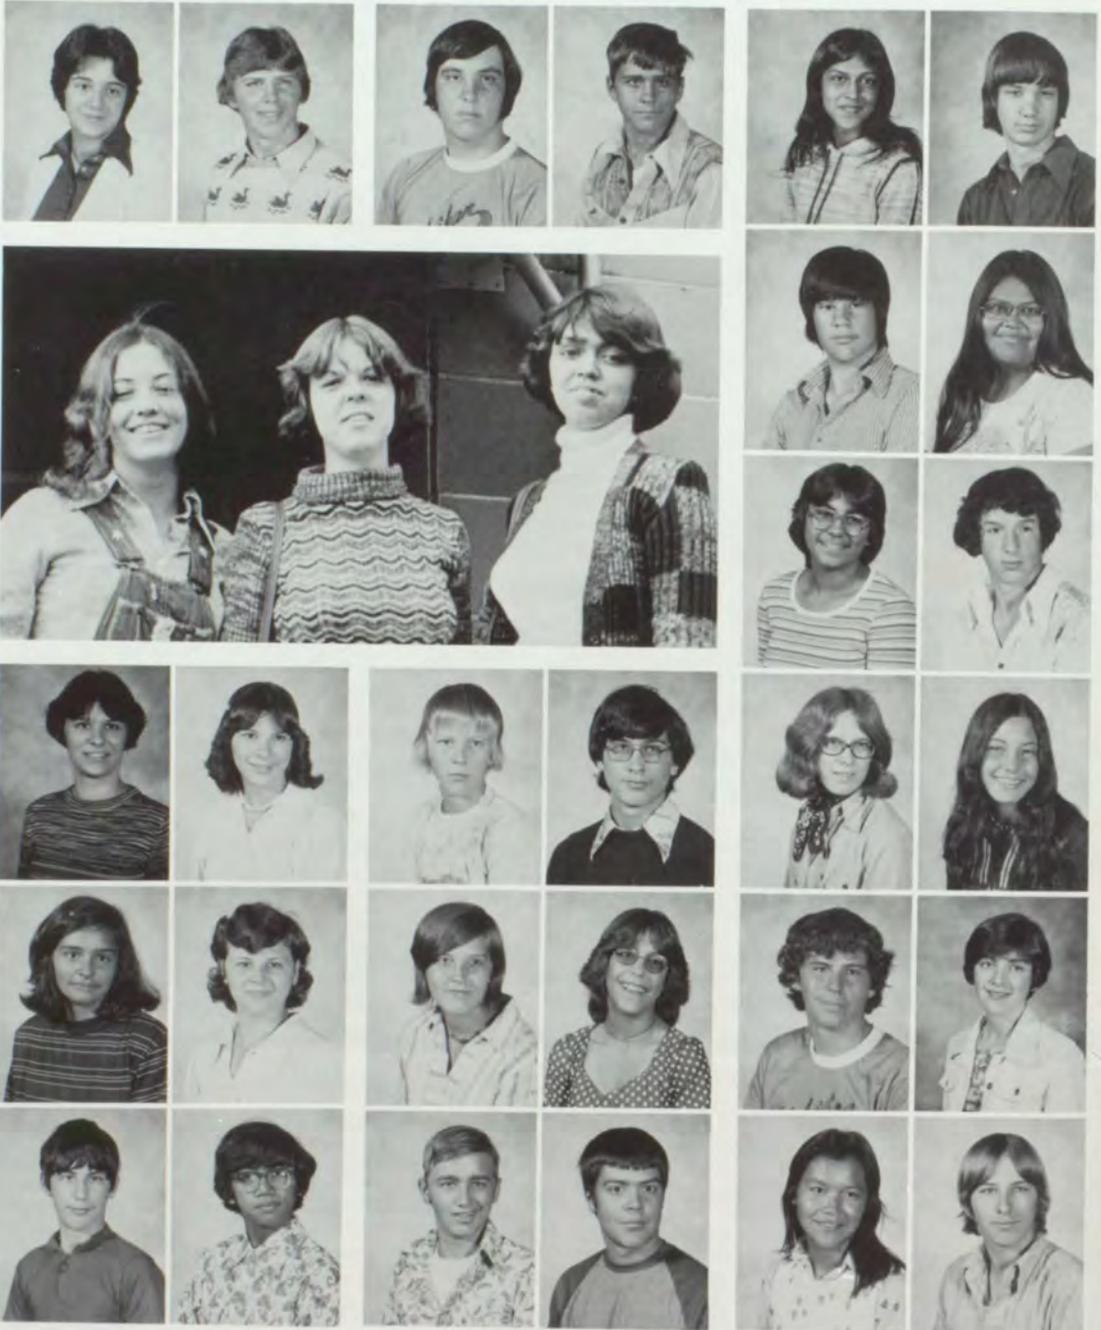

This year we seek to improve ourselves. I believe that we have the qualities to do this: sparkle, pep, personality, drive, power, you name it, and we've got it! I don't have to go on and on bragging about the virtues of our class: who's in this sport or in that musical event, who had straight A's, or just how great the class of '79 really is - people know.

Nobody has to look far to find us - we are the class that participates in nearly everything. We are a class that sticks together no matter what. We strive for our highest ambitions and set our goals to reach the highest star . . . and I know that someday we will all attain those things that we are working towards right now.

I have searched my mind trying to find a word or words to describe us . . . but there are none that fit us. After all, we're just a normal class with our high and low points; but what sets us apart is our desire to "get better". I feel an appropriate ending is simply, "Watch out, world - the Great Class of '79 is coming!"

Class of '80 Turns it on!

Alive and active: that describes the first high school year of the class of '80! Our participation in extra-curricular activities has been extensive. The entire J.V. cheerleading squad was made up of freshmen, and two of our girls were on the varsity squad. Two of our freshmen made girls' volleyball; one of them was on the first string. The girls' cross country team was made up of one girl - a freshman. Three freshmen were on the wrestling squad. On the J.V. basketball team we had one freshman and fourteen were on the freshman team. We had one freshman in King's Knights and ten on the Kayhi swim team. Five freshmen participated in Pep Band, and when our Concert Band went to Seattle, four of the people participating in the band were freshmen.

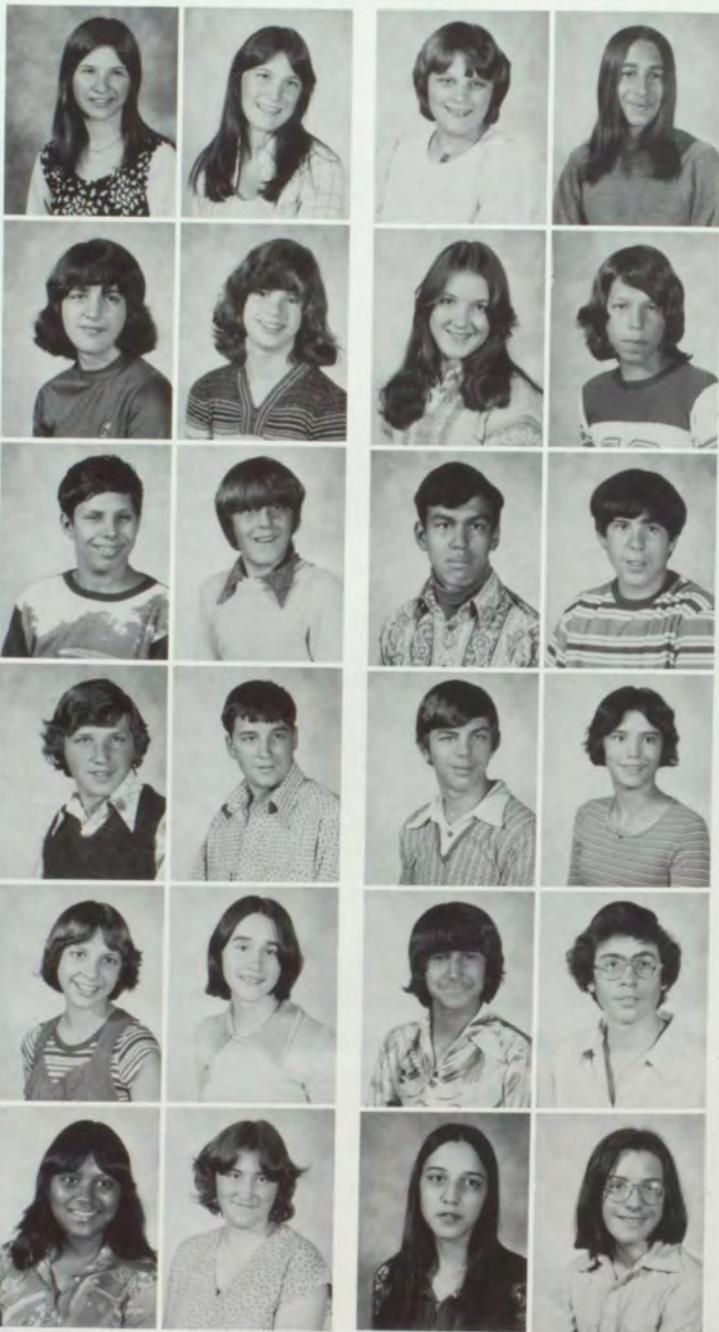

Furthermore, our class had the most people signed up for Pep Club, showing our support in school spirit. And our freshman class didn't win the Stonehawker Award, as many of the seniors said, and hoped, we would.

In addition to our own accomplishments, we appreciated the opportunities at Kayhi. Throughout the year we had enjoyed an open and friendly relationship with our teachers. As we have grown in our academic and extra-curricular activities, we are pleased to remember how we were helped and how we grew.

When we first came to Kayhi we were apprehensive. Now that the year is almost over, I think every one of us is proud to be a freshman. As a class we are looking forward to the next three years Kayhi. We hope that they are filled with the same sense of enthusiasm and involvement of our best year - our freshman year.

Jennifer Gore, Freshman Class Vice-President.

REMEMBRANCES

That's what this yearbook is all about. Years from now you will reflect on old memories ignited by a photograph or the written word.

I would like to make sure that some fiery lessons learned now will not be forgotten later. Remember the EPA 507(e) hearings? They were held in our auditorium in the spring and fall of 1976. The stability of our town was threatened by closure of the pulp mill. Over 1600 residents of our community witnessed the proceedings and nearly 200 testified during the three-day hearing in May. We learned that our economic base would collapse; our student body and faculty would be reduced by almost half.

The pulp mill and EPA have since resolved their differences — both thanked the townspeople for their input. We are again at peace, but I am hoping that you will remember our lesson. Our town needs to diversify its economic base. You have a duty to help build a healthy community and to insure its stability. I, alone, don't have the means, but I know the answer. I suggest that prime industries like mining, tourism, logging, and fishing be supported. Safeguards to insure the continuation of these prime industries should be initiated and supported.

I hope you will remember the lesson. Diversify, support, and safeguard is the answer. You are the means.

Organizations, from Drill Team to French Club, have sparked the interest of nearly everyone in the school. Almost every smaller group had an increase in number this year, while long-standing faithfuls like Pep Club and Williwaw went down in student membership.

What keeps an organization alive? An enthusiasm for cooperative teamwork, an interest in supporting the school, and the drive to improve an organization on the basis of previous years' activities.

Freshmen always pep up school clubs and institutions, for they learn from the classes before them how to keep active in leading school organizations. As classes come and classes go, so do various activities . . . this year Science Club folded, possibly due to a new class, Biology II, which might have interested the students who would have otherwise opened the club for membership once more. Mrs. Bruce made the decision early in the year to terminate Kaytones, but produced a number of ensemble groups instead. This remarkable lady was also responsible for a large part of the outstanding school musical, Lil' Abner.

Several new groups came into existence this year; one of the most popular is Quill and Scroll, the nationally famous literary honor society. Mr. McPherson added to Kayhi's roster of new organizations with Stage Band II, the training band comprised of many talented students. Camera Club and Spanish Club were also revived this year, and there is even talk of a new Thespians Club.

Without all of these organizations and all the others not mentioned, Kayhi would be a dead school . . . can you imagine the school year without dances, without cheerleaders and Drill Team at the games? Let's join these established student organizations and keep them alive for the classes yet to come.

Student Council

When the doors of Kayhi opened for the '76-77 school year, student council was ready. During the past summer a raffle was held and approximately $200 made. As soon as school was in progress, student council amended the constitution to allow write-in votes to be counted. This issue had caused much controversy in the previous year.

In November, Cindy Crane, President of the Student Council, attended the Alaska Association of Student Governments, coming back with ideas for a more responsive and organized student council.

With December came complaints about the smoking area. Meetings with students who use the area and with student council members were held; problems and solutions were discussed. Cindy instituted a more organized use of Parliamentary Procedure in January of the New Year, 1977, along with other means, of producing a better student council.

Student council also obtained for the students a new phone and a student lounge/study hall.

This is just a portion of what student council has done this past school year. It was a lot of work, but it gave us a feeling that we had accomplished several things for the good of the school. Overall, we had a good year.

Torch, the National Honor Society, consists of thirty-three members, eighteen of which were inducted in late January. To qualify, students had to submit an application form, and then potential candidates' names were sent to teachers for recommendation. The final selection depended upon service, scholarship, character, and leadership.

Mrs. Baybarz and Mr. Landis advised the group and offered helpful suggestions during regular meetings.

A Torch-sponsored dance was held in January and at this writing, a pizza party is being planned.

One of the many benefits Torch offers is the national recognition of its members.

King's Knights

Looking ahead into the year, the Kings' Knights could visualize such things as hosting most of the sporting activities including Christmas tournament, Southeastern basketball tournament, and at any time . . . the elusive fire drill. Whether you know it or not, Kings' Knights are the most important people during a fire drill. They are the ones who run around the school and make sure that the doors and windows are shut and the lights turned off. Most importantly, they make sure you are out and then they think of themselves.

At an extra-curricular activity such as a basketball game, Knights stationed at their posts have a more important job than taking money or checking tickets; they are there to help you out.

As most students know, the general aim for Pep Club is to keep the spirit of the student body on a high level. This year the Pep Club has done a good job keeping the spirit alive among themselves and has tried to pass it along to their fellow students.

With the second annual Kayhi Christmas Basketball Tournament and the Southeast Basketball Tournament being held here this year, the big job was to get all the visiting students housed. Though it was a tough job, we somehow managed to pull through with Debi Bransford, Sherri Morris and Terri Cousins helping find places for everyone.

Although the attendance at most sports activities seemed to be at an all-time low, the students must have sensed when high competition was near, as the bleachers were always packed and there was lots of screaming for a Kayhi win.

The enrollment of Pep Club wasn't very high, but there seemed to be a lot of members with bright new ideas, such as the first annual Kayhi (Pep Club) Christmas Parade.

Two of the girls chosen to cheer our varsity boys were freshmen. Nearly all of the old cheers were discarded last year. Mrs. Hunt (entirely new to the job) took over the position of faculty sponsor. Out of this, Kayhi has produced an outstanding cheerleading squad that will definitely improve over the years.

This year, the Cheerleaders have sponsored two dances and sold concessions until they were ready to hit the floor from sheer exhaustion. In addition to this, our gals sold apples at brunch, sold T-shirts all during the year, held two raffles, and did gift wrapping during the Christmas season. They even offered Halloween Insurance, which protected people from mischievous trick-or-treaters (for a price).

The Cheerleaders did all this to buy equipment, and to promote school spirit for all of our school athletic activities.

J.V. Cheerleaders are back to cheer on their boys, and they have made a terrific effort to promote spirit for J.V. athletic events. There are only four this year; there were five the previous year.

This year's cheerleaders have certainly shown all the qualities so evident in cheerleading: eligible grades, gymnastic ability, pep and rhythm; the last two, the girls have in abundance. Pat Hunt is the adviser this year.

The girls have done many things this year; they have held a raffle, sold concessions, and also sold T-shirts. With their typical enthusiasm, they sold suckers on the Fourth of July, and have a mini candy sale set up to provide money for other activities during the year.

Drill Team

The '76-'77 Dance and Drill Team consisted of eighteen girls this year, including many girls returning from previous year.

Last summer Robin Alsup, Cheryl Ecklund, Julane Ecklund, Jennifer Graham, Jody Hoefler, and Lise Knapp attended a Drill Team camp in Oregon and were responsible for teaching routines this year.

Activities during the year included a fund-raising dinner with entertainment by the girls, and the hosting of the Southeast Drill Team Tournament.

Many new routines were also introduced, and perhaps the highlight of the year was one that involved the team shuffling across the gym floor dressed in wild costumes, such as skin diving equipment and pajamas.

Matmaids

We kept busy this year selling a wide assortment of merchandise, including four different kinds of candy, sweaters, Holly Hobbie Christmas candles, and gift soaps. In addition to this, we had a bake sale and a rummage sale.

The Matmaids provide a service to the wrestlers, helping them by keeping score, passing out oranges, and providing a dinner after final matches.

The requirements to be a Matmaid are: perfect attendance at the matches and approval from counselors. Besides these, an obvious requirement would be a willingness to work hard and possessing a natural love for wrestling.

We have travelled to one city this year, and will be accompanying the wrestlers to State Tournament.

Lettermen

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

This year the Lettermen's Club consists of members from both sexes who have lettered in their respective sports. Traditionally, men have held the dominant role in society, and sports is one reflection of society's thinking. The girls have been able to apply their potential through a more active women's athletics association, and we as lettermen must recognize and update our club. Now women are included and have shown their abilities by gaining top ranking among other Southeast teams.

The basketball team is probably one of the strongest teams in Southeast Alaska. Wrestling has a young squad with lots of potential; and girls' volleyball did very well, placing third at State. Girls' basketball is strong this year, and track is continuing to grow at a tremendous rate.

Spanish Club--French Club

En el club espanol nos divertimos, porque jugamos muchos juegos. El 2 de Noviembre hemos tenido una fiesta. A la fiesta algunos alumnos han traído comida y algunos han traído bebida. La fiesta es el día de los muertos.

Desde entonces hemos empezado una pinata. La pinata es un burro.

También hemos comido la Rosca de Reyes el Día de Reyes. El Día de Reyes es el seis de enero.

Translation: In Spanish Club we had a party on November second. It was on the Day of the Dead. We had for dinner tostados, bunelos, guacamole, and chocolate. We have also started a pinata in the shape of a burro. On January sixth, we ate a cake called Rosca de Reyes. January sixth is the Day of the Kings.

French Club had many activities during the past year. To start the year the club had a cream puff-making party. Sometime later there was a fondue party (with guests, Mrs. Sherman of Belgium who now lives in the U.S., and her sister, Catherine).

In the Christmas Parade the French Club had a float with "le pere Noel", (Santa Claus who gives out toys); "le pere Fouettard", (Santa Claus who gives out switches); and "Saint Nicholas", (known as a religious figure who helped the little children). These three are among the legends of Christmas in different parts of France.

During the school year, the French Club worked selling concessions at sporting events to save money for a trip taken during the first week of June. Plans are to go to Seattle and visit the French restaurants and other appropriate places of interest.

We are presently in our third year of continuous service to the school and to French students seeking to learn more about the language.

Camera Club

For the first time in eight years, Kayhi has an active Camera Club. This group of kids are all in the new Photo-journalism class which is taught by Mr. Landis.

Members of the club are required to have a camera with which they take pictures for Kayhitem and the Williwaw Yearbook.

We started our account this year with profits made from a book fair which took place in early January.

Our president, Frank Burton, won a photo-essay contest in November, winning a helicopter trip to Blue Lake, piloted by Larry Kemp.

The main purpose of the club is to learn darkroom techniques and to always be available to take pictures. Many times during school hours we could be seen roaming the halls in search of good cooperative subjects. The results of our efforts are in this book. Next year we will be even better.

The KAYHITEMS took on a new group of students this year, and Mrs. Bullock was the new adviser. Consequently, the style of the newspaper changed. A regular club strip and a weekly newsletter are new additions to the established features. A new editorial format was introduced this year, also.

By rotating, nearly all members of the class become editors once during the year. This provided each student a chance to assume leadership, responsibility and guide the issue through to publication.

The KAYHITEMS staff increased by ten members this year, and so had a lot more reporters on the job.

Notable representation was enjoyed by the KAYHITEMS staff in not only the popularity of their new style, but also the extensive coverage of the Christmas Basketball Tournament. Another honor this year was the induction of several members into Quill and Scroll.

Quill and Scroll

For the past five years, Kayhi has not had an active chapter of Quill and Scroll, the literary honor society. But this year, Mrs. Bullock took the initiative and renewed our charter which we have had since 1930.

Members were chosen based on their value to the school in publications. The students can be from either King Printing, Kayhitem, Williwaw, or the Photojournalism class; but they must be outstanding in any of these areas. One other requirement is that they must be in the top third of their class.

It has always been a Kayhi tradition to nominate seniors for office; Scott Roberts was elected President; Farrell Howard, Vice President; and Marla Llanos, Sec-Treas.

Williwaw

To start our year, the '77 Williwaw staff hosted the first annual Southeast Alaska Yearbook Workshop. Through specialists who taught the workshop, we learned techniques that have helped our staff produce one of the best yearbooks in Williwaw history.

This year the annual staff was not combined with Kayhitem; this achieved unity of purpose within the class. Through a joint effort of coordinating copy, layout, and photography, the staff has tried to express the meaning water has in our lives. This effect was achieved through the use of design and content, and was accomplished by much hard work.

The majority of our staff was new in September, and since then we have learned much about the problems of producing a book. Next year a well-trained staff will be ready to improve our Kayhi Williwaw even more.

In March, when all the work of this yearbook was done, we moved to plans for next year. Deciding on theme and style, selling ads and planning for the second fall workshop were all a part of the work done in the spring.

Concert Band

Ketchikan High School Concert Band has seventy-four members, which is up six from last year. Most are in grades 10-12, although there are a few freshmen as well. The faculty adviser is Roy McPherson.

The Kayhi Concert Band performs an average of six public concerts each year, and they travel to Southeast Music Festival each year that it is not held in Ketchikan. They have received "First Division" (or "Superior") performance ratings in each of these festivals they have entered during the past five years.

This year's concert band was one of the six from the seven Northwestern States selected to perform for the Music Educators' Northwest Convention in April, 1976. They will perform for up to several thousand music teachers, professional musicians, and other bandmen in Seattle Center.

As has been the tradition in Stage Band over the years, upperclassmen dominated nearly all of the chairs in Kayhi's prestigious Stage Band. This year, Stage Band II, a training class for aspiring young musicians, joined McPherson's list. Stage Band II was organized because of so much interest in stage band music and in creative jazz playing, and it consisted of mostly Freshmen and Sophomores this year.

The Senior Stage Band had their share of concerts this year, and, as usual, they featured Jazz rock and "big band" music. They were the only group to receive a "1+" from the judges at Music Festival last year, and have even greater hopes for their stint at Juneau this year.

Pep Band

On Page 106, bottom

Pep Band, which represents Kayhi's musical side at the basketball and wrestling games, performs an invaluable service to the school. These dedicated individuals are all in either Concert or Freshman Band, and the majority of them are in Stage Band, too! That's a lot of work for people who are busy with other extracurricular activities and homework besides; and they practice for long hours after school, too.

To State Honor Band: Mark Zastrow, Ingrid Pihl, Bill Freer, Margie Flanagan, Paul Freer.

And with all the time Mr. McPherson spends with his four other bands, he still finds time for one more service to the school - the Pep Band.

Auditions are held for thirty spots in this band; and these are highly prized. Pep Band played at Tournament this year and got a good part of the limelight! Sometimes we even get to hear them play at pep assemblies.

How often do they practice? Twice a week from early October until the final basket is made.

We can all express our feelings for this group in the cheerleaders' cry: "We love our Pep Band!"

Concert Choir

Through the guidance of Mrs. Bruce, the select concert choir once more began planning for new concerts, coordinated with ballet, Kayhi bands, and the Mixed Choir.

There was no Kaytones this year, but many new ensembles came about. The Girls' Christmas sextet and the Chad Mitchell trio were only a few of these new groups spotlighted. One of the favorite concerts performed for the public was "The Creation," an evening of music shared with the Stage Band. Another new aspect of music was also explored: a choreographed number that Mrs. Virginia Klepser helped with.

The Southeast Honor Choir was in Wrangell this year; and Rick Hauan was selected to go to State. The All Northwest Music Educators' Convention was held in Seattle this year and Chris Dowling and Rod Landis were selected to participate in this honorary event.

Indian Education

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

The Indian Education Program has been a part of the Ketchikan Gateway Borough School system for two years now. The students at the high school have been working with Mrs. Ellie Sullivan doing research, taking and developing their own photographs, and learning how to compile their material into a magazine. Eighty-two high school students have been involved in putting together the first three issues of the magazine, Yah'-k'ii. In 1977 Indian Education students will be involved in a multi-media project using slides to record various aspects of the Thlinget and Haida cultures.

The program makes free tutoring and counseling services available to all students within the school district.

The Indian Education Center is located at 706 Totem Way. Visitors have been welcomed.

Sea Ed Cooking, one of the most popular classes of Kayhi, is steadily growing larger and larger each year. Our instructor, Ms. Fran Bezdicek, teaches three two-hour blocks a day.

In the beginning of the first year, the students start by learning the four basic food groups. By the second month students have learned about aspects dealing with breads and pastries. During the rest of the year, the food lab students become knowledgeable in preparing the annual dinner/lunch meal for School Superintendent, Mr. Stekl, and twenty-one of the State School Board members. At this time kids from all three classes come down and serve the meal.

These classes are basically designed to help the student towards a career in foods or to be more proficient in his or her own kitchen.

F.H.A.-H.E.R.O. means Future Homemakers of America, and Home Economics Related Occupations. Its goal is a simple one: to help youths assume their role in society through home economics education in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement.

The purposes of F.H.A.-H.E.R.O. are to provide opportunities for self-development and preparation for family and community living, and for employment; to strengthen the function of the family as a basic unit of society; and to encourage democracy through cooperative action in the home and community.

This year's president, Tom Bellanich, and his cabinet members have had an eventful year. They served two Thanksgiving dinners for the senior citizens. A Christmas window display was prepared by the members in conjunction with the Ketchikan Garden Club - depicting the theme, "Down Memory Lane."

The group will be going to the State Convention in Juneau in April, and to the National Convention in Seattle in July.

Sports! It's clear that it is the favorite activity in the school. Whether you're watching wrestling, swimming, track, cross country, volleyball or basketball, nothing can compare with the excitement of young men and women in competition. It has been a good season for sports at Kayhi this year, as we have boasted successful teams in almost every division.

Mr. Ortiz, in his second year as head coach of the girls' volleyball and basketball teams, has produced winning teams in both sports. His volleyball team has once again claimed the Southeast Championship, as it did last year. With the graduation of his senior girls, Mr. Ortiz will have to do some rebuilding next year, but the underclassmen are exhibiting fine skill now.

Mr. Vincent's basketball team was state runner-up last year, and are favorites to repeat as Southeast champs this year.

In just their second year of high school competition, the swim team, coached by Mike Smithers, won the conference championship and lost by a close margin to Juneau in Southeast. In the state swimming championships the team also did well with the girls taking fourth and the boys fifth. The team also proudly claims several Southeast and a few State records.

Again, because of the graduation of seniors last year, Kayhi's wrestling team is inexperienced, but Mr. Dillenburg's boys are making it up with a lot of hard work and determination.

After a prolonged absence, track is back for its second year at Kayhi. Because a great number of students is expected to participate this year, it should be more successful.

The sports program at Kayhi is rated as one of the best; winning at Kayhi has always been a tradition.

Girls' Volleyball

The girls' athletic program got off to a good start this year with the volleyball team repeating as Southeast Champions and winning the consolation title in the state playoffs at Anchorage. Overall, the girls won twenty-three matches while dropping just two. Coach Ortiz was extremely proud of the team's performance at State with the team winning three of seven matches . . . this was the best effort of any Southeastern team against Northern competition.

This year's team was outstanding in the defensive department with sparkling plays coming from Mardel Williams and Mel Mears. Good all-around play from Tami Ott and Diane Tobin attributed much to the team record. Spikes by Debbie Hamilton and Sue Williams provided much of the offensive punch for the team. Sue and Debbie were also selected for the Southeastern All-Tournament Team.

Others contributing to the team's strength were strong reserve players: Debi Bransford, Friedricke Schmidt-Ott, Shannon McMahon, Jewel Burton, Kim Wilson, Darlene Jensen and Kelli Murphy.

Competitive Spirit Marks Girls' Basketball Season

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

At this writing, the girls' basketball team has won eleven straight games in conference play and seems to be playing very good basketball. Their conference record is eleven on three with six conference games remaining on their schedule. Coach Ortiz feels the strongest challenge in the Southeast playoffs will be from Juneau and Sitka. Both of these teams have tall girls as well as experience.

This year's team seems to be stronger in all phases of the game. We probably have the best outside shooting team in the league, with Mardel Williams and Mel Mears doing some great shooting. Our leading scorer, Debbie Hamilton, along with transfer player, Shawn Rice, are doing a good job on rebounds. Tami Ott, Diane Tobin, Carol Oliver and DeAnn Bergh give us a good bench strength. Tami is a good ball handler and helps our team when pressed. Rounding out the team are reserve players: Jewel Burton, Loreli Chambers, Evon Zerbetz and our manager, Bridget Schroeder.

The Kayhi Swim Team showed remarkable improvement from last season in several ways: first, our numbers have increased from eleven members last year to twenty-five members this year; second, we achieved more victories than losses. Season record: 3-1.

Throughout the season the team achieved numerous Southeast records and broke all of the high school records, and to top it off - a few state records fell to Kaari Valentine in the five hundred Free and two hundred Free style. Another was the boys two hundred medley relay consisting of Bob Kennedy, Ted Noble, Kurt Carlson, and Eric Carlson.

Another thing the team is proud of is their grade point average - 3.24. Examples of the hard work of the team: every mile a swimmer swims is equal to four miles for a runner; average workout is about 5.5 miles; or in terms of a runner, it equals 22 miles of running.

These athletes are some of the most dedicated people to their sport.

This year's team possessed a lot of potential, but unfortunately was inexperienced as they had no returning runners. The team was also plagued with many injuries in the last month of practice.

During this month the team picked up half of its starting runners, who had to work extra hard to reach the prime condition required to place in the Southeast Cross Country Tournament.

Running sixteen to twenty miles a day seven days a week became a ritual for the team members. Somehow the team was going to defeat these unsurmountable odds and do well in the tournament. Finally, when Southeast rolled around, the team took a disappointing fourth place.

The hard work and devotion of this squad will undoubtedly pave the road to victory for our upcoming cross country team. The sacrifice is what makes the individual stronger. It is the ability to try to succeed that makes us better athletes, and this year Kayhi Cross Country Team displayed this ability.

The 1977 King's Basketball Team is, at this January writing, in a keyed-up attitude as tournament time approaches. We believe that we are an obvious threat to repeat as Southeast Alaska Champions.

Thus far, Juneau is the only team to defeat Ketchikan, and those games could have as easily been wins: four of them were won by two points, with one game going into overtime and another into triple overtime. Four of the losses came on "last second" shots. A break in Kayhi's favor in any of those contests could have changed the outcome.

Rebounding and shooting have been our strong points this year. The Kings have out-rebounded every team they have played this year, and have shot at a forty to forty-five percent average from the field.

But lack of speed and poise have hampered the team in the early part of this season. As tournament time nears, however, the team is gaining the experience and poise it needs to be strong contenders.

Kayhi hopes to be a team representing Southeast in the State Tourney. If so, we should be competitive with anyone in the state.

Junior Varsity

This year's J.V. team had a successful season even though we lost six games: four of these came at the hands of the Juneau Bears. Juneau proved to be too much for us as several of their best players were on the Varsity team.

The majority of the team came from the Sophomore class which produced eight players, followed by two Juniors and two Freshmen.

Height has been a big factor in the J.V.'s season record as many teams out-rebounded us; this took its toll as the scoreboard has shown several times this year.

J.V. basketball is a building stage for young ballplayers with development of fundamentals as a primary goal.

Being on the J.V. team is not a permanent position as Varsity ball is: the players are working towards becoming varsity players, which a few of our players have done this year. We also have a couple players who have come up from the Freshman squad.

The J.V. goal is not to win every game, but to help the individual better himself as an athlete and as a person.

Frosh-Soph Basketball

The Kayhi Freshmen-Sophomore Basketball Team is coached by Mr. Wilburn, who is also a counselor at the high school. Coach Wilburn has had success in his five years of coaching the Fresh-Soph Team. His teams have averaged nearly twenty wins and only about two or three losses a year. This year's team started out with twenty-eight boys, but by mid-January many players had either quit or been moved up to the J.V. squad. The team was left with thirteen members.

The Freshmen team does not have a set schedule as do the J.V. and Varsity. As Mr. Wilburn has stated many times, "We will play anybody, anywhere, at anytime." The team usually plays the varsity of small Southeastern towns such as Craig and Hydaburg and also takes on the Metlakatla J.V.'s. For the past few seasons the team has also taken at least one trip to Prince Rupert to play their Freshmen team. When a visiting team comes to play the team, the players do most of the housing.

Kayhi Hosts Region 5 Tourney

The region five basketball tournament was hosted by Ketchikan this year, and the Juneau Douglas Crimson Bears were victorious in a final game in which over three thousand spectators saw the local Kings edged out in an exciting finale.

But basketball was not the only attraction. As usual there were all the interesting and fun extra attractions with wide variety of new faces in town. They came to play in their pep bands, perform in drill team competition or lead their fans in cheers.

And the Kayhi Gymnasium was filled each night with those coming to watch the mounting anticipation and excitement as the winning teams moved towards Saturday night's finals.

Although Juneau made a good showing, the Sitka fans had plenty to cheer about as their drill team came in first and Dave Licari won the free throw competition.

In flashing satin, silver boots and sparkling faces, the mechanically dancing Kayhi Drill Team enchanted the audience but not the judges, who were looking for military styles, during the tournament competition.

Sitka, with their traditional style, took first place; Skagway second and Juneau, third.

Ketchikan's ultra-modern dance routine was perhaps a year ahead of the judges.

Competition between cheerleaders saw Petersburg gain first. But the Kayhi cheerleaders were great. Overcoming the characteristic disruption of the Juneau pep band, they kept the crowd wild for the championship game.
