DEDICATION

TO THE Ketchikan branch of the National Torch Honor Society for its support of the ideals of higher scholarship and for its encouragement of higher learning, we dedicate the KAYHI 1953.

It is the dream of every student to bear a brighter flame in his torch of learning and we feel that the honor society has done its utmost to further that end by setting a goal which can only be seen by those who bear the brightest flames.

Message from the Superintendent

J. E. Danielson, Superintendent of Schools
SECRETARY TO SUPERINTENDENT

A GREAT wealth of information and experience has been acquired through the ages and has been handed down to us for our use. As the torch of knowledge has been passed from generation to generation it has acquired greater and greater brilliance until today those who live in ignorance do so, in most instances, by choice.

As Americans knowledge is attainable by us everywhere—in the classroom and library, from newspapers and magazines, through visual education, from correspondence courses, radio, television, lectures and roundtables. Let us not be unmindful or indifferent to the abundance of educational opportunities about us.

Let us remember that knowledge will enable us to deal more effectively with life's problems and that it represents a means of adding a richness and a fullness to our living.

Message from the Principal

FOR CENTURIES, the world has recognized the torch as a symbol of learning and advancement. It is fitting that the group in Kayhi, which sustains a high degree of scholarship and academic achievement should form an organization called the Torch Society.

The honor of achieving membership in Torch is significant. It not only means scholastic achievement but that the student has formed a definite pattern to aid him in the accomplishment of life's goals. He has learned to work and he has learned to utilize his time. He can take direction and, above all, he has learned that each day's work is a particular and specific job to be well done.

Elsie M. Stouffer.

Miss Elsie Stouffer, principal, and Mrs. Nancy Fortlage, secretary, are kept busy with this work until classes are in progress.

To Higher Endeavor

THE LIBRARY shelves have a goodly collection of college catalogs which seniors find valuable when they begin to decide on which school of higher education they wish to attend.

Many of them have worked during summers and after school during winter months to save money for at least their first year at college.

Advisers and the librarian are always ready to help them.

Ray M. Bassett, senior adviser, helps Jim Tavis and Dick Maddox study college catalogs.

FOR EIGHT years before bursting through the gate into the Olympic Stadium, the Torch Bearers struggled across the mountains and plains of their grade schools. In 1949, their long cross-country struggle behind them, the Bearers leaped through the entrance and began the lap around the arena that would end with their placing of the Torch high on the Olympic Pedestal.

Leading the runners was Pat Crowley, president. Close behind him were Phil Tucker, vice-president; Delphine Danielson, secretary; Marvin Bue, treasurer, and David White, sergeant at arms.

Near the beginning of their journey a group of enemies, the sophomores, descended upon the runners and tried to slow them down by dressing them in weird costumes. Being tired from evading the sophomores, they decided to take a rest, thus they had the Freshman Frolic, "Shine on Harvest Moon."

After the journey reconvened Patricia Root represented our class in the contest for Queen of the Kayhi annual. Being out of condition from the rest, we placed second in the contest.

As we came to the end of the first quarter of our journey, Delphine Danielson received the Bert Myking Award.

At the beginning of the second curve in our journey Pete Schust was elected president; Dick Maddox, vice-president; Pat Crowley, secretary-treasurer, and Harold McCann, sergeant at arms. As we progressed on our way we encountered a new group of freshmen. Still tending our wounds from our trouble on the first curve, we took it out on them. They received an initiation that was an initiation.

Five of our best runners, Dick Hamlin, Lyle Simpson, Dick Maddox, Phil Tucker and Marvin Bue, were selected for the basketball team. We were all proud of them and celebrated the occasion with a dance. The only difference was that the girls were requested to pay. This type of dance is now a tradition at this point in the journey.

Having reached the end of the second curve we were all looking forward to the end of our long journey.

Harold McCann outran Pete Schust as we came into this third curve, so he moved into the office of president and Pete descended to vice-president. Phil Tucker was elected to keep the events of this stretch in our journey on record; and Marvin Bue, to keep track of the money earned and spent. Wally Winston was elected sergeant at arms.

We had to start thinking of ways to make money right away, as our funds were low. Some of us sold pencils to spectators along the way; and during the basketball games, we sold ice cream bars and hot dogs. One of our leaders, Bob Droogs, was chosen for the Leslie Bugden award. We were all proud of him, but did not have time to stop along the way and celebrate for we had little time left to complete the lap and reach the foot of the Pedestal.

During this part of our journey Dick Hamlin was chosen basketball captain for the year and Harold McCann, football captain. We received our class rings, and our banner of green and gray.

Just as the end of our third curve was coming in sight, we had our Junior Prom. This time the boys had enough money and we could make them pay.

Pat Crowley took the lead again as president, and led us around the final curve and into the home stretch. Lyle Simpson was second in line. Gerda Nergaard was elected to keep the minutes and Delphine Danielson our money. Wally Winston was again elected to keep us in line and orderly. The first thing we did was hang our banner where everyone could see it. Then the wittier ones and those with some talent tried out for our senior play. Due to circumstances beyond his control, Bob Droogs was forced to resign from the SBA presidency and Dick Hamlin, another prominent member of our class, took his place. We chose Gerda Nergaard to represent us in the Queen of the Annual contest. She was elected and later crowned at a student body assembly. At the same assembly she and Pete Schust were honored as the Best Mixers of Kayhi for this year.

Pete Schust was elected "The Most Inspirational Football Player" and Dick Maddox was elected "The Most Inspirational Basketball Player" showing that our class carries many great athletes.

As all this glory passed by, the end of our journey came into view. Senior White Day, the Senior Banquet, and the Senior Dance all passed by fast. Our journey was at its end for Commencement was passed and our Torch was placed high on the Olympic Pedestal.

"Fred Kirkland's Rhythmairs" set the pace for the dancers while in the kitchen refreshments were being prepared by a group of eighth graders.

The evening reached its climax when Jean Mayo was named queen of the Prom. The beautiful crown which was worn was made by the combined efforts of the class and was presented to the school for the crowning of all future Prom Queens.

Junior Class Initiative

BEGINNING their junior year in high school, the class of '54 elected the following officers: Charles Traylor, president; Bob Adams, vice-president; Sharon Morgan, secretary; Charleen Gallagher, treasurer; Ann Hildebrandt, sergeant at arms; Don McCann and Clark Stump, SBA representatives.

Since there were only two inter-school basketball games, the class had a bake sale to earn money for their expenses.

Margaret Schust came in second representing the class in the Queen of KAYHI '53 contest. Jeanette Allain designed the banner for the class of '54.

On February 18, class pins and rings arrived and several were set in stones which was a pleasant change from the plain ones.

With the junior class as host, the Junior Prom ended the 1953 school social season.

Nourishes the Flame

"PINK NIGHTMARE" was the theme of this year's Junior Prom. The gym was transformed through the hard efforts of juniors who came down after school, in the evening, and even in their study halls to decorate.

Three walls were covered with midnight-blue painted paper, with a pink elephant parade on one wall and various assorted decorations on the others.

Amid an atmosphere of dim lights, soft music and gaiety, the Queen of the Prom was crowned and was enthroned in the royal chair.

As It Grows in Brightness

THIS YEAR'S campaign for SBA president between Jackie Smith and Arnt Antonsen was the liveliest Kayhi has ever seen. Each "party" put up signs galore in favor of its candidate, in the hope of outdoing the other.

One of Jackie's complete with real diaper, said "Time for a change. Vote Smith." Signs on the clocks in every room announced that it was time to vote for Arnt.

Signs were displayed on almost half of the lockers, announcing that either Arnt or Jackie was the best candidate, and sure to win.

James Vanderweele won first place for Alaska in the VFW Auxiliary essay contest.

TO PROMOTE the welfare of the school and to arouse a spirit of loyalty and co-operation among the students," is the purpose of the Student Body Association. Any person regularly enrolled in high school may join by paying the membership fee which is set by the Student Council.

The Student Council acts as a co-ordinating group between administration and student body. The Council consists of the SBA officers, class presidents, class representatives, yell king and the fire chief.

Committees are appointed to handle the various assemblies and other activities. The Student Council approves the budget, provides assemblies for the visiting teams and rooters. The vice-president handles the housing of all visiting teams and rooters.

Fire Squad

THE PRINCIPAL duty of the fire squad is to help prevent the loss of life in case of fire. The fire squad is responsible for clearing the building of all students, closing windows and doors, turning off lights, and maintaining order during drill or in case of a real emergency. The fire squad must check the fire fighting apparatus at the beginning of each year.

At the beginning of the school year the Student Body president appoints a fire chief, his assistant and firemen.

Torch Honor Society

SCHOLARSHIP, citizenship, good fellowship and service are the objectives of these Torch members.

The Torch Honor Society was introduced in Ketchikan in 1935.

Eligibility for membership is based upon points earned in grades and participation in school activities. Each year senior members receive pins as emblems of their achievement.

Of Superior Scholarship,

Quill and Scroll

QUILL AND SCROLL, national honor society for high school journalists, is open to juniors and seniors in the upper third of their class scholastically who have worked on high school publications.

Applicants must submit a story they have had printed with a recommendation from the adviser for the approval of the national secretary. The organization sponsored by the journalism department of the University of Chicago encourages youthful writers to enter national writing contests by offering scholarships that enable the student to go on to college. These contests include editorial writing, feature writing, humor columns, advertising layouts. Besides this they criticize newspapers and yearbooks and offer valuable suggestions for improvement.

Because the Journalism Department cut the number of publications this year, applications were not filed until the close of the term, so no formal organization was possible. However, acceptance of memberships reached here in time for them to wear their pins to the Music Festival in Juneau.

LATIN CLUB BANQUET

Upper: Latin club banquet. Lower: Scenes from program at Latin Club banquet.

Latin Club

PURPOSE of this club, organized in 1944, is to maintain an active interest in Latin at Kayhi.

Student planned meetings are held twice a month. Highlight of the year was the annual banquet in St. John's Episcopal church basement March 14, with the theme "World Peace." All members took part in a play "The Gods Condescend."

The annual picnic was held at the Dahlager beach May 6.

James Asaph won the prize for greatest number of club activity points.

Spanish Club

SPANISH CLUB was reorganized this year to promote interest in the study of the language and customs of Spanish-speaking people. Any person who is taking Spanish or who has taken Spanish is eligible to belong.

Past and present students of this language, feeling themselves committed to the established school activities, felt that time did not permit their giving their wholehearted support to this activity; so meetings were irregular.

With the greater number of students showing interest in the language for the school year 1953-1954, members hope for a greater variety in programs next year, with outside activities as well as those which are carried on within the school.

Declamation Finalists

Declamation

SHIRLEY Wildegans was awarded first place in the declamation contest April 28 when the contestants gave their readings before the high school assembly.

Although many persons turned out for this activity when the declamation picture on this page was taken, only three were prepared for the finals. The winner, Carol Billingsley and Ethel Andis entered the humorous reading group.

There were no entries in the other groups.

A crowded schedule climaxed by the music trip to Juneau for the Southeastern Alaska Music Festival is responsible for the decline in interest.

The Rev. John Grissett, Mrs. Robert A. Bushre and Mrs. Nancy Fortlodge were judges and Burt Kimura, adviser.

Sylvia Freimuth introduced the contestants and Maureen Kinerk read "The Highwayman" while the judges were reaching their decision.

of Personal and Group Opinion,

Debate

RESOLVED: The Atlantic Pact Nations should form a Federal Union," was the 1953 debate topic. Under the direction of adviser Bert Kimura, the Ketchikan team placed third in the tri-city debate this year, with Petersburg and Juneau at Petersburg. Even though suffering a loss from last year's graduation, and a late start this year, the Kayhi team showed up well in its arguments.

This year's winner, Juneau, will keep the trophy for the ensuing year. Other winners have been Juneau, 1951, and Ketchikan, 1952.

Those on the teams this year and making the trip to Petersburg were Charleen Gallagher, Bruce Harrod, Marlene Tibbles and Ray Ostling for the negative, and Jim Asaph, David Baker, Shirley Knox and Nancy Marvin for the affirmative.

Dixie Anne Holman and Roger Williams were librarian and chairman respectively. Miss Elsie Stouffer, principal, and Burt Kimura went along as chaperon and coach.

Press Club

PRESS CLUB has functioned as a publicity organization more efficiently this year than at any time since its re-organization in 1944. With no journalism class, interested students kept the work on the paper and annual going. Meeting on Tuesdays and Thursdays for 30-minute periods, they gathered the material for KAYHITEMS and did the work on the KAYHI '53.

Through School Publications

Editor

Kayhitems

KAYHITEMS, the school paper, is a true reflection of life at Kayhi. It has recorded school activities, forwarded educational information, and entertained the students through its feature pages, editorials, and humor columns since its birthday in 1923.

This year, the light of KAYHITEMS was nearly extinguished, for without a sufficient number enrolled in journalism class, the task of putting out a paper seemed impossible. The club members themselves, however, kept the press rolling.

Editors this year were Robert Droogs and Dick Hamlin. Robert Droogs had to drop membership in the club and Dick carried on as editor.

Press Club consists of any sophomore, junior or senior interested in Journalism. Freshman membership is appointed.

HIGHLIGHTS of the year for members of the Kayhi Band was the four-day trip, via Ellis Air, to the Southeastern Alaskan Music Festival in Juneau, beginning April 23.

They received both encouragement and criticism from Walter Welke, adjudicator and director of the 250-piece Festival Band.

The Kayhi Band joined with choral groups for an early fall concert and for the Christmas Vespers program. On March 26, with the All-City Grade School Band as guest performers, the Kayhi Band presented their Spring Concert in the new White Cliff auditorium.

With more than 350 people attending, standing room was at a premium.

Two new French horns were provided by the school board and some music was added to the library.

Also he said that the personnel showed much pride in their organization.

He said that the group showed good training and background. Elwood Rickman, director, said that the latter comment was especially complimentary to Louis Vacca who was director the four previous years and who helped with the organization of the Southeastern Alaska Music Festival.

The next festival will be in the new high school building here in 1955.

ELEVEN-MAN SQUAD

FOOTBALL, reinstituted here in 1949, has made a valiant effort against the elements of weather and started this season with efforts to schedule games with other schools.

Only outside game this year was with Anchorage there September 27. With a heavier defense Anchorage was able to win an easy victory, 37 to 0. The opposing team outweighed local gridders 30 pounds per man.

While most of the intra-squad playing was with six-man teams, the eleven-man squad tangled with a service man's team of Coast Guardsmen and ACS players October 24. The Service men won, 25 to 12.

Football SIX-MAN TEAMS

WITH TRANSPORTATION costs prohibitive and a scarcity of football squads in southern Alaska high schools, Coach John Gill divided his football players into four six-man teams for intramural playing.

Pat Crowley and Dick Maddox were co-captains for the KKK's; Harold (Red) McCann, captain of the Southern Gentlemen; Wally Winston, the Yanks, and Pete Schust, the Pete's Persuaders.

In the play-offs the KKK's came out ahead with three wins and no defeats; Southern Gentlemen were second with three wins and one loss, then the Yanks with one win and three losses, and trailing the league was Pete's Persuaders with no wins and three losses.

Winning was figured on the following percentages: KKK's 1.000, Southern Gentlemen .750, Yanks .250, Pete's Persuaders .000.

THE POLIO epidemic which raged in Ketchikan this year prevented Kayhi from playing in the Southeastern Alaska Tournament. The Southern Division series between Wrangell and Petersburg was won by Wrangell, who in turn was defeated by Douglas for the Southeastern title.

Douglas was defeated by Fairbanks for the All-Alaska title. After the epidemic here had abated the Polar Bears challenged Fairbanks to an extra-conference game, but they declined because of a crowded schedule there.

With five senior players who had been on the varsity squad since their sophomore year, the local fans were disappointed that Southern Division opponents felt obliged to cancel their games with us.

However, Kayhi engaged in the series with Prince Rupert, B. C., and divided honors, 41 to 35 and 32 to 33 there, and 48 to 45 and 42 to 44 here. Since the agreement was that in case of a split in wins, the team in possession of the trophy would keep it, the trophy remains in Ketchikan.

Pep Squad

WITH a jump, twirl, and a note of music the 1952-53 Pep Squad made their entrance at the Prince Rupert-Kayhi basketball game.

Duties of the Pep Squad consist of preparing and teaching new yells and songs, directing school enthusiasm at all inter-school sports and planning pep assemblies. They help make the visiting teams welcome in any way they can and set an example of good sportsmanship for the Kayhi cheering section.

Students try out before an assembly in the fall and are elected by the Student Body Association members.

Ushers

AT THE first of each school year the SBA appoints ushers for the job of keeping order and directing spectators to their seats at the basketball games. Due to the limited schedule in which Kayhi only played two games with Prince Rupert here, only three ushers were appointed.

Drill Team

THE DRILL Team organized this fall with Eleanor Settje as the captain. The girls selected white skirts and blouses with Kayhi sweaters as their uniforms. Eleanor resigned and Shirley Milonich was elected captain.

GAA officers elected Alice and Louise McLeod as majorettes after try-outs in the gym. After Louise dropped from school, Jane Garrison and Janis Dill were elected. They wore white skirts and sleeveless white blouses with a wide maroon belt.

The Drill Team performed for the Prince Rupert games, using flashlights turned on the ceiling for effect.

Because the basketball teams were not able to see the Drill Team perform during the half-time of the games, the girls gave a special performance during the noon hour for them this year.

ALASKA

Published in Alaska, by Alaskans, for everyone, "THE ALASKA SPORTSMAN" is like a breath of fresh, clean air from "The Last Frontier." To you, in reading pleasure, it's better than a nugget of pure gold from "them thar hills and stream beds."

Have you a dash of sporting blood in your veins? Want the biggest game on the continent, fish for tackle-busters, trap luxurious furs? Want to mine, homestead, build industry where enormous resources are almost untouched? Need a vacation? Like magnificent scenery, the romance of life on sea and wilderness land? You can have it all, do it all, in Alaska, "The Great Land," and you can have it by proxy through THE ALASKA SPORTSMAN.
