of the new millennium

K H S

We pledge allegiance to dear old Kayhi,
So give us power to keep her true colors high.

Push on to greater glory
So that her honor may never die.

Then sing a song to Kayhi,
We bring honor unto her name.

High her colors waving,
Every banner will tell her fame.

Maroon and White are fighting
To bring home the Victory.

We pledge our hearts to Kayhi
And forever our loyalty.

WILLIWAU 2000

PRESENT THIS BOOK TO OUR FELLOW STUDENTS
WITH THE HOPE THAT IT WILL BRING BACK HAPPY MEMORIES
WHENEVER THEY OPEN ITS COVERS.

THIS BOOK CONTAINS A RECORD OF ACTIVITIES
AND THE FACES THAT FREQUENTED THE HALLWAYS

REGARD THIS BOOK AS A SOUVENIR OF YOUR LIFE IN KAYHI DURING 1999 ~ 2000.

J. Nall

Group huddle! Seniors Mike Toole, Villanueva, Aftan Lynch, Jenny Rezendin, Riannon Maynard, and Savannah Bass all sit together at home.

SUMMER FUN

Cuddle Cuddle! Sophomore Tara Potter, junior Meghan Paulson, sophomore Lisa Holling, and junior Ahna Gillet at the Western States Youth Gathering in Seattle, Washington. Meghan says, "It was really interesting to meet new people and learn more about our Christian faith!"

K. HUSTEAD

Youth to Youth Drug-Free Conference. Seniors Heidi Weimer, a friend from Nome, Tennille Walker, and Lindsay Hofstedt enjoy the hot July sun in California at the drug-free conference.

1999 yearbook camp girls! Junior Lizzy Peters, senior Tracy Day, junior Chelsey Richardson, yearbook adviser Mrs. Troina, and senior Melissa Leary in front of the Mission Valley Mall in San Diego, California. They attended a 4 day camp at the University of San Diego. They spent many long days planning this year's yearbook. In their free time they went to the San Diego Zoo, went shopping at the mall, and went and saw Deep Blue Sea, and Lake Placid. They had a lot of fun staying at the Holiday Inn where on the first day they got free dinner because they had to wait three hours for their rooms to be readied. They also went to the beach and watched the surfers and, altogether, had a really great time and learned a lot. They suggest that more students join yearbook so they can experience the fun of next year's camp.

Summer Girls! Juniors Carlie and Jennifer Parker on their way to the beach while visiting friends in San Diego.

Summer Quotes

"I spent my whole summer in Kotzebue visiting my mom. I also went to Mexico."

-Senior Aftan Lynch

"I went to Beaumont, Texas to play in the Fast Pitch National Tournament on the Allstate Team."

-Junior Aleisha Filyaw

"Next summer I'm going to Macedonia and it will be lots of fun."

-Junior Lindy Zhuta

Travis Schenck quotes, "It was a fun time except the fact that the weather didn't go well with the theme. I had the most fun when we were in the tunnel jumping around. I thought we would break through the other side with a big bang, but we died down."

Fe Villanueva and Brooke Gibb giving a shout out to the real class of 2000!

Can the smile get any bigger?! Tracy Day tries to make up for the lost sunshine with a bright shining smile.

F. Villanueva

Homies Joel Cuplin and Steve Beedle sporting the vanilla cream soda.
6 Senior Float

F. Villanueva

Aren't they so cute! Tim Volpi, Andrew Girt, Melissa Leary, Jon Erickson, Becca Neilson, Angela Pfeiffer, Tennille Walker, and Lindsay Hofstedt smile for the camera that is coming from the street, capturing a moment before the parade starts to move through the crowded town of Ketchikan.

J. Nall

The millennium class of 2000 had all the new things: the backwards parade, safety guards chaperoning the float, and even the restrictions of not being able to continue on with the tradition of the waterfights and initiating incoming freshman. We still had our own fun: being with our friends, and enjoying the nice sparkling apple cider that we sprayed all over ourselves.

Aaron Thweatt is a little dazed and confused on the Senior Float.

Andrew Girt had one too many leis; maybe that's why the smile is so big!

Tracy Brown quotes, "Last year's seniors could get us, but we couldn't do anything to stop it. We couldn't even get the upcoming freshmen."

Despite the coffee made the cold, supposed summer day any warmer. Ethan Berto, Tom Byron, Jodi Williams, Mike Ratwolf, Becca Neilson, Katie Hustead, Shannon Kloxin and Margaret Roth all huddle up to keep warm.

Rolling through the streets of K-Town, the class of 2000 shows off all they've got (which is a lot) to the judges of the parade. Walking beside the float is one of the chaperones the senior float was required to have.

Seniors Amanda Hicks, Melinda Schoening, Katie Hustead, April Arland, and Kristen Carlile all showoff in their Hawaiian leis and the double 00 on their faces, telling the upcoming freshman they'd better watch out and be nice.

LOCKED UP FACES

S K I N N Y P L A C E S

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

The Evolution of a Locker: While a locker doesn't take over 4 million years to decorate—it does have definite stages. From empty, to barely decorated, to nicely decorated, and finally it ends up an advanced specimen of creativity.

Senior Renee Woodruff shares her traumatic freshman locker experience. "I had to have the lower locker. The person above me always dropped stuff on my head. I narrowly escaped death by a biology book once."

This yellow soldier guards the books, clothes and magazine cutouts of this cluttered sophomore locker.

"I keep lots of stuff in my locker. I have books, shoes, everything. It's like a small room." Quips sophomore Crystal Crane when asked what her locker holds.

Freshman Lauren Johnson points disgustedly toward her half-sized locker questioning the powers-that-be: "Do you REALLY expect me to fit all my stuff in this little space?!" Cheer up Lauren, it's only for a year!

"Never leave a banana in your locker for more than four days." Senior Bob Allen imparts some upperclassman advice. Did he learn this the hard way?

"My half-sized locker attracted chicks, they would come up and say, 'Hey, nice locker,' to which I would reply, 'I know,'" brags sophomore Seth Marrs.

Junior Michelle Steward leans on her locker for support after an especially grueling session of vocabulary. Fellow junior Chelsea Pfeifer relaxes against her locker while smiling smugly over the ease of her assignments. Their friend, junior Janae Thomas, hurries to fill her bulging backpack and head home.

All-star athletes all in a row. . . Superstar swimmer Jakob Knudsen, cross-country champ Steve Beedle, fly football player Gabe Duckworth, and volleyball victor Aleesha Shull proudly display their locker posters on their senior lockers.

See if you can match up these beautiful faces with these beautiful lockers. Keep their personalities in mind while you match 1, 2, 3 to A, B, C! Sometimes just by looking at their environment you can tell what a person is like. Messy rooms and messy people, artistic lockers artistic people. Your personality is all you need to make something your own.

Answers to above:
1. C- Karen Somrak,
2. A- Caitlin O'Brien,
3. B- Valarie Ahnyong.

Senior Molly Berntson sarcastically rolls her eyes as she waits for her picture to be taken.

B. Hassell

OUTSIDE SPORTS

Junior Richard Harney takes a wide kick towards the goal and hopes one of his teammates will be there to boot it in if it were to fall short.

Senior Aaron Thweatt is looking pumped after spending one of the few nice days we have in Ketchikan skating it up. He used his day off wisely and kept himself entertained by trying to run over the silly tourists who think they can walk anywhere in the town. We all know what that's like.

Pets and Critters

Liz and Lil! Junior Lizzy Peters holds her dog Lily. Lily is a full breed Chinese Pug. She is seven years old. Lily is extremely noisy and snores at night. She loves canteloupe.

Chels and Jake. Junior Chelsey Richardson sits with her dog Jake. He is a full breed Shitzu. Jake is five years old and is very spoiled by Chelsey's mom.

Help! There's a bird on my head! Senior Riannon Maynard screams as Donald Munhoven's bird Yogi lands on her head. Luckily it didn't poop on her head like it does everybody else's. Watch out, Riannon; it likes to pick things out of noses and teeth!

MEOW! Senior Ethan Berto holding his cat. This cat looks very excited to be in Ethan's arms. See a resemblance? How CUTE!

MORE Than You'd Expect

Big Kitty. Ms. Dorsey cuddles with her cute kitty, Stella. "May all your days be just like you, filled with warmth and love." -Stella's Motto

What's with the Cat Channel? Freshman Jeremy Dinsmore's dog, Sophie, figures out how to use the remote control. Sophie was a Rhodesian Ridgeback who passed away on September 3, 1999.

Sophomore Jimmy Thomas sits here with his blue healer named Jamesi. Jamesi is 8 years old. Jimmy's mom took this picture.

Quotes

"I have a cat named Furball. She is named that because when she was small she looked like a ball of fur."
-Sophomore Ian Roskam

"I have sea monkeys. They aren't very cool; they just swim around."
-Sophomore Martel Carpenter

"If I was to get a dream pet, it would be a smart monkey. Chicks dig monkeys!"
-Junior Greg Slagle

"The only real pet or animal I have is my little brother. He fills every category of all pets owned."
-Junior Trevor Wills

"I have a full-breed boxer named Maggie who is overweight, and wakes me up by blowing snot in my face."
-Senior Caleb McCamy

Junior Trisha Mitchell shows off her green poisonous frog named Prince. Hopefully when she kisses him he'll turn into a prince. Just one question, why the heck would you want a poisonous frog?!

"I have a pygmy albino hedgehog, her name is snowball." - Junior Richard Harney

Frisbee fight! Ms. Dahle plays with Lucy. Lucy is a two year old half Brittany Spaniel, half Blue Heeler.

Nissa Cleman (above) gives a few helpful tips to 2nd grader Miles Munhoven before he throws down a few dollars for tickets at the plinko board.

Senior Carnival: The Party of the Millennium

Para Bolling (below) looks like she got a little carried away with the red lipstick. And where did she get that carrot top?!

Come party with these millennium girls! 90's rave girl Jodi Williams, 80's punk rocker Sami Bass, 70's hippy chick Jenny Rosendin, 60's gogo girl Riannon Maynard, 50's cutie Aftan Lynch, and 20's flapper Fe Villanueva look pretty fashionable as they show off the decades of the 20th century.

R. White

"All right, I know I'm cute!" Jon Erickson (above) looks pretty fly with those yellow sun glasses, walkie talkie, and the styling '00 on his face.

"You don't want a piece of this!" Joe Nall gets ready to watch Officer Kurts fall into the dunk tank.

class of 2000

BELOW: "Cotton candy anyone?" These 3 girls of the class of '00 Tracy Day, Katy Parrott and Rayana White smile for the camera with some good looking cotton candy in each of their hands.

R. White

BELOW: "What'd you squirt in my eye?" Ethan Berto looks as Trygve Westergard gives a guilty smile.

M. Hanson

ay cheese!!! (Below) Molly Berntson and Tennille Walker show off their cute straw hats and nice smiles.

R. White

R. White

LEFT: "I think that I'm supposed to be working, but I'm not sure" Donald Munhoven, with wide eyes, looks a little confused as to what he should be doing during the Carnival.

R. White

YO! You wanna play a hand or what? No gamblin' till you're 18! Well, I guess we'll let this slide. Steve Beedle deals to the players.

R. White

Aaron Thweatt knows how to make any job fun, even cleaning up after a wild night of senior frenzy of the '00 Senior Carnival!

The remaining kids of the Senior Carnival show still have enough energy to give some smiles and laughs for the finale of the Senior Carnival.

J. Rosenblin

RIGHT: You kids! Dena Conley (right) and Trevan Walker (left) do what they do best and lecture the kids to impose some of their infinite wisdom on them. These are two of the senior class advisors, and aren't we glad that we have them.

Advice from the editors,
I've borrowed a few pieces of advice from Baz Luhrman and think they are worth remembering. We will dispense this information now.

- ~Wear sunscreen.
- ~Enjoy the power and beauty of your youth.
- ~Don't worry about the future, or worry but know that worrying is about as effective as trying to solve an algebra equation by chewing bubblegum.
- ~Do one thing everyday that scares you.
- ~Floss.
- ~Remember compliments you receive-forget the insults.
- ~Stretch.
- ~Get plenty of calcium.
- ~Your choices are half chance, so are everyone else's.
- ~Do not read beauty magazines, they will only make you feel ugly.
- ~Get to know your parents, you never know when they'll be gone for good.
- ~Work hard to bridge the gaps in geography and lifestyle - the older you get the more you need the people you knew when you were young.

The Faces of Success

Junior Ryan Cronk hides out in the band room to catch up on his reading. He is sure he has found the perfect current event for Mr. Ortiz's Economics class.

N. Steffen

K. Sportsman

Now here are some hard workers. Junior Valerie Ah Yong, seniors Melissa Morris, Edelweiss Muench, Riannon Maynard, junior Sharli Hayter, and sophomore Jay Miller struggle to complete an assignment.

K. Sportsman

Checking his answers in math class, senior Scott Edwards makes sure that he copied down the right problem.

Mr. Bjur, Mrs. Tillotson, Mrs. Troina, Mrs. Hunt,
Mr. Hamlin, Mrs. Karlik, and Mrs. Sande.

They've come a long way!

Junior Jennifer Azure and sophomore Sarah Truitt take advantage of homework time during Algebra II by catching up on their out of class reading for English.

Putting chocolate covered java beans in their bags, seniors Anna Pfeifer, Ryan Cronk, and Joel Moore had better not be snacking on any!

ABSTRACT FACES

Hey, Smithsonian! Make room next to the Picassos because Kayhi has some major artistic talent.

Straight Lines! Freshman Leah Cuplin uses a ruler to make her pencil marks with precision.

FACULTY FACES

It seems like two of Kayhi's finest science teachers are quite possibly extraterrestrial entities!! Chemistry teacher Mr. Dwyer looks seriously at the camera--wondering when his planet's plan for the domination of Earth will finally be complete. Do you keep the keys to your spaceship in the pocket of your lab coat, Mr. Dwyer? Mrs. Blankenship smiles sweetly when she thinks of the brightest science students she's planning to abduct. Someone call Agents Mulder and Scully. ....

Michael Neterer puts her hand to work as she puts the final touches on this colorful Japanese character. She adds a mark here and there to turn it into a beautiful piece of art.

Mrs. Kern is always happy to do anything that has to do with art, even the clean up!

Junior Katie Hopkins shows off her photographic talent in this touching rainy day photo. Some people, like Katie, have the ability to use a little black box and film to capture art - as happens.

In these days of the new millennium a new art form is emerging--graphic art. Computer-savvy artist junior Liza Fisher created this image using a mouse instead of paint!

OUTSIDE THE

BEST WHEELS: Choir/Photo teacher Mr. Hughes was nominated for having one of the best faculty cars. He drives a teal green truck (left) that still shines as if it were right off the show room floor. Ms. Dorsey, the guidance counselor, proudly shows off her deep burgundy Rav 4. Maybe one day they'll let students take test drives.... or maybe not.

What could four wild and crazy teachers do if they had some spare time? Form a rock band, of course! What would this band be called? BALDY AND THE BEATS!! Baldy (Mr. Bjur) and his four faithful bandmates: Crockpot (Mr. Crockett), The Tillator (Mrs. Tillotson), Xsquared (Mr. Powell), and Quantum Man (Mr. Kralis) could have jam sessions in the auto shop garage and perform at pep assemblies. We even designed their first album cover (right). Rock on.

CLASSROOM

STAFF DEVELOPMENT

Counselors Susan Dorsey and John Cote said, "Staff development lets teachers talk to other teachers that they don't usually have a chance to talk with."

Mr. Mogen says, "Staff Development is just in its infancy, and hopefully by next semester it will be on its feet doing what it was intended for."

Juniors Loren Leonora and Lizzy Peters take time out during a very unbusy Staff Development to organize Lizzy's locker.

Juniors Janae Thomas, Alisa Gubatayao, Taylor McDonald, and Greg Slagle pose after a good night's rest after taking advantage of Staff Development by sleeping in. Greg explained, "If sleeping in can't get you through the day then Mountain Dew can!"

Left: A conglomeration of teachers pack into the library for Staff Development time. Mr. Barnes, Mr. Middag, Mr. McFadden, Mr. Maynard, Mr. Cote, Mr. Kralis, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Hughes, and Mr. Hamlin are just some of the teachers who attend the meeting.

Above: Seniors Tennille Walker and Aaron Thweatt use their time wisely to study for upcoming classes. While immature junior Mike Thompson writes love notes in senior Becca Neilson's locker.

Above Left: Mr. Hamlin explained to us, "I'm looking forward to implementing a program, but now topics are not able to be discussed. I'd rather have all the periods everyday."

COLLEGE FAIR

DID YOU KNOW?

About 30 different colleges are represented at college fair each year. This year a variety of Liberal Arts and Science colleges were here. Many of Kayhi's students will start receiving packets in the mail soon from the colleges that they are interested in. This can be a good way to find out more about the universities or colleges to which they would like to apply.

The senior class and some straggling juniors participated in the college fair this year. Many people walked out with piles of information. Now comes the hard part: choosing where to go!

Counselor John Cote and senior Neil Leonora chat about how important college is for the future.

FACULTY

Homework Lovers Mr. Mogen and Mrs. Hunt show their amazing piles of work awaiting their next classes.

And the winners for tallest and shortest teachers are... petite Mr. Walker and giant Ms. Dahle!

Mr. Powell and Mrs. Zelensky are the most laid-back teachers this year.

Senior Sherrell Scudero, and seniors Ethan Berto and Trygve Westergard fill out information requests to warm University of Hawaii. These guys have sunny beaches and surfing in mind. Senior Justin Chambers watches to make sure they fill out the forms correctly.

This college recruiter was interested in senior Tiffany Gillian's talents and skills.

Senior Dan Yates talks with a recruiter about the living conditions at this particular college.

Westwood College caught senior Aaron Thweatt's attention with its up-to-date lab equipment and convenient location out of state.

Senior Joel Moore and the representative from Oregon State chat about the social scene down in the Lower 48.

SUPERLATIVES

Wacky Mr. Hamlin and silly Mrs. Habberstad are the goofiest teachers of this century.

Stylish Mrs. Troina and groovin' Mr. Bolling pose with their fashion bud Austin Powers.

Java King and Queen, Mr. Kinunen and Mrs. Karlik show off their favorite mugs.

Tardies and

Sssshhh! If the teacher doesn't hear us walk in, she'll never notice! Junior Tara Miller and senior Tiffany Gillian sneak their way out of being tardy. Who's going to tell them they won't make it?

Here are juniors Carlie and Jennifer Parker, running to class because they will soon be tardy. Not knowing someone sees them, they laugh their way through the halls.

"THUMBS UP!!!"

Exclaims sophomore Nick Kristovich, for he doesn't care whether he's tardy or not!

"Oh! The bell rang?!" Junior Robert Boyd stands shocked as he realizes he's on his way to in-house.

Junior Jamie Egner-Burns chuckles quietly as she slowly opens the door. Knowing she is tardy, she finds a way to make it funny.

Skipping

Brian Wallin, a junior, looks around to make sure Mr. Pennington doesn't see him run through the field to take the rest of the day off. Is it that easy to skip??

Senior Josh Wilson and sophomore Britney Fisher return from an hour of playing pool. Their guilty looks tell anyone who sees them that they just skipped.

Loren Leonora, a junior, quotes, "I had to run home during lunch because I forgot to bring my lunch to school. I totally lost track of the time so I was about ten minutes late for class. But I couldn't help it. I was really hungry at the time. If only our lunch breaks were a little longer I probably wouldn't have been late at all."

Here's Ginnie! Watch sophomore Ginnie Moriarty run...right out the high school doors to ditch her next class before anyone sees.

Ginnie waves.

Ginnie runs!

Ginnie thinks.

J. Rosendin

J. Rosendin

J. Rosendin

The answer is "An Elephant!"

Jakob Knudson, Elizabeth Hiscox, Tara Bolling and Jenny Rosendin.

We asked some of the students and staff members of Kayhi which teachers would have been most likely to win these awards when they were in high school. Here are the results...

Mr. Walker was voted Most Popular during his high school years.

Mr. Kinunen won for being the Most Athletic during his high school years.

J. Rosendin

S. Bass

Mr. Crockett won both Funniest Personality and the Biggest Slacker when he was in high school.

Ms. Dorsey's Most Embarrassing Moment of High School

"During my senior year I was president of the Latin Club. We decided it would be a good idea to have a Toga party/dance. Someone stepped on my toga - it tore, and then fell off in front of everyone!"

Junior Elizabeth Hiscox from Broken Hill, Australia, poses with her best friends in their school uniforms. Elizabeth quotes, "There are always animals running around everywhere, kangaroos eating on your front lawn and lizards crawling on the road. When I found out I was going to Alaska I cried because most Australians think that Alaskans are Eskimo and live in igloos and they also think that Alaska isn't a part of the United States. I was thinking more like California or Florida. Before I came here I had never seen snow and was happy to experience the 'Real Alaska.' I love Ketchikan because it is so different from home."

Jakob Knudson is from the great country of Denmark. He is in Ketchikan for the 1999-2000 year. Since his arrival, Jakob has become greatly involved in the Kayhi Swim and Dive team. We hope he enjoys his stay in Alaska!

A Time To Discover

Senior Jenny Rosendin spent her exchange year in Johannesburg, South Africa, and had the time of her life. She experienced amazing events including sky diving, waterskiing, swimming with dolphins, learning to surf, and walking through the bush at night with elephants. She also experienced the amazing night life of a city with three million people. "I traveled all over the country seeing both its absolute beauty as well as its slums and impoverished townships." Jenny made lifelong friends and her memories will remain a part of her forever. Below is Jenny and past exchange student and friend Brian Phiefer in South Africa.

Juniors Angelina Martin and Taylor McDonald are the "Outbounds" for the 2000-2001 school year.

Angelina started screaming and jumping up and down. She says she will miss her senior activities, but she is excited to experience a new world.

"I am really excited to try new foods and I would like to go to Brazil to learn a new language. I started crying when I found out I was chosen for the exchange," quoted Taylor.

Senior Tara Bolling spent the 1998-1999 year in New Zealand. "I had the experience of a lifetime. I made friends I will always have.

While I was down under I enjoyed bungee jumping, bungee rocket, whitewater rafting, river surfing, jet boating, surfing, kneeboarding, water skiing, wake boarding and mountain biking. I traveled all over North and South New Zealand and I got to go to a six day conference on Fiji. When I was there I got to go snorkeling. The best part was that it was always sunny and not raining like good old Ketchikan."

Mr. Beraldi won for Biggest Flirt; he must have been flirtatious when he was in high school.

J. Rosendin

J. Rosendin

Winner for Most Dramatic was, of course, the Drama teacher Mr. Barnes!!!

Mr. Hamlin won the Biggest Police Record for when he was a youngster like us.

J. Rosendin

Mrs. Hanson's Most Embarrassing High School Moment

"It was right after half-time for basketball and we went back onto the court. The ball was inbounded and I got the ball. I was dribbling it down the court and scored a basket. I looked around and wondered why no one was guarding me. It finally dawned on me that we switched baskets and I scored for the other team!"

Culinary Arts

Ohhhhhh yummmmy! Those egg custard pies look good. That is just one of the many things that the Culinary Arts class has made. They have also made many delicious things like: cinnamon rolls, chocolate chip scones, gingerbread cookies, bread, rolls, bread pudding and chocolate chip cookies. They are planning on making things to sell during lunch like: various pastas, home made sandwiches, soups, and other tasty goodies everyone likes to eat.

Culinary Arts and Auto Mechanics were two of the classes that were just added to the list of elective classes that only sophomores, juniors, and seniors can take to learn some common skills on cooking and how to fix your vehicle if it breaks down. These two classes were pioneered during second semester last year and were only offered to seniors. Since the classes were a hit we now have three classes of auto mechanics and four classes of culinary arts. For all the kids planning on taking these classes again there will be auto mechanics and Culinary Arts II. These classes benefit everyone, even though not everyone is in these classes. During lunch and in the morning culinary arts gives kids the option to buy their products from coffee to salmon burgers that we can make it. The benefit to having auto mechanics is if your car breaks down and you have a friend in the class that might be able to schedule you in to give you a free fix.

"Yeah, can I get a tall single mocha with double caffeine, whip cream and a cherry on top! I need to stay awake during Mrs. Hunt's English 3 CP class or I'm in trouble!" Left: senior Ryan Pickrell serves up a mean cup of Joe to those who need a little extra boost to get them started for the day.

Juniors Alex Klingelhut and Chris Nold tackle the arduous job of the lawn mower engine. Since it's color coated it should be no problem for these top mechanical gurus.

Kayhi's Cross Country Team!

Some Facts About the Cross-Country Team:

Practice 5 times a week

1-2 Hours of running

There are 24 runners

They have the opportunity to go to 6 meets, including Southeast and State

Southeast was the only home meet

They do tons of stretching

1-2 miles for a warm-up run

The races they compete in are all 3.1 miles

They came in 2nd in the Southeast tournament

Did you know?

This year's football team practiced every night except on Saturdays and Sundays, rain or shine. At practice these guys have to run a lot! To begin, they run around the field, then they have sprints, suicides, and finally they run around the field again! In between all that running, they do push-ups and sit-ups.

The Kayhi Kings football team played three games as a high school team this year. Sophomore Shaun Phillips, freshman Chris Cummings, and junior Geoff Nordland all scored touchdowns; way to go, guys! The Kings played against Sitka and Juneau this year. They expect to have better results on the score board next year!

Not pictured: Bonnie Autrey, Natalie Ney, and Rochelle Leask.

Having an older sibling on the swim team is really hard. But sophomore Joey Rauwolf explains to us that his older brother senior Mike Rauwolf, isn't much better than he is. The reason Joey enjoys swimming is because his ankles can't handle sports like basketball and soccer. His initiation punishment was a "Soapy," where they put soap in your speedo or bathing suit and give you a mad wedgy. "Personally, it wasn't that bad."

Joey's older brother Mike had a different experience than Joey's Freshman year he went to state, and they stayed at the Westmark. "I'd never sleep-walked before this night, but for some reason I walked outside of our hotel room in the middle of the night. When I woke up, I was locked out of my room in my underwear and shirt. It was very embarrassing. One of the other team's swimmers called my room, and told Eric Christensen that I was outside in my underpants. Eric didn't believe him and hung up. Meanwhile, I was still standing in the hallway waiting for the door to open. Eventually Eric opened it, and asked what I was doing out there in my underpants."

Michael Rauwolf and Valerie Ahyong are out of their swim gear posing in a more casual environment than in the Mike Smithers swimming pool.

"I'm almost there," freshman Anna Shepard free-styling her way across the pool warming up for one of her many practices.

DON'T POISON MY POND!

J. Rosenblum

FUNNY STORIES AND PRANKS SWIMMERS HAVE TO ENDURE TO BE COOL AND BE ABLE TO SURVIVE THE WATERS!!!

She started out eleven years ago and is still going like the Energizer bunny. Bonnie Autrey deserves more gold medals than she has already received for her effort and dedication. She has already earned one gold trophy in a relay race. When she is in the pool, she enjoys doing flips and turns. "One time when I was in Sitka, I was turning around and banged my head!" Although Bonnie laughs about it now, we're sure it hurt then.

Oohoo! A new little freshman to make it to the Kayhi Swim Team. Sarah Slenkamp quotes, "I am not really intimidated by the seniors on the team, because they aren't too threatening about what they want to do to initiate me."

"The reasons I like swimming are getting to travel, meeting new people and it takes up some of my time."

"I had the worst initiation," Natalie Ney tells us her story.

"I was tied to a tree and they stuffed doughnuts in my mouth. One of the silly things that I have done on a trip, was to go to the ice dispenser and keep pressing the button because no ice would come out. I finally figured out that it was jammed, so I hit it really hard and all this ice came out, and fell all over the floor. I just got my ice and went back to my room like nothing had ever happened."

Q "So, Matt, how did you like being in yearbook this year? I hear you almost didn't make it."

A "I'm really glad that it worked out. There was a conflict with seventh hour, but they started a new class, so it is all cool."

Q "So Adrienne, what would you say was your favorite page to work on this year?"

A "The lockers page was my favorite, it was something fun to work on, and it was also really colorful."

Q "Now Lizzy, what was the most memorable thing about yearbook camp in San Diego?"

A "Well, we were staying at the University of San Diego and it was really scary because our room was haunted, by a nun with a blue light."

After a hard day's work, seniors Sam Bass and Jenny Rosendin, along with juniors Lizzy Peters and Chelsey Richardson, stand back to admire their masterpiece.

Left: The five steps to producing a yearbook. A lot of work goes into the actual making of a yearbook. Deadlines are rushed to be met, pictures are taken and developed, writing needs to be done, and it all must be proof-read at least three times. Senior Rayana White demonstrates the first step—getting the pictures made. Senior Jeff Williams begins the second step, which is writing captions and copy. Junior Niki Steffen is the copy editor. Things must be first “proofed” through her. Seniors Melissa Leary and Tracy Day are the chief editors—everything is “proofed” through them after they are seen by Niki. The final step is the most rewarding—seeing the finished product. Senior Jenny Rosendin and junior Lizzy Peters admire a finished yearbook.

AIDS Awareness / Interact

World AIDS Day is a very important day at Kayhi. This year the Teen Task Force broke all records for the white face paint demo; over one hundred students who participated.

Helping youth is what it's all about. Senior Aftan Lynch helps youth out at the all-city Halloween party. This is one of Interact's main activities.

AIDS Awareness is not all serious. During the meeting things can become quite fun and a little out of control. Freshmen Cassy Silsbee and Kirsten Michael run around and play a little game of tag.

The students came together on World AIDS Day to show one another the facts about AIDS and how many people are affected. Seniors Jeff Williams and Heather Nelson broke all records ever set concerning World AIDS day. Seniors Brooke Gibb, Heidi Weimer, Catlin O'Brien, juniors Claire Rowan, Beth Schafer, Jill Walker, Eunice Loyde, Pamela Solano, sophomores Alana Gross, Honey Phillips, Mike Marl and freshmen Joe Roth, Corey LaDuke, Josh Benson, Brendan Davis, Kraig Bailey, Forrest McGillis, Taylor Jones and Erin Beasley. All help in the fight to break all the records.

THE BRAINS

ACDC

Sophomore Nikki Holt says that she decided to join ACDC because it looks good on applications and some of her "cool friends" also joined. Thanks to ACDC she learned the art of public speaking and met lots of people.

Junior Tesia Dobrynia claims she joined ACDC "to be in the yearbook and I missed the pic." Well, here Tesia, you get to be in a picture all by yourself (modeling your pj's.)

"On the Juneau trip we called our whole team Rosie. All the other teams were really confused because they thought we were all named Rosie," says junior Liza Fisher as she remembers the fun of short trips.

Junior Brittany Hassell recounts a hilarious tale from an ACDC trip. "We were in Petersburg and the stewardess said that if it was anyone's birthday to tell her and we would sing to them. So I called her and told her it was Mr. Powell's birthday (it really wasn't). She got on the intercom and said, 'We have a birthday! Would Mr. Powell please stand up?' His face turned beet red and he stood up and the entire plane sang 'Happy Birthday' to him."

MAKING TESTING AN EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY!!

Sophomore Darcy Bengard is putting in some quick study time for those long tedious tests.

BEHIND THE FACES DEBATE

Freshman Alex Ortiz grins deviously as he prepares to watch junior Chasina Haynes and senior Caitlin O'Brien spar off. Debate is a lot more than just arguing—it's arguing with skill!

Junior Chasina Haynes is caught up in her case as she emphatically urges the class to see things her way. Debaters spend hours gathering research, preparing cases, and revising these cases—so it can be persuasive and informative to listen to.

Junior Sharli Hayter says she joined debate to learn speaking skills and gain the ability to speak fluently in front of a group of people. She encourages her peers to join future debate classes: "This class will benefit everyone, it's fun being in front of a big crowd too!" Sharli goes on to tell a memorable experience: "I remember my freshman year and Robin Miller [class of '98] was doing a speech on kissing. Ms. Sande was freaking out because the article Robin's speech was on was called 'Kissing from A to Z.' Ms. Sande thought it was a 'corruption on teens' minds.'

Fast fact: the debate team's food of choice is peeps!

The debate class watches their team mates argue. However, when Ms. Sande isn't looking they furtively pull out their glue sticks and note cards so they can finish cases of their own.

Juniors Angelina Martin laughs at her class while Johanna Johnson rushes to put the finishing touches on her debate note cards, while Princess Brock Taylor raises his hand to ask a question.

"I love Jazz Choir because we can get down with our groovin' selves," says senior Christy Miller.

Junior Claire Rowan takes a break from her singing to sit down and relax a little while. You better catch some ZZZ's before Mr. Hughes sees you!

"I really like playing the piano for Jazz Band, except for when Mr. Hughes yells at me," says sophomore Steve Edwards.

Getting to school at seven o'clock can be hard for anyone! Sophomores Steve Edwards and Josh Hales give us a blank stare. Go back to bed!

Are you awake? Sophomore Elisa Bolling dozes while senior Charlene Spurgeon keeps an eye out for Mr. Hughes.

Jennifer Azure, a junior, puts a spell on all of Kayhi, saying we will all pass with 4.0's! Isn't that a wonderful ending, especially for the seniors!

Ginnie Moriarty tries to make it a warm Halloween, but of course it's raining and blowing! Thanks for the try!

Dana Shoup, a sophomore, shows up for Halloween at school in a styling top hat and sunglasses.

Sophomore Mary French would rather listen to her jivin' music than to feed her face!

Are you two going to eat all that food? Sophomores Emily Jenkinson and Jim Auger enjoy their huge lunch. Hey, at least some of it looks healthy!

Junior Niki Steffen doesn't like to share her food! "I end up eating other people's food." Hey! is that fair play?

Junior A.J. Pattison lives life on the edge. "Once I accidentally jumped Third Ave. in my car, trying to get to McDonalds too fast!" Steer clear of this roadster!

Sophomore Erica VanSlyke attempts to eat and talk at the same time. Is that sandwich good?

Seniors Michael Rauwolf, Anthony Martinez, Charlene Spurgeon, Leigh Grundy, Melissa Morris, and Scott Edwards contemplate the meaning of life.

Feeding Your Face!

Boy are these Doritos good! Sophomore Sam Manning chows down.

"I think being a freshman at lunch is boring, we don't have cars so we can't go anywhere. All I do is read and eat."

-Freshman Angela Garton.

"Most sophomores stay here at lunch, unless they're lucky and can get a ride with an upper-classmen!" -Sophomore Christine Monticello.

"It's cool being a junior at lunch because we finally have cars and can go get some REAL food!" -Junior Kyle Worman.

"I think most of the seniors leave at lunch, unless we have important senior stuff to do!" -Senior Joel Cuplin.

What happened to junior Steven Edwards? He sure got himself into a bind. Have fun tackling your way out of that one!

Seniors Leigh Grundy and Melissa Morris still take time out of their busy lives to hangout. Those are true friends!

TO CREATE A MORE PERFECT SCHOOL....

There comes a time in every highschooler's life when he/she realizes that some things could just be better.

Thirsty senior Therese Beaver thinks the school should "get water fountains upstairs that actually work--they haven't worked since my sophomore year!"

Book fanatic Lauren Johnson states that if she were in charge, "I would make the library huge, filled with all the books in the world!" Happy reading.

"Hmmm, a flat roof in Ketchikan, that's smart! With a flat roof all the rain water drains to the center of the roof and that causes leaks!" points out sophomore Dustin Wilson.

Junior Libba Anglin, an active member of pep band, feels what this school really needs is more school spirit. Pep club works hard to paint posters for the commons, put up lockers signs, and cheer on Kayhi's teams but sometimes the student body just has bouts of the anti-spirit virus.

"Heaters. More heaters," shivers poor Joey Fama. Sometimes it seems like the school is trying to turn us into student-sicles.

Yup. Sometimes school is just plain dull. Junior Natalie Ney has a solution: "They should have a week of really interesting classes so that we can experience possible careers we aren't normall exposed to--like a massage class."

IF YOU COULD CHANGE ONE THING ABOUT KAYHI, WHAT WOULD IT BE??

Some Common Complaints:

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Why in the mural outside the gym are so many of the Kayhi athletes losing? This is supposed to boost school morale how? Hmm. I think I saw this same scene on a PeeChee folder once....

"The school looks like a giant bathroom!" True, the school does remind lots of people of a lavatory with its box shape and abundance of tiles. On the bright side, at least it doesn't smell like one!

Junior Megan Dillard isn't one for change: she spoke out about the new tarty policy and the new schedule.

While the ocean scene made out of metal dangling above the commons doesn't draw many complaints, quite a few students are interested in taking the canoe down and seeing how long it will stay afloat in the pool!

Winter Ball 2000

SETUP

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Sophomore Stephanie Woodruff, junior Jamie Egner, and sophomore Tina Reese all help out by putting out giant snow flakes for the Winter Ball. These girls are showing off their skills in the art of making snowflakes. Great job girls!!!!

Juniors Lindsey Barnes and Alisa Gubatayao are concentrating really hard on making the Enchanted Castle. This is some tough work. Lots of energy and team effort is put into setting up.

LEFT: Senior Dan Yates gets jiggy with it, while sophomore Christine Monticello laughs. The dress code might be formal but the attitude is definitely not!

RIGHT: Sophomores Sarah Keene, Chelsea Woodell, Tara Potter, and Juniors Richard McAlpin and Chris Campbell are all ready to dance. The best part of Winter Ball is being with all your friends and having the time of your life (not to mention looking great).

Make a trois! Freshman Josh Benson brought Gumby to Winter Ball but now Junior Brittany Hassell wants part of this inflatable hunk too!!! People are attracted to all different kinds of dates—even blow up ones!! We sure hope dear old loveable Gumby didn't get too light headed after he boogied all night!!

Freshman Taylor Jones and sophomore Mary French grin because this night has FINALLY arrived and they get to spend it together. They are pumped to head out to the dance floor and show their moves to the rest of the school. Each and every Winter Ball is unique and unforgettable. Winter Ball is more than just a dance—most attendees get ready with friends, go out to dinner, dance, and party afterwards!!!

Is it Austin Powers or senior Steven Eliot? No, this swinger hasn't been in two blockbuster hits—it's Kayhi's very own Steven Eliot. His date, Jenny Rosendin, was impressed with his moxie and even wore red to match that outrageous suit!

W. Hofstedt

R. White

Ohh!! Isn't this the cutest couple ever all dressed up and ready for the Winter Ball. Sophomore Lisa Munhoven and Freshman Paul White are getting ready to go the dance. Size really doesn't matter! BELOW: Sophomores Chad Medel and Stephanie Woodruff smile with practiced coolness, they both look decidedly suave.

A Midwinter's Night Dream

Russell Blanks and Whitney Hofstedt, both freshmen, accompanied each other to the dance. Russell looks proud to be seen with such a great person and Whitney points to herself, warning other girls that, "This boy is with me." Both look thrilled to have made her first Winter Ball and are now no doubt looking forward to their next three.

What was your favorite part about Nutcracker?

"I liked getting to work with so many different people."

-Junior Amanda Coffin

"I loved the adrenaline rush of walking out and seeing all of the people. At first I was pretty nervous, but once I was on stage I realized that it was not so bad."

-Junior Brandon Nicholas

"I loved looking out and seeing everyone watching me and being able to express myself to the audience."

-Freshman Sarah Holliman

What was the worst part about Nutcracker?

"This was the first time I ever had to wear makeup. I'm gay and I'm not a girl so I don't have to put make-up on everyday. It was worth it though."

-Junior Matt Hanson

"The strap to my snow costume broke during dress rehearsal. I felt really dumb doing my dance and trying to tie the strap down somewhere!"

-Junior Niki Steffen

"The make-up took forever to come off! It was the first time I had to wear make-up and it just felt weird."

-Junior Matt Valentic

Senior Molly Berntson danced the part of a snowflake, along with other dances in this year's Nutcracker. This is Molly's tenth year in the performance.

Please don't drop me! Junior Jessica Kenyon is held in the air by Gordon Guthrie in the Arabian dance. Hold on tight!

What's going on today! Local Current Events

In local fashion news, Jay Jacobs, which was one of Ketchikan's more up-to-date and current clothing stores, recently closed its doors nationally. Senior Samantha Bass is saddened at the thought of her past job being gone. Jay Jacobs was one of the first stores to go into the Plaza. With it being closed, Ketchikan shoppers are forced to shop out of town a lot more.

For as long as many people can remember there has always been that little special store down the hill from the high school. Some adults can remember going to Race Ave. Drug store to sip soda and chat with friends when they were still in school. Teens today know the store as somewhere you could find almost anything. Race's closed its doors near the end of December, after being bought out by Safeway, who earlier bought out Carr's. The store carried a wide selection of items all year round with an excellent holiday section during those special times of the year. It is sad to see this store go, but we cannot move on without change. The building is currently for lease.

The Ketchikan road system has changed in the last couple of years. This small town's downtown went from wooden roads to two lane concrete roads. In late summer of 1999 Ketchikan's roads dawned a new stop light and a strip road, which has three lanes.

What Students Think is Big News!

"Definitely the teacher strike. The fact that it put school out for a few days was big. Lot's of students had to find places to go."—freshman Jed Dinsmore

"The teacher strike was big. I'm not thrilled about making up the days we lost, but I'm happy the teachers got some of what they wanted."—freshman Ashley Kolean

"Wal-Mart, because the prices will be a lot cheaper. We will finally be able to get clothes at cheap prices."—freshman Jeff Jones

"The teacher strike was a good thing, because the teachers finally are getting some things that they wanted."—sophomore Ginie Moriarty

The Ketchikan teachers have been discussing many different items that they would like to change, including a pay raise and the option to help in selecting who works on to curriculum committees. After long meetings no agreement was made. In November of 1999 the Ketchikan teachers went on strike. The teachers picketed outside in the rainy fall weather, the high speeds blowing right past their faces. Three days into the strike some sort of agreement was made. The teachers returned back to school where most of the students approved of their actions.

In June, 1999 senior Jeff Williams traveled to Washington, DC to receive a national award for his work in the field of HIV/AIDS prevention. He was one of the twenty youth selected as part of National AIDS Fund "Caring Counts" awards program! Jeff has been involved with HIV/AIDS prevention for the last 5 years. There comes a time when all stars get to shine. In December of 1999 sophomore Jamilah Pitchford traveled to the great land of Paris. No, she did not just go there to shop. Jamilah was selected to dance with their drill team during Christmas break. Jamilah, also known as JP, has been involved in drill team for four years, both at the high school and junior high level. When it comes to dancing she has what it takes to make it to the top.

Everybody loves to wake up and run down to their local McDonald's to pick up a hot Egg McMuffin, coffee, and the local Daily News. This is the way it has been for years, but in the last couple of months McDonald's internationally have been switching to a new system called "Made for You!" This system replaces the old warming bin, which means your food is made fresh just for you!

Attention Wal-Mart shoppers! In the middle of 1998 Ketchikan was faced with the question of bringing one of the nation's largest discount stores into Ketchikan. Many local people were against the idea, including the Ketchikan Downtown Business Association. Some people think that when Wal-Mart comes to Ketchikan it may slow down the locally owned and operated stores. After facing all the opposition Wal-Mart is scheduled to open its doors in the spring of 2001. This date was delayed about one year from its original opening date. The store should bring a variety of new items to Ketchikan. The Ketchikan store is going to be about 67,000 sq. feet. This will be a rather small Wal-Mart, but officials say that the store size will fit the Ketchikan economy perfectly.

Recently the Ketchikan Entertainment Center took a step up in current technology! After many years of manual scorekeeping the entertainment center traded in its old and tired telescope machines and replaced them with automatic scorekeeping computers.

"I think the teacher strike was a big deal, 'cause we got out of school for a couple of days, but it sucked for the teachers because they had to picket in the rain." —junior Katie Jenkins

"I think that just the changes that Ketchikan has endured in recent times has been the biggest thing." —senior Heather Nelson

"I think that the teachers' strike was a big thing. We got to sleep in and miss a couple of days of school." —freshman Brittney Maxwell

"I think that Safeway has a lot better selection for shoppers now. Carr's had a very poor selection of items." —freshmen Bobby Crawford

Jesse Richardson carries a bag full of books to class, but still has time to stop and get his picture taken.

Ahna Gillet shows off her school spirit with her KHS sweatshirt, but she isn't as fierce as Lisa Bolling, Holly Thompson, and Jodi Jakubek. They are still in their Cross Country uniforms as they give us a "grrrr" to show us how strong they are.

"SCHOOL'S OUT FOR....only the weekend", yet Riannon Maynard seems like she has something really special planned! Donald Munhoven looks like he could definitely use a break! All cuddled up Sami Bass, Trygve Westergard, Fe Villanueva and Jenny Rosendin discuss their weekend plans together!!

Above: Which one looks better? Niki Steffen posing with her boys Aaron Thweatt and Mike Thompson.

J. Rosendin

Above: Mark Anglin and Seaver Paulson try to give a little smile as they are initiated by seniors Gordon Guthrie and Kyle Burnette.

Tom Byron and Ethan Berto looking studious and pensive.

Chris Corrao, Michelle Steward, Lindsey Barnes, Alisa Gubatayao, Chelsea Pfeifer, and Stuart Mecham sit around a table in the Kayhi commons and chit chat about the latest gossip that has been going around the school.

S. Bass

Kathy Carlson gives us a little insight on what it is like to be a freshman at Kayhi. "It's better than last year and we get more privileges. The big school is really intimidating, but it's a lot more fun!"

Being here two years you get used to things and how the school works. Ashley Skidmore says she likes the bigger lockers but not the harder classes like Algebra III!

Andy Suiter shares his views of the ups and downs of being a junior. "I can't pick on freshman because they are all bigger than me, but now that they are here there are more chicks for me to pick up on! And since I have a hot ride I can take them out."

Of course, being a senior is the time of your life. Kyle Burnette explains all the great things of being one. To the left you will see Kyle is getting really into the initiation of freshman even if he does get a day of in-house. "I don't like English IV or American Government, but I'm outta here so it doesn't matter."

J. Rosendin

Joey Fama takes a break from the school work for a few moments, and slurps down a cold beverage.

Face the Fashion!

Ready for summer again. Junior Kelly Nausid gives a big grin. Her sunglasses show that she is ready for the sun to come back.

Sophomore Chelsea Woodell has her new in- style butterfly clips carefully placed in her hair. Chelsea has a great sense of fashion.

Freshman Anne Elliott said, "I got my belly button pierced with Cassie here in Ketchikan. I was very proud to get it because I had to write a long letter to persuade my mom to let me get it."

"I got my tattoo in Palm Springs with Chelsey watching me grip a chair because I was sunburned and it was hurting. I was sort of used to the pain, though, because it was my second tattoo." - Junior Mandy Peters.

Junior Jackie Jorgensen has her own trend. She has one strand of hair that is three times as long as the rest of her hair.

Freshman Lindsey Bolling's favorite place to shop is "Ross, an outlet store, because everything is like ten dollars!"

Fashion Quotes

“When asked what is the most “in style” accessory, freshman Erin Traudt said, “I would have to say sparkly glitter!”

“My favorite store to shop at would have to be Old Navy Outlet Stores and Polo Ralph Lauren because there is so much to choose from.”
-Junior Emily Stanker

“The five most fashionable brands are A & F, Old Navy, Hilfiger, Gap, and Nike.”
-Freshman Xanth Kirschenman

The new trendy way to carry your keys. Senior Mike Toole holds his keychain out to dangle around his keys.

This guy has got all the styles! Senior Andy Girt poses to show off his trendy outfit.

Junior Ross Webby stands with a confident smile as he wears his fashionable Tommy Hilfiger jacket and Abercrombie and Fitch shirt.

Junior Matt Herington sports a stylish earring. His earring is at the top of his ear, which is very popular these days.

Facing

Juniors Trent Birch and Meghan Paulson collect wood for their Sunday First Lutheran Church Youth Group. Trent wishes he was as tough as Meghan so he could carry a big piece of wood too.

"Recycling can be a lot of fun!" says junior Brian Bergeron. He is in Kayhi's Recycling Club. Brian and the other club members gather up the paper to be recycled every Monday.

Monday Tuesday Wednesday Thursday

"I work at Race Avenue Drug. One of the days I work is Tuesday. I work from after school until 6:30pm. I also work Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. I will have to find a new job, though, now that Race is going to close down."

-Junior Mandy Peters

"I have ballet four days a week. On Tuesdays I do ballet and jazz. Ballet can be really stressful during the week. I really have to manage my time wisely. But in the end it is definitely worth it."

-Senior Molly Berntson

"During staff development time Kristen, Kateri, and I are usually doing pep club things. Other Thursdays we sit in the commons and socialize while drinking Culinary Art mochas and eating cinnamon rolls. It's fun!"

-Sophomore Elisa Bolling

"Monday mornings I record music in Production Tech with Holly Temple and Matt Jones. Holly and I have a band called Bobby Brady, so we're always thinking of new songs. I go to my classes and talk to my friends and see how their weekends were"

-Junior Brittany Hassell

Junior Niki Steffen participates in Ketchikan Theater Ballet four days a week. She has pointe class every Tuesday.

Wow! That's one big piece of wood! Freshman Kaelin Gillet helps out at her Sunday Youth Group

"Most mornings of the week I get coffee to keep me up," says junior Taylor McDonald, as she walks down junior hall on Friday morning.

Friday Saturday Sunday

"Restaurant hopping is a fun way to relax with friends, especially after a bad week of school. It's also fun when the waitress try to pick up Pickrell."

-Senior Mike Rickert

"I have drill team at 8:00 on Saturday morning. This is second year in drill team and I think that it is really fun. I don't like getting up early on Saturdays, though."

-Junior Jennifer Parker

"I work at Ocean View restaurant on Sundays from 11:00am to 5:00pm. I make about $10.00 an hour in tips and $7.00 and hour. I drive my Nissan Pathfinder around town to deliver to people. It's cool 'cause I get free food too!"

-Junior Max Swaim

These Kayhi Students Spill Their Easiest, Fastest and Favorite Ways to Communicate, and We Quote...

"Me and my friends e-mail eachother cards which we can print and keep, send music, and keep eachother informed of how things are." - Junior Amy Stepper

"I mail friends all over the world." -Junior Angelina Martin

"When people want to find me, I am usually at my house in the winter for hybernation, but in the summer, my pager is used quite frequently." -Junior Brian Wallin

"I have a pager but the batteries are dead." -Senior Caleb McCamy

"I procrastinate too much to be a good letter writer." -Sophomore Heather Petrich

"I have a pen pal in Cali and he can't call me all the time so I write him letters, but that was taking to long so I use my email. And we write constantly. Mostly everyday." -Junior LJCadiente

"I have the phone and I only use ICQ when I am writing an essay or something like that." -Sophomore DeAnna Hallman

Senior Lynne Castillo tells all...

"I communicate with my friends outside of school by, hello? the phone, of course. I also log on the net and email everyone I know the same message; it .."

VOLUNTEERS: HOW YOUTHFUL FACES HELP IN KETCHIKAN

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

J. Rosendin

A group of Kayhi seniors do their ten hours of volunteer work by saying, "Vote for Pfeifer and Pickrell." Angela Pfeifer, Kyle Burnette, Luisa Villanueva, Donald Munhoven, Steven Elliot, Brie Kenoyer, Keith Davis and Renee McCarthy.

Junior Kelly Nausid is a Kayhi Lady Kings Basketball player. Since she knows so much about the game she had a chance to teach a few of the future Kings. She helped out at the Recreation Center during one of the many basketball camps. "It was fun to be able to work with all the little kids. It was also really embarrassing too. I was talking in front of the group with all the parents around and this little girl came up and pantsed me!"

F. Villanueva

Senior Brie Kenoyer has been doing her own radio show on KRBD since her freshman year. "The most embarrassing thing is when you think the microphone is off, when really it is still turned on and everyone who is tuned in hears what you have to say! My first experience on air I got really nervous and when the other guy left the room I freaked out and got even more nervous than before!"

Okay boys, you have only a certain amount of time to blow up all of these balloons. What do you do? What do you do? Senior Jakob Knudson and freshman Ryan Seaver join the rest of the swim team by blowing up balloons for a raging millennium party at the Pioneer Home.

Katie Hopkins, a junior, gives the camera a smile as she washes her hands. Katie volunteers in the maternity ward at Ketchikan General Hospital. She really enjoys being around all the cute little babies. Her duties include giving support to mothers during birth, cleaning up, and playing and helping with the babies.

Senior Jasmine Judson twinkles out a little tune of happiness. "My dad is the pastor of the church we go to, so I get to play the piano and teach the Sunday school class. I have lots of fun with all the young children."

Seniors Melissa Morris, Josh Wilson, Scott Edwards, and Jack McDonald give a helping hand to Mike Salle with his campaign.

Being part of the "Friends" program is hard and stressful at times. However, it can also be a good way of getting out of your other classes! Seniors Jennifer Johnson and Edelweiss Muench enjoy a nice dessert on the Rhapsody of Seas after they teach young tourists about good old Ketchikan.

A special thanks to: Renee Woodruff, Bobby Crawford, Jenny Rosendin, Rayana White, and Richard Harney for your help with index pic's.

Congratulations....To the Class of 2000!

Student mug shots are not indexed under each student's name. Your mug shot will be on the pages which are listed at the top of these pages by grade level. Also large group shots may not have been indexed so look throughout the book carefully. There are faces of the new millennium hiding on each page. We hope that you enjoy the memories, which we have put together for your pleasure.

THE KAYHI ANNUAL OF THE MILLENNIUM

TAKES ITS BOW AND HOPES
FOR YOUR APPROVAL

THE FACES OF THE SECOND MILLENNIUM
HAVE LEFT THEIR MARK.
AS WE CHANGE WITH PASSING YEARS,
THE FACES OF OUR YOUTH WILL STILL BE REMEMBERED AND CHERISHED,
CAPTIVATED IN THIS MEMORY BOOK FOR ALL TIME.

THE YEAR
NINETEEN-HUNDRED NINETY-NINE
THROUGH TWO THOUSAND
HAS BEEN ETCHED INTO THE HISTORY OF KETCHIKAN HIGH SCHOOL,
NEVER TO BE FORGOTTEN.

REGION FIVE TOURNAMENT

PEP BAND PRIDE!

Darcy Bengaard, Tyler Davis, Tracey Stone, Brie Kenoyer, Erica Van Slyke, Lindsay Hofstedt, Jackie Jacobson, David Rockwood, Jeff Padike, Alice Cook, Melissa Morris, Libba Anglin, Micah Bermele, and Mark Davey are just a few of the members of Payhi's outstanding pep band.

SHE SHOOTS, SHE SCORES!

Mary Scudero, Johanna Johnson, Brandyce Nelson, Amanda Kolanko, Kelly Ausid, and Sarah Keene warm up for their big game.

CAREFUL...

WHAT'S THAT SOUND?

The crowd watches in awe as our drill team performs an awesome drill. Way to go drill team!

BATTLE OF THE MASCOTS...

All the mascots run out on the floor, while the basketball players are getting pepped up for the big game. The chiefs, wolves, and fish all seem to be having a great time out there at center court.

LET'S GO KAYHI!!!!

SMILE FOR THE CAMERA...

AND THE CROWD GOES WILD!

A big part of these tournaments is the crowd support. For Southeast, the gym was packed, and the teams definitely got plenty of support.

Faces Of Future Movie Stars

Senior actress Caitlin O'Brien tries on the role of Aunt Vetty for size and shines as the elderly nag. But don't worry Caitlin, we know it's just an act!

The zany, wacky, and fascinating cast of Kayhi's popular spring performance: "John Lennon and Me" take a breather between sets. Pictures from left to right are: Anthony Martinez (out front), Julie Guthrie, Steven Edwards, Cambry Skaggs, Heidi Nash, (2nd row) Alex Ortiz, Tom McCarty, Becca Lakesie, Kirsten Michaels, Jason Snook, (3rd row) Brittany Hassell, Mr. Barnes, Melissa Morris, Nicole Hack, Tracy Brown, and Amanda Burrous.

The Spian Senior Travis Schenck is such a good actor that he can sleep through his performance-or is this part of C.S. Lewis's script, "The Magician's Nephew?"

Junior Amanda Burrous grinds her teeth as she's about to give this thing what it deserves! Don't mess with this woman, or you'll be running for the door!

These three ladies know how to dance!!! Senior Melissa Morris, juniors Nicole Hack, and Brittany Hassell break out the moves on stage!

Crowded around for some good old entertainment by famous guitar player and vocalist, junior Heidi Nash, sophomore Jason Snook, freshman Alex Ortiz, and senior Tracy Brown.

Junior Stephen Edwards strolls across the stage with his new shades to match his totally hip outfit.

Drug Free Faces of Ketchikan ADFY Conference 2000

Fun with Joy! Margaret Neilson, Joel Cuplin, Chris Corrao, Forest McGillis, and Billy Pfeifer joyously show off their creative talent at Alaskans for Drug Free Youth Conference 2000. These kids are the definition of being drug free and proud. Good job guys, we're proud of you!

Too sexy for his shirt! Junior Joey Fama (left) shows off his steroids-free brawn while an awestruck Elisa Bolling rolls her eyes as if to say "check this guy out!"

You can tell the weekend was a success from the shining faces of this family group (right)! Pictured: Jon Erickson, Kraig Bailey (1st row), William Stevenson, Dustin Moore, Katie Hopkins, Meghan Paulson, and Erin Massie (3rd row), with their Schoenbar pals.

Head youth coordinator, senior Tennille Walker (left) directs the conference with a confident smile. Kudos to Tennille-the conference was a blast for everyone involved.

Senior Jon Erickson (right) wouldn't be caught dead with an embarrassing look on his face, even as the girls around him, junior Ahna Gillet and senior Tennille Walker, don't look quite so at ease.

Music Festival 2000!

Students say goodbye to their music career in Wind Ensemble. They received all Superior ratings. Front row: Senior Charlene Spurgeon, juniors Alisa Gubatayao, Michelle Steward, Margaret Fisher, seniors Melissa Morris, Leigh Grundy, Renee McCarthy, Victoria Sweet, Lynne Castillo, Alice Cook, and sophomore Rachel Werner. Second row: Seniors Joel Cuplin, Molly Berntson, sophomore Joshua Hales, seniors Angela Pfeifer, Micah Cermelo, sophomore Jamilah Pitchford, junior Gavin Piercy, seniors Jasmine Judson, Anthony Martinez, Theresse Beaver, Katherine Short, sophomore Jake Belfry, seniors Jack McDonald, Donald Alderman, and junior Tom Loughead. Top row: Junior Matthew Hanson, David Rockwood, seniors Stephen Beedle, Andrew Gichard, Keith Davis, and Donald Soderstrom.

Chiyhi should be proud of some of the awesome solos heard during Music Fest. Senior Tiffany Gillian did an incredible job on her solo in Jazz Choir.

Some people traveled to Juneau for many different activities. Sophomores Zeta Moss and Jonnae Ostrom made Kayhi proud, both in Symphonic Band and Softball.

6 Music Fest

We truly have a gifted school in the area of music. Wind Ensemble, Concert Choir, Jazz Choir and Symphonic Band all took superiors. This year was the first year a Symphonic Band received all superiors. Go Kayhi!

Sophomore Russell Miller takes a breather while waiting for his next opportunity to steal a base.

Junior Richard McAlpin is ready and primed to get a grand slam! This guy knows how to make sure that the opposing team knows what they are up against.

Junior T.J. Milner winds up and gets ready to send off an amazing pitch to send Sitka packing.

Freshman Caleb Mickel tries to catch his breath after running home and adding to their growing lead.

Senior Alexis Pahang smirks in triumph as he jogs in to touch home plate.

Senior Ethan Berto pitches a beautiful fastball. Hopefully this was the strike that Kayhi was hoping for!

Coach Rich McAlpin shows his joy in senior Donald Munhoven's performance.

Kayhi Prom 2000

Some Enchanted Evening

How sweet!!!! Its the Prom King and Queen. Seniors Dan Yates (Yayee-ates!) and Samantha Bass are crowned prom king and queen. They stand smiling together just after being crowned.

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Seniors Renee Woodruff and Katherine Short are looking so gorgeous at the prom. "It was the most magical night of all, I never wanted it to end," said Katherine.

"Prom turned out pretty well. It looked decent, but it took a long long time to set up for it, and Nicole Carlin looked hot," says Senior Steven Elliot.

Senior Donald Munhoven is just chillin' during prom. "The prom was pretty cool but it was all the people who made it that way. It was fun to get dressed up and to be with my friends for the last time in a long time."

Senior Becca Neilson has something to say about prom.... "Senior prom was a lot of work! But, in the end it all payed off. The decorations were good and sharing time with my friends really made it a memorable experience. I loved it."

Seniors Matt Hanson and sophomore Christine Monticello helped pass out glasses during prom. They did such a great job too!

Senior Melissa Morris helps setup on the Friday before the big night. She is twirling lights around one of the enchanted trees.

"Prom was pretty fun. It's always nice to get all dolled up and get your pictures taken," says senior Becca Churchill.

"It marks the end of your days with all your school friends. Dinner was the most fun because the parents took pictures of about 20 of us on the porch. Those will be pictures to hold on to," says senior Kristen Carlile.

"It was a lot of work to set it up, but it was definitely worth all of it because it looked so beautiful, and Steven Elliot look very hot!" says senior Nicole Carlin.

How cute!!!! Seems like these two seniors, Joel Moore and Christy Miller are just having a great relaxing time at the prom.

Seniors Alice Cook and Scott Edwards are just two of the twelve candidates for the senior prom King and Queen. Aren't they cute??

After Prom party!!! Senior Mike Rickert is having fun bowling. There were a lot of parties going on during this night but most of the people went to the bowling alley to bowl. They didn't want the night to come to an end.

Senior Tea

The junior class of 2001 worked exceptionally hard to make this senior tea one of the best ever.

Junior Dave Rockwood was in charge of the mood music. The music included past and present hits as well as his own compositions.

Enjoying good laughs and good food, seniors and their parents gather around the tables and talk about the year.

The famous tablecloth. Every year at senior tea, all the seniors who attend can sign their names on it. They are kept as memoirs of past senior teas.

Listening to junior Dave Rockwood play the piano are juniors Michelle Steward, Lindsey Barnes, Alisa Gubatayao, Elizabeth Schafer and Janae Thomas.

Junior Johanna Johnson is the only one tall enough to hang the tablecloths over the door. Juniors Lindsey Barnes and Alisa Gubatayao laugh at their own attempts.

Set up was a great success. Juniors Alisa Gubatayao and Johanna Johnson work on hanging up the tablecloths from the old senior teas while juniors Erin Massie, Katie Corrao, Lindsey Barnes, Steve Edwards, Holly Thompson, and Mr. & Mrs. Karlik get the goodies ready.

Look at these well-behaved seniors. Edelweiss Muench, Scott Edwards, Jasmine Judson, Melissa Morris, Jed Michael, Bobby Allen, Ryan Mortenson, and Anthony Martinez await their doom. Hopefully they'll remain dry for as long as possible!!

Innocent Molly Berntson is lifted off her feet and taken to the water by Tom Byron. Boy those jeans are gonna get heavy.

Warming up after a plunge in the the big blue, Brie Kenoyer, Tara Bolling, Katherine Short and Ryan Cronk hang out by the fire and try to generate body heat.

Pictures by Jaz Judson.

Tracy Brown of the rat pack, gets his thrills from ketchup and axes. Due to an unfortunate accident, Tracy was unable to be thrown in the water.

After a quick throw-in by Steven Elliot, Alexis Pahang, Tom Byron, Joe Nail, Aaron Thweatt, and Leif Thompson, the group goes out and looks for their next victims. Spectators Nicole Carlin, Brooke Gibb, and Louisa Villanueva hope they aren't next!

Poor Ms. Conley. Forced into the water by her own students! Ryan Avila, Gabe Duckworth, Trygve Westergard, and Mike Lyshol are no longer her favorite students. Smart Scott Kenyon knows better than to mess with Ms. Conley!

Hanging out high and dry, Jason Nichols prepares to roast a hot dog.

Ha Ha Ha! I'm dry and you're wet! Renee Woodruff better watch out because someone is coming up behind her.

Chowing down on some delicious grub, Bob Allen, Joel Cuplin, Melissa Morris and Donnie Soderstrom take a break from the wild and craziness of skip day.

We believe in you.....

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Only a couple more minutes!!!! These seniors, Jed Michael, Leigh Grundy, Scott Kenyon, Jennifer Lewis and the rest of the senior class are getting very anxious for the moment they've all been waiting for. Or at least most of them are. Others are reminiscing about the good old days when they were in kindergarten playing with playdough and building blocks.

Caitlin O'Brien sings and plays "I Will Remember You" as a tribute to all of her friends and fellow classmates as everyone prepares to go their separate ways.

Valedictorian Donnie Soderstrom addresses his class with a speech rather than doing something dramatic, like shaving his head.

The Class of 2000

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Catherine Short smiles proudly while Keith Davis tries to keep in rhythm with the music. Some seniors are still struggling with the easy things.

Laughing at one of Leif Thompson's cheesy jokes, Lynn Castillo tries to act serious while walking to her seat.

Rygve Westergard searches the crowd for some familiar faces while fellow classmates Melinda and Travis Schoening are focused on their goal of receiving their diplomas.

Valedictorian Lindsey Hofstedt smiles beautifully as she prepares to give her speech and to sing a song, "Hero" for her classmates and the audience.

Here they are, the Class of 2000. This class is so ready to graduate! Forget all the long speeches and awards, they are thinking. They are ready to get those diplomas! They're pumped to go celebrate and have a great time.
