Summer

Seniors Patrick Doherty, Patrick Troll, Eli Murph, Hannibal Kintana, Martin Moreno, Loren Carson, Ms. Machado and Amber Machado enjoying a pretty view in Italy on the summer Greece/Italy trip.

Seniors Joey Karlson, Whitney Walters, Anthony Chavarria, Andrew Brooks, Francis Klein, Anica Roskam, Chanah Dulin, and Evan Bolling enjoying a weekend get away at Whitney's cabin.

Seniors Caitlyn Lewis, Brittany Auger, and junior Bethany Updike enjoy a hike up Silvas Lake.

Seniors Vanessa Johnson and Kelsey Lough are pretty tough in the rigorous rain forests of Ketchikan.

Memories

Seniors Jessyca Stanely and Janiece Lastimosa show off their stunna's on one of the few nice days in Ketchikan.

Seniors Joey Karlson and Evan Bolling prove just how brave they are by cruising Alaska style in the chilly waters of Ketchikan.

Seniors Zach Scovill, Loren Carson, Nick Otness, and Hannibal Kintana enjoy their time in Europe together.

Seniors Kyleen Luhrs, Chanah Dulin, and Brittany Auger at Girls' State this summer.

Senior Memories

I remember sophomore year on a wrestling trip in Sitka. We had just finished showering and went to eat at Lane 7. Once we arrived and got situated we got our food and started eating. About 5 min. later a lady walked in and sat on a stool, and 2 min. later we smelt this awful odor as she gets up and says "Oh my!" "I think she just went to the bathroom" is all Mr. Collins could say as he sprints to the bathroom with all of us but one. Nick Martin was sitting two stools away still eating! Sitka will never be the same for the wrestling team. - Dustin Simpson,

Everyday on the way to work a big dog would chase after me on my bike, and one day Matthew Perry and I decided to tie a bat to the back of it. Several days later I was riding down the hill while holding the bat and steering with one hand. I was so focused on watching for the dog that I ran into a parked boat. I flew over the trailer doing a ninja roll when I landed and came up unhurt, although my bike was beyond repair. - Forrest Allred

My favorite memory of high school was when I was a junior and Colin Ayres, Gunnar Farstad, Corey White, Anthony Chavarria and I blocked off the senior parking lot with snow one cold night. We started filling trucks after school and decided we didn't have enough snow. So at 11 p.m. Colin, Anthony and I were back up at Harriet Hunt. It was tough, but the funniest thing we've ever done. Even the old man who lives next to senior parking lot was laughing and taking pictures during it all. -Rebekah Miller (See photo on page 33)

Freshman year, 1st hour, Algebra 1 - Mrs. Karlik mentioned the joke about if a rooster lays an egg on the peak of a roof, which way will it roll? A particular person, who shall remain nameless, but whose name begins with Jessica N. and rhymes with ugent, did not understand the joke. The next twenty minutes of class were spent trying to explain to her the difference between a rooster and a hen, a boy and a girl chicken. We never let her live it down. - Grant Boles

The summer after my 10th grade year, Marissa, Colette, Heather B, Lia and I all got really bored one night, so we decided to saran wrap Colette and I together. We used 4-5 boxes and Colette and I could hardly move Marissa then decided it would be really funny to show a teacher...the perfect candidate was none other than Ms. Roppel! So went to her house and they all helped Colette and I hop down to Ms. Roppel's yard. Once we were outside her window, they yelled "Ms. Roppel!" and ran away, leaving Colette and I standing there...I tried to run after them, but I guess Colette wasn't ready because we fell over. I wound up breaking my nose and cutting a huge hole in my face. Ms. Roppel had to come out and cut us out of the saran wrap so I could go to the hospital. -Chloe Hall

In my sophomore year Laramie Tyler and Colin Ayers tied a rope to my left ankle and I was ropelled down and hoisted up several times off the balcony down Junior Hall. -Gerald Orton

I went to Italy and Greece over the summer, and I had to wash a shirt and my swimming shorts. I went to the bathroom and I saw something that I thought was a place to wash clothes. So I washed them and later found out it was called a bideu. - Martin Moreno

In 6th grade, Mari Freitag and I used to go to the New York Cafe before dance class and order soup. One day it was dark outside, and we could clearly see our reflections in the cafe window. We sat there, eating our soup and making funny faces and laughing at them. Then Mari put on my fluffy, white, cheetah-print hat so that when she raised her eyebrows up and down, the hat would bob as well. She was looking into the window, grinning cheesily, eyes wide, and eyebrows bouncing, when a middle-aged man walked past the window and stared at us. We freaked out and quickly turned our attention back to our soup... but then the man came in the cafe, ordered something, then turned and WINKED at Mari. I almost died laughing. - Olivia Round

So last year at the regional swim/dive meet in Petersburg was interesting. They just built their new pool, and the bathrooms didn't have any signs on them. So I'm walking to the bathroom after the meet and without noticing took the first left. As I get to the bathroom, I look up to see all the MALE participants. Spencer Round looks straight at me and laughs. The rest of the trip I just got made fun of the whole time, it was pretty intense. - Kristen Peterson

So Joey Karlson, Loren Carson, Davey B, Eric Cessnun, Zach Scovill, Travis Milligan and I were all chillin' at Joey's. We were really bored and started talking about random stuff. Loren brought up this one time he went to the Grand Canyon in Arizona. We all started laughing at him because the Grand Canyon is in Colorado!! We kept making fun of him until after an hour of arguing we decided to get a map and look for it. It turns out Loren was right, but we still made fun of him because of his Willy Wonka thing he did. - Hannibal Kintana Jr.

Remember that one time?

I remember during sophomore year Lillian Pringle and I left a dance early to go get ice cream from McDonald's (it was the middle of winter with snow all over the ground). So we're walking down Jefferson, slipping and sliding, sharing an iPod and screaming "Blondie" at the top of our lungs. We keep falling over and ripping the ear bud out of each other's ears--which hurts when it's really cold! I'll remember that slippery, icy, walk to get ice cream of all things, forever. -Leanna McMinn

One sunny day in Drama, our class decided to take an inspirational nature walk. Joel and I, being the photo crazed models we are, decided to take advantage of the sunny, autumn scenery. As the camera was shuttering, our class was slowly drifting out of sight. Twenty pictures later, Joel and I frantically chased our class, but when we rounded the corner, they were nowhere to be found. We were panic stricken, and at a loss of what to do. Mrs. Carpenter appeared out of nowhere and let us in the auto shop. We eventually reunited with our class free of disaster. -Vanessa Johnson

One time in sophomore hallway after school, I was standing on Tyler's coat and he yanked it out from underneath me and I went flying backwards flat on my back. A teacher came and started yelling her head off at him saying how badly I could've been hurt. We were both laughing our heads off. -Nicci Johnson

Erika Wright and I were setting up the children's fish pond for Senior Carnival and decided that we would do everything since our partner, Mitch, was out of it. Erika was standing on a chair on a table when the chair started to wobble. Suddenly I heard a crash, boom and scream from behind the fishpond wall and no longer saw her hanging stuff up. I quickly hurried to make sure she was ok, trying not to laugh. She stood there examining her aches and pains when we realized that she had ripped the crotch of her pants completely from front to back. Laughing, we rushed out of Kayhi so that Erika could change her very ripped jeans and returned to the pond, thankfully receiving Mitch's much needed help. -Molly Keene

I remember some friends and I were canoeing out at Ward Lake when there was still ice on half the lake. We flipped the canoe and had to swim to the other canoe. It was flippen cold! -Eli Murph

On a trip to Juneau for a debate meet, Kyleen and I were housed with a young, chubby, overly excited freshman. When we entered the house, we walked into a filth infested, dirty, smelly, stinky, small house, where we were expected to stay two nights. Just move the furniture and you can pull out the sofa bed was all the parents told us. Only problem was the floor was covered in dirt, mud, dog poop and rat traps. Then we tried the sofa bed, only to find an enormous amount of sand, dirt, dead leaves and dirty underwear inside. At this point I was in tears, so we called a cab and went to the hotel Kyleen's mom was at. The next day we told them we got sick and wanted our mommies...and maybe they should clean their house. -Brittany Auger & Kyleen Luhrs

This summer out at Whitney's cabin we had a little get-together. That night while lighting off fireworks, everyone began to go outside. Since Anica was the last one out we had assumed she left the door open. After the amazing fireworks show we headed inside, only to find that the door had never been UNLOCKED! While everyone was freaking about being locked outside, Loren very calmly whipped out his ATM card and managed to get the door open. Since that day we've wondered how he's obtained those skills. -Loren Carson

Last summer I was at Raychaell's house hanging out with Daniel and we decided we were bored so we drove up to see Jacob. It was bad enough that Daniel backed up Jacob's driveway goin' 40, but when we knocked on Jacob's door he was in pajama's and barefoot. His brother walked up behind him and pushed him out, then he was locked out. So we watched Jacob run around lookin' ridiculous trying to get back in his house..It was great! -Taushia Hohorst

Brian Lindgren and I decided to take the black powder from .22 rounds and put it in a tin can. We lit a seal bomb, threw it in the can and chucked it into Whipple Creek. After a few minutes we thought it went out. Upset, we started again, when suddenly we heard what sounded like a howitzer as half the creek shot up to the sky. We booked it up a hill into a house and never looked back. -Chris Kinney

I went to Europe on the Spring Break trip. In Athens, I roomed with Jessie and Molly. Jessie and I were playing around in the hotel room, jumping on the beds, and then all of a sudden we got into a pillow fight. How or why, I'm still not sure, but by the time we started getting into the heat of things...BAM! The next thing I knew Jessie had slipped between our beds that we pushed together and was stuck. I couldn't stop laughing because she was stuck. Molly came in and asked what had happened. By then I had rescued Jessie from the clutches of the Boogie Monster and we kept laughing. -Abby Ahnyong

Visiting

I'm Chu from Taiwan. I think the most interesting part of my life is being in Ketchikan! When I knew my exchange country was America, I was so excited. When I knew I would go to Alaska, I was nervous and was scared about coming to Ketchikan--because I didn't know anything or anyone! But now, Ketchikan is just like my home town! Although the temperature is so cold, I still feel people's warmth. Although the weather is always rainy, when I see everybody smile, I feel sunshine. Everyone is very nice and friendly. Every tree in Ketchikan is calling my name; the ocean, the mountains, and the fish, too, want to be my friends. It's very hard to explain how awesome it is! Although I have seen snow before, it is very beautiful in Ketchikan, and I'm still so happy I can see that much snow here. I'm so glad that I can be an exchange student, I'm also glad that I came to Ketchikan. My English is much better than before. Because everybody is my teacher, I can learn more and practice more. I just want to say "I love Ketchikan! Thanks everybody!"

-Chu Peng-Chik

I'm Tamas Denke, and I'm from Hungary. I want to be a mechanical engineer and maybe do some computer programming in the future. I'm glad I could choose classes to get closer to my aims, and so far, I'm enjoying the exchange. However I am in a small town--compared to my hometown, Budapest--I don't have any problems, except I dearly miss public transportation. However, now I can relax a bit after 16 years in Budapest, the capital of Hungary. And I love to live here...however the rain also exists. I've found friends quickly, or maybe they've found me, but never mind, I have good friends here. And I'm so amazed that I'm busier than at home! I have something to do, so I won't be bored during this year, hopefully. Finally, a thousand thanks to my friends and to my teachers for their help and kindness, and much more to the Rotary for bringing me here for a year.

-Tamas Denke

Hi! I'm Liana. I'm from Bucheon, South Korea. Honestly, when I knew I'd come to Alaska, I was so surprised, and my family and friends imagined igloos, icebergs, polar bears, and many other things like these! -- And even I didn't know Ketchikan is on an island before I came here! Anyway, so these things were such a surprise for me. However, my exchange year in Ketchikan has been so fun! I love to adapt myself to new circumstances. I'm really thankful for this opportunity. When I was in Korea, I just studied every day so I can go to a good university. So, playing volleyball was really a new experience for my life. And that was so fun, too! I love volleyball! My departure date is June 18th. In some ways I don't want to go back to Korea, because I'll miss you guys!

The 07-08 school year has been the best in my life! Lianat.p@hotmail.com

- Hyun-Young Kim [Liana]

To be an exchange student is not easy and not always happy. There are a lot of feelings that I have never experienced before. To speak in a different language and live among people who are always speaking it has been really hard, especially since our cultures are so different. However, it's really fun to be here in Ketchikan with all of you. The best thing is absolutely volleyball! Awesome players on the team became my first friends in Ketchikan. They are the best. Thank you for your patience (trying to help me understand). And also thanks to my good Asian friends that I always hang out with, many seniors, friends from T.A.G., teachers, and everyone that helps me, thank you so much!!! This year will be in my memory forever.

And If I have time, I'll have to come back again!!

-Chutimon Nimfuk [Gam]

Returning & Leaving

Exchange

I had an awesome year in Thailand. I lived right in the middle of Bangkok and grew to love the life of a big city. My host family over there was awesome and let me explore the country and surrounding areas. I worked in orphanages in the north, studied Buddhism, became a masseuse, learned to fire dance, worked with injured elephants, and met people from all over the world. Being an exchange student taught me so much and opened my eyes to the world. Thailand was, hands down, the best adventure I have yet to take.

-Molly Keene

Ciao Hola Bonjour Hola Ciao

Courtesy of Ketchikan Public Library and Ketchikan Museums

Being an exchange student was an experience of a lifetime. Being gone for ten months in a completely different culture away from all my friends and family was a very eye opening. Being in France gave me opportunities that can't be found in Ketchikan; for example, I joined the local rugby club and took golf lessons. I got to go skiing in the French Alps, and I was also able to visit many other countries throughout Europe. The question I get asked most often about my exchange is what I miss most about France and my answer is by far the French cuisine. Going to France for a year was a life changing experience and I wouldn't trade that year for anything.

AASG

Alaska Association of Student Government

2007 Winter AASG delegates included: Patrick Doherty, Kalli Kline, Kyleen Luhrs, Cameron Mackey, Karen, Manabat, Ali Montecillo, Bryce Timm, and Patrick Troll.

AASG meets twice each school year (winter and spring), and the winter meet was held at East Anchorage High. While there, the delegates wrote up resolutions to change rules with the intent to help make school, or even our nation a better place. AASG strengthens school governments by training student leaders. The students attend many presentations and participate in workshops. This year was a huge success and resulted in Ms. Roppel being elected as President of Advisors and Junior Kalli Kline was elected as the Secretary of the State Student Government.

KAYHI TALENT

Kayhi held its first ever Pre-Holiday Talent Show! Individual students, teachers, Choir, Bands, and Drama dazzled the audience! More talent was displayed at Poetry-Out-Loud and the annual Wearable Arts Show!

A return to years past, SBA sponsored a school-wide bonfire on the field! Proceeds were used to purchase the couch!

Tyler
I said a prayer for you today.....

*I said a prayer for you today and know God must have heard. I felt the answer in my heart although He spoke no word. I didn't ask for wealth or fame. I knew you wouldn't mind. I asked Him to send treasures of a far more lasting kind. I asked that he be near you at the start of each new day,
to grant you health and blessings and friends to share your way. I asked for happiness for you in all things great and small, but it was for His loving care I prayed the most of all.*
