Foreword

We, the staff of the Kayhi annual for 1957, present this book hoping it expresses the idea of progress and shows the role our school has played in preparing us to take our place in the ever onward flow of life.

To often we accept our education with indifference or realize only it's superficial values. We hope this annual enables you to gain a truer perspective of the formative part your high school life had in preparing you for your tasks as a citizen of a progressing community, a progressing territory, a progressing nation.

Dedication

John
"Scotty"
Smith

DEDICATION

We, the annual staff of 1957, sincerely dedicate this book to Scotty Smith because of his spirit of cheerfulness and his light touch of humor with which he makes our troubles seem less catastrophic.

For the past eight years Scotty has been the personification of school spirit to the students of Kayhi. His ready smile and friendly wit have encouraged us and lifted our spirits when the world looked black and we felt as though we didn't have a friend in the world. He has been most understanding of our problems and always our staunchest supporter.

We dedicate this annual in gratitude to a friend of our high school years, in appreciation of service beyond duty to the high school and the students.

J. E. Danielson, Superintendent of Schools

Superintendent

No one knows better than J. E. Danielson the importance of keeping abreast of the times, the value of anticipating the direction of the flow or progress and preparing for it.

Many years ago Mr. Danielson recognized the future need for a new high school building and started working for it.

Now we have had that building for two years, and still he continues to plan for the hundreds more students who will pass through the school in the years to come.

We can thank Mr. Danielson not only for dreaming, planning and working these past years to give us the new school but for continuing his efforts to create better educational opportunities at Kayhi even after his dream of a new high school building has been a realization for two years.

Superintendent's Message

Alexander Pope once wrote: "'Tis education forms the common mind, just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined."

Although much of the child's training is gained in the home and outside the classroom, the school does have an important part in forming "the common mind." In addition to providing instruction in the basic fields of learning and in character training, it must also prepare the student for community life. How he lives, acts, and responds to those with whom he associates will not only affect his personal happiness but will also determine the contribution he will make toward the general betterment of society. The Ketchikan schools have striven conscientiously for the attainment of these goals and it is sincerely hoped that its efforts will bear fruit in the future lives of its students.

Message from the Principal

The ensuing pages are a record of Kayhi's past school year. These activities and events have an important place in the growth and development of each student.

Those who worked in Kayhi not only contributed to the school life but developed work habits and social attitudes which in turn will be evident in their adult life as citizens of their community.

Vice-Principal

Cle L. Montgomery, vice-principal

No progress can be made without co-ordination and leadership. The principal's office exists for this sole purpose, to co-ordinate and lead, to guide us in our high school life so that each individual may reap from his high school years, the maximum benefit to himself with a minimum of work for others.

Miss Elsie Stouffer as principal, handles the scheduling of classes, directs activities, files official reports, keeps records and advises on problems of schedules, college programs, community use of building, rentals.

Cle L. Montgomery, vice-principal, advises on attendance, infractions of regulations, suspensions, custodial services, orders books and supplies and supervises the cafeteria.

Mrs. Robert Bushre, the secretary has many responsibilities, the greatest of which as far as students are concerned is supervision of activity funds and payment of bills.

The high school Parent-Teachers work with the administration for the best of interests of the school.

Officers of P-TA

Mrs. Edwin Meader, treasurer; Mrs. Jim Comiskey, secretary; Mrs. L. A. Storm, president.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Sund Serving Food

Cafeteria

By far, the most popular place in the school around noon is the cafeteria. The cooks, Mrs. Harold Miller and Mrs. Arthur Sund, each day prepare a lunch designed to be high in nutritional value as well as delicious and appealing. Since some of the food is government surplus, the cooks must follow meal plans which the government provides. Students pay 35c for each meal which partly defrays expenses.

Students help in the work during the three lunch periods and receive a free lunch for the work.

Custodians

The custodians, headed by Frank Clark, are the men and women responsible for keeping the school looking new and clean. They work in three shifts with one man on each shift, so there is a custodian here almost around the clock.

After school is dismissed three women come to help with the cleaning.

School Bus Drivers

Bus Drivers

The people who deal most with the students, besides the teachers, are the school bus drivers. Each day these drivers, working for Northern Bus Company, pick up the students from as far north as 16 miles and as far south as 9 miles. And each day after school they are waiting patiently at the rear entrance to take them home again.

Senior History

Here we are, not ending but just beginning our long road of life. The past four years have been the first steps in accepting responsibility and leadership.

Our first year we entrusted Laddie Taylor as president with the responsibility of leading the class through our first rough year. Behind him working for the same purpose were Pete Ruaro, vice-president, Audrey Stump, secretary, Judy Raines, treasurer and Bill Fredrickson, sergeant at arms. Under the careful guidance of Miss Bess Wood, Miss Ethel Evans and Douglas Davies, we were beginning to cast off our grade school cocoon and try out our new high school wings.

The main event of our freshman year was the freshman frolic October 23. We transformed the "old gym" to represent "Halloween in Space". Everyone in the class helped with the committees and a successful dance, financially and socially, was the result.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

With the experience of our first year behind us we started our second year more eager and ambitious than before.

Guiding us along our second year were Mr. and Mrs. Irven Wengert. We chose as our officers this year, Pete Ruaro, president, Kay Benson, secretary, Judy Lovely, treasurer, Allen Johnson, sergeant at arms, and Maxine Munter S.B.A. representative.

Our Sophomore Hop started the year off with a big bang. It was tolo, as usual, so the boys got off easy. Our theme was "Sadie Hawkins Day" and we had life sized drawings of Lil' Abner, all his family and friends, drawn by Wayne McMurchie for decorations. Audrey Stump represented the class this year on the pep squad as song leader, Kay Benson as treasurer of Debate Club and George Selig was judged one of the best affirmatives at the Tri-city debate in Petersburg.

Daniel Shafland and Jim Miller as treasurer and president of band, Ed Marshall and Carl Corbin on the varsity squad gave our class a good representation on two of the major activities of the high school.

This ended our last year in "Old Kayhi" at Main School. We were sad to leave the building full of memories in which we had started our exciting experience of high school, but we were looking forward to different and better things in the new Kayhi building.

THE JUNIOR YEAR

At last we were upper classmen. This year we selected as our class officers: Ed Marshall, president; Kay Benson, treasurer; Jeanne Traversy, secretary; George Selig, sergeant at arms; and Judy Lovely and Arne Bue, S.B.A. representatives. Miss Mildred Gelston was adviser. This year we won the Southeast and All-Alaska basketball championships. Four of the first seven members of the All-Alaska team were from our class, Bob Thomas, Carl Corbin, Ed Marshall and Jerry Wood. George Selig was assistant manager of the team.

Senior History

Cheerleaders Audrey Stump and Diane Clark represented the class on the Pep squad, Karen Coy represented the class as majorette. Kay Benson was candidate for Queen of the Yearbook, Daniel Shafland was co-editor of the annual for '56 and Jim Miller won first place in the local American Legion Oratorical contest. George Selig, Bob Kinerk, Maxine Munter, Laddie Taylor and Jim Miller represented the class on the debate squad. Carol Haws and Penny Vander Weyst were elected to membership in Quill and Scroll.

MEMBERS IN COUNCIL

In an election by the whole student body in the spring of '56 George Selig was elected Student Body president for the senior year, Laddie Taylor was elected vice-president; Kay Benson, secretary, and Karen Coy, treasurer. Carl Corbin as sergeant at arms brought class membership on the council officers to five out of five.

We ended the year by honoring the seniors with our Junior Prom. 'Kini Pupu', which means big ball, was the theme and was carried out in Hawaiian decorations.

So our third year came to its end. With only one more year to spend in high school, our wish to make it the biggest and best yet is understandable and commendable.

THE SENIOR YEAR

With that hope in mind we started out on our last year, looking forward to and yet regretting the coming day of graduation.

Our class officers this year are Allen Johnson, president, Bob Kinerk, vice-president, Jeanne Traversy, treasurer, Carol Haws, secretary, Bob Thomas, sergeant at arms and S.B.A. representatives Daniel Shafland, Karen Synnestvedt and Ed Marshall. Miss Janet Zoll and Patrick Brunelle are our advisers.

Bob Kinerk is president of debate and is also the fire chief. Maxine Munter is assistant fire chief, Allen Johnson, Bob Thomas, Elise Medlin, Elaine McKay, Sheila Bucey, Laddie Taylor, Jerry Rollog, Jim Miller and Carl Corbin are on the fire squad.

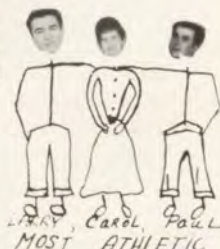

Carol Haws was chosen by the senior class as candidate for Queen of the yearbook. Kay Benson won the All-Alaska oratorical contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and was awarded a $1000 scholarship to the University of Alaska and a trip to Washington D.C. Al Johnson and Carol Haws were chosen Best Mixers in the annual school-wide popularity contest. Nine out of the ten debaters going to Petersburg this year are seniors. Three of the first five on the varsity basketball team are seniors, Carl Corbin, captain, Bob Thomas and Jerry Wood.

Our greatest desire on ending our high school years is that this picture of our full and rewarding high school life may be a preview of the life we are to have after graduation.

Junior Class

The class of "58" has worked hard this year to have a good time and raise funds under the capable guidance of our tireless officers and advisor.

The year started with the Junior Jinx, strictly a money making proposition.

"Elmer and the Lovebug," a one act play, starring John Huff as Elmer, plus variety acts provided a hilarious hour of entertainment for the whole school on April 9. Seventh and eighth graders were included in the variety acts and received a percentage of the profits.

We worked hard to provide the pleasant atmosphere of a "Japanese Garden" at the Junior Prom, and had a good time doing it. Upperclassmen and their dates were invited, and the seniors were guests of honor.

Junior class rings this year were the first to have Kayhi's crest on them. The class voted to have the crest set on a black stone.

The class of "58" was represented in most school activities, and is especially proud of its five basketball squad member.

The Sophomore Hop was a success both financially and socially. The theme of the dance was "Snowmans Holiday". A false ceiling was made of Crepe paper and decorated with balloons. Two false walls were made of pulp, and trees and boughs decorated the other two.

Pat Selfridge and Marie Nergaard were nominated as Mr. and Miss Snowman. Earl Cooper was master-of-ceremonies and John Young played the part of Frosty, the Snowman. Miss Lolisa Waddell was presented a birthday gift. Some of the Sophomore girls sang "Frosty the Snowman" and George Wilson played the guitar.

The Student Council, made up of Student Body Association officers, class presidents, and representatives and the yell leader is the co-ordinating group between students and the administration.

Beginning with the first of the year when they acted as a welcome committee for new students, they have been busy with projects for the school.

They set up the Board of Control a plan of auditorium supervised by members of that body. For this purpose they completed a seating chart for assemblies.

The campus committee watches that the grounds are kept in neat order.

The council adopted a school crest that appears in this book for the first time and purchased a net to make a false ceiling in the multi-service room for dance decorating.

George Selig, president, has been known for his friendly greeting to everyone in the corridors, especially to new or visiting students.

Laddie Taylor, vice-president; has been responsible for housing for visiting teams.

Board of Control

A plan for a board of control was drawn up by the S. B. A. council and approved by the administration. The plan provides for four officers headed by the SBA Sergeant at Arms, and four jurors, to be selected one from each class each time the board meets.

Besides the SBA Sergeant at Arms as president, the officers of the Board shall be, one student selected by the faculty, one selected by the students in a popular election, and one selected by the SBA Council.

The board is set up to deal at first only with infractions of assembly conduct rules; but if it proves successful in this, its jurisdiction will be expanded.

Qualifications for membership are the same as those of SBA officers.

The success or failure of the Board of Control depends on the respect the students have for it.

Fire Squad

Main purpose of the fire squad is to make certain the building is evacuated quickly and safely in case of a fire. To achieve this the squad works out the exit plan and conducts the fire drills. These drills are always as much a surprise to the squad as they are to the rest of the students.

A new record for evacuating the building was set this year, one minute and ten seconds.

Since the building is supposed to be fire-proof, the drills are called evacuation drills for clearing the building in any emergency.

Press Club members included elected home room reporters, class presidents, and journalism students.

Home room reporters distributed the issues of the Kayhitems to the student body and wrote stories of humorous and educational value for the paper.

Class presidents and journalism students helped with the work on the annual much of the time seeing that the photography was complete and stories written for the annual.

They also wrote stories about school activities which were published in the paper.

Since the Kayhitem's first issue in 1923, a true reflection of the Kayhi student body life has been published year in and year out until the present day of 1957. The high school paper recorded school events, forwarded educational information and entertained all through its feature pages, editorials and humor columns.

This group as the name implies renders service to Kayhi. One unit known as projectionists operated the audio-visual equipment when necessary.

Another unit, the color guard, uniformed in gray slacks and white sweaters, present the flags of the U.S.A. and Alaska at school basketball games.

The last unit, the ushers, perform their service during all home games aiding in seating, moving equipment, supervising the halls and of course distributing programs.

Photography Club

Photography Club is just an infant organization that started this year. The primary purpose of this organization is the appreciation of taking and making good pictures. Their goal in photography is to be able to send a photographer to every activity in which Kayhi participates whether at home or at another school.

This year they have taken individual pictures and group pictures for the annual. So far they have used the equipment belonging to their adviser, Bert Kimura, but they hope to own their own as soon as they can afford it.

Librarians

During the 1956-57 school year the Kayhi library was reorganized to provide a library area separate from the study hall. This arrangement enabled students in rooms outside the study hall to make greater use of the library. A new set of the Encyclopedia Britannia was added to the reference collection. Many new books were added to the library's collection. Some of these were designed for the 7th and 8th grade students who also use the Kayhi library. There were 8 student librarians who assisted with the work of the library. First semester Mrs. Reeves worked part time in the library.

Office Help

Students who work in the office find there is never a dull moment. Every girl alphabetizes material, sorts and arranges classifications cards, answers the phone and runs errands for the office secretary, Mrs. Bob Bushre, and the principal, Miss Elise Stouffer.

The office girl's efficiency and dependability at getting a job done help keep the office running as an organized unit.

The office help includes Karen Synnstedt, first and second hour; Gail Turley, third hour; Aleita Victorson, fourth hour; Sylvia McClure, fifth hour; Audrey Stump, sixth hour; Vona Traylor, seventh hour; Joanne Auger, eighth hour; and Jeanne Traversy.

Under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Caspar Future Homemakers of America completed the plan of their organizer Mrs. Ray Bassett when they affiliated with the National in January. Their project was the selling of waterproof bookcovers with the school pledge on the back. They also prepared the dinner of the junior girls given by the Soroptimist Club.

The installation and initiation for the girls was November 13. A mother-daughter banquet was held before the installation and initiation.

At the annual tap assembly held in November, twenty candidates were tapped. Of this number eighteen were initiated into membership at the banquet held in January.

Latin Club

A week of initiation of new members climaxed by a banquet for the old members started off the year for the Latin Club. New members were auctioned off as slaves to the old members—the money going into the club treasury. After a week of doing their masters' bidding, the slaves prepared a banquet for the whole club and received their freedom.

At Christmas time the club held a Christmas party with Roman overtones.

Since the former slaves have progressed to patrician ranks, their former masters, unwilling to accept a position of equality, are now in the process of having their own rank raised to that of gods.

Club membership is open to all those who have had two years of Latin or are taking Latin.

After spending most of the year arguing with Petersburg and Juneau on a topic for the tri-city debate, the Kayhi debate club finally settled on the question: "Resolved: that the exportation of uncut Alaska logs should be legalized with no restrictions as to destination."

The affirmative team going to Petersburg were Laddie Taylor and Kay Benson, George Selig and Bob Kinerk.

The negative teams were James Miller and Maxine Munter, Elise Medlin, and Kathy Kyte. Gail Meader went as alternate.

The club held a "Hello" dance at the beginning of school and also sold concessions at one of the basketball games to raise money for the trip.

The Varsity Drag was a huge success. Decorated with red and white socks, pennants, and suitcases for the Kayhi team. Black and white for the Juneau team. Round cakes decorated as basketballs spelling Juneau and Kayhi.

Points were given for outside activities such as: roller skating, hiking, swimming, and a badminton tournament was held in the spring.

The drill team was directed by Karen Synnestvedt, captain; and Beverly Nelson, co-captain. The drill team wore dark skirts, white blouses, and maroon school sweaters. The drill team did Alaska's Flag with Blue and Gold flashlights and a group of girls sang "Alaska's Flag."

Christmas Vespers directed by Mrs. Irven Wengert was one of the best presented in years. Tableau scenes, narration and Christmas readings helped to carry out the mood of the season.

During the second semester both music groups were under the direction of Louis Vacca.

Money was earned from a chili feed, amateur contest, concessions at basketball games and a World's Finest Chocolate bar selling project.

Kayhi Kings 1956-57

The Kayhi Kings flew to Prince Rupert for their first international basketball series with the local high school, the Rainmakers on November 29,30. Kayhi took both games with a score of 43 to 29 and 53 to 47.

Two weeks later the Rainmakers packed their suitcases and headed for Ketchikan to play a two game series here. The Kings defeated the Rainmakers again with the scores of 56 to 35 and 45 to 31.

The Mt. Edgecumbe Braves came down January 3 and 4 to play a two game series. The Kings and the Braves were a good match in Southeastern Alaska. The Kings were nosed out of the first game with a score of 36 to 30. The second game with the Braves was a thriller with Kayhi losing by one point 45 to 46. A week later, on January 11 and 12, the Kings were guests of the Sitka Wolves. Sitka beat the Kings 68 to 28 and 51 to 46.

When January 18 and 19 came along, the Kings were in Petersburg and lost the first game 46 to 41 in an overtime play, and the second game came back to defeat the Petersburg Vikings 46 to 28.

The Kings left January 24 to play the Mt. Edgecumbe Braves there, January 25 and 26. The Braves took both games with the scores 38 to 66 and 42 to 51. The Kings arrived home and the next day began preparing themselves for the battle at Juneau, January 31 and February 1. Juneau took both games with scores the first night of 30 and 46 and following night 29 to 61.

On February 7 and 8 Sitka flew here. Sitka Wolves won both games 29 to 55 and 61 to 35.

The Wrangell Wolves dropped in on the Kings on February 14 and 15 to play a two game series, in which Kayhi won both games. The Kings scored 59 to the Wolves 35, and the second night did about the same by taking them 61 to 38.

On February 28 and March 1, the Kings defeated Juneau twice here.

On March 7,8, and 9 the Southeastern Alaska Championship Basketball games were held in Sitka. The Kings started off by playing one of the best games of the tournament and defeated Shelton Jackson 53 to 51. The second game the Kings played was with Juneau, in which Juneau took the Kings 56 to 47. The next morning the Kings came out on the floor and defeated Petersburg Vikings 58 to 54. That same night the Kings played Shelton Jackson Warriors for third place in the tournament. Juneau defeated the Sitka Wolves to win first place in the Championship Tournament.

K Club

K Club is composed of all students who in some way have earned a letter for work done in high school. In sports, particularly basketball, a person to qualify for a letter must play in half as many quarters as the total number of games the team played.

In track the person must place first, second or third in his event to earn a letter.

Pep leaders are automatically members of K-Club.

Most Inspirational Player

Carl Corbin was elected the Most Inspirational player of the basketball season for 1956-57. His name will be inscribed on the Most Inspirational Player trophy displayed in the athletic showcase.

Queen of the Yearbook

After a heated campaign of yearbook sales, Marie Nergaard was named Queen of the Yearbook. Each class elected a candidate then sold annuals to anyone in high school who would purchase.

The winner was determined by the number of annuals sold.

All four candidates and their friends worked hard, and the results were not evident until the final receipt was counted.

Best Mixers

Allen Johnson, Carol Haws

The ability to get along pleasantly with people is the prime factor in determining the Best Mixers. A popularity contest of the journalism department. Other factors are friendliness and tact. Appreciation of these qualities in Carol Haws and Allen Johnson prompted the student body to select them as Best Mixers this year.

Carol and Allen were presented with spoons placed in wooden bowls mounted on wooden stands. The trophies were made by George Wilson and Gary Witham.

Star Reporters

Carol Haws, Arne Bue, and Daniel Shafland were chosen star reporters for 1957. These students were most prompt in submitting news for the paper, most diligent in their journalism work and most persistent in their labors to get the annual out in time for distribution before the end of the school year.

Carol Haws was in journalism last year and is editor of the annual this year. Arne Bue is editor of the paper this year. Daniel Shafland was in journalism in his Sophomore year, editor of the annual last year, and is working on the photography for the annual this year.

The editors, the class, and the advisor felt these people deserved, most of all, to be rewarded for their work.

What Happened This Year

By Kay Benson

News of International Importance

Our starting school here was a minor incident when compared with events that were happening around the globe.

Egypt took over full operation of the Suez Canal September 14 after more than 90 foreign and some 400 other Non-Egyptian employees quit their posts on the water front.

The United Nations voted to take up Hungary's plight.

President Eisenhower and vice-president Richard Nixon were re-elected November 6 by a landslide vote. The democrats retained control of both houses. The Eisenhower-Nixon ticket had a plurality of well over nine million in popular vote.

The United Nations General Assembly voted to establish the first International Police Force and United Nations Emergency Force to secure and supervise a cease-fire in the Middle East.

The summer ended with one of the most notable marine disasters of years when the Italian liner Andrea Doria and the Swedish motorship Stockholm collided in a fog off Cape Cod, Mass.

The world mourned the death of Magsayay, president of the Philippines.

United States Headlines

A medical victory could be seen when it was announced that no child who had received the full complement of three Salk vaccine shots had died of polio in 1956.

On the sports scene Don Larsen, pitcher of the New York Yankees pitched the first no-hit, no-run game in World Series history. The Yankees went on to win the world championship.

The United States opened the way to Hungarian refugees when President Eisenhower offered a haven here to refugees from the Hungarian revolution.

The Labor department reported that its consumer price index had reached a record high mark. Earnings were reported that its consumer price index had reached a record high also.

The real-life princess Grace Kelly gave birth to a baby girl. Because of this heir to the throne, Monaco will remain free and independent.

In Alaska

The democrats scored a sweeping victory in Alaska's general elections. They re-elected E. L. Bartlett to his seventh term as a non-voting delegate to Congress. With the resignation of Gov. B. Frank Heintzelman, political leaders of the Territory made recommendations for his successor. The governor of Alaska is appointed by the President.

Statehood is still an issue. A movement for Commonwealth status as opposed to statehood was being promoted this spring.

On the Local Scene

It appears that Ketchikan will not have the only pulp mill, for plans for a mill at Sitka are progressing.

Ketchikan is still working on street improvements.

Many took chances on the Nenana ice break-up but as this annual goes to press the tripod which stops the clock when the ice goes out has not moved.

Graduates of Kayhi

The following list of Ketchikan High School graduates is as nearly accurate as it was possible to make it this year. Some of the older records at school are incomplete. The staff compiled this list from school records and newspaper stories. Names were printed in KAYHITEMS with a request for corrections. The staff will appreciate corrections to this list so that future publications will be accurate.

Help show our appreciation
by patronizing
our advertisers.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

DEAR FRIENDS:

One of the major assets of the high school annual is co-operation. Co-operation between the editors and adviser on a story, or between the merchant and student for advertising in the annual.

Money, too, is an invaluable asset. One-fifth of the cost of the annual if paid by organizations for their pages in the yearbook, but most of the money is obtained from advertising space taken by Ketchikan merchants and industries that give us continued support.

So to the merchants, local photographers, high school students and faculty go the sincere thanks and deep appreciation of the staff for your part in making this annual possible.

Sincerely,
THE STAFF OF THE KAYHI '57
