We pledge allegiance to dear old Kayhi,
So give us power to keep her true colors high.
Push on to greater glory
So that her honor may never die.
Then sing a song to Kayhi,
We bring honor unto her name.
High her colors waving.
Every banner will tell her fame.
Maroon and White are fighting
To bring home the Victory.
We pledge our hearts to Kayhi
And forever our loyalty.

WE, THE STAFF OF

WILLIWAW 2000

PRESENT THIS BOOK TO OUR FELLOW STUDENTS WITH THE HOPE THAT IT WILL BRING BACK HAPPY MEMORIES WHENEVER THEY OPEN ITS COVERS.

THIS BOOK CONTAINS A RECORD OF ACTIVITIES AND THE FACES THAT FREQUENTED THE HALLWAYS

REGARD THIS BOOK AS A SOUVENIR OF YOUR LIFE IN KAYHI DURING 1999 ~ 2000.

Youth to Youth Drug-Free Conference. Seniors Heidi Weimer, a friend from Nome, Tennille Walker, and Lindsay Hofstedt enjoy the hot July sun in California at the drug-free conference.

1999 yearbook camp girls! Junior Lizzy Peters, senior Tracy Day, junior Chelsey Richardson, yearbook adviser Mrs. Troina, and senior Melissa Leary in front of the Mission Valley Mall in San Diego, California. They attended a 4 day camp at the University of San Diego. They spent many long days planning this year's yearbook. In their free time they went to the San Diego Zoo, went shopping at the mall, and went and saw Deep Blue Sea, and Lake Placid. They had a lot of fun staying at the Holiday Inn where on the first day they got free dinner because they had to wait three hours for their rooms to be ready. They also went to the beach and watched the surfers and, altogether, had a really great time and learned a lot. They suggest that more student join yearbook so they can experience the fun of next year's camp.

Summer Quotes

"I spent my whole summer in Kotzebue visiting my mom. I also went to Mexico."

-Senior Aftan Lynch

"I went to Beaumont, Texas to play in the Fast Pitch National Tournament on the Allstate Team."

-Junior Aleisha Filyaw

"Next summer I'm going to Macedonia and it will be lots of fun."

-Junior Lindy Zhuta

Summer Fun 5
Travis Schenck quotes, “It was a fun time except the fact that the weather didn’t go well with the theme. I had the most fun when we were in the tunnel jumping around. I thought we would break through the other side with a big bang, but we died down.”

Throw your hands in the air! Steven Elliot raising the roof along with other Class of 2000 Seniors Nathan Hatfield-Evans, Devin Hopson, Donald Alderman, Chris Corrao, Tim Volpi, Andrew Girt, Joe Nall, Riannon Maynard, Afton Lynch, and Tennille Walker.

Aren’t they so cute! Tim Volpi, Andrew Girt, Melissa Leary, Jon Erickson, Becca Neilson, Angela Pfeiffer, Tennille Walker, and Lindsay Hofstedt smile for the camera that is coming from the street, capturing a moment before the parade starts to move through the crowded town of Ketchikan.

6 Senior Float
The coffee made the cold, supposed summer day any warmer. Ethan Berto, Tom Byron, Jodi Williams, Mike Reifolf, Becca Neilson, Katie Hustead, Shannon Klo Xin and Margaret Roth all huddle up to keep warm.

Rolling through the streets of K-Town, the class of 2000 shows off all they've got (which is a lot) to the judges of the parade. Walking beside the float is one of the chaperones the senior float was required to have.

Rolling through the streets of K-Town, the class of 2000 shows off all they've got (which is a lot) to the judges of the parade. Walking beside the float is one of the chaperones the senior float was required to have.

The millennium class of 2000 had all the new things: the backwards parade, safety guards chaperoning the float, and even the restrictions of not being able to continue on with the tradition of the waterfights and initiating incoming freshman. We still had our own fun: being with our friends, and enjoying the nice sparkling apple cider that we sprayed all over ourselves.

Aaron Thweatt is a little dazed and confused on the Senior Float.

Andrew Girl had one too many leis; maybe that's why the smile is so big!

Tracy Brown quotes, "Last year's seniors could get us, but we couldn't do anything to stop it. We couldn't even get the upcoming freshmen."

Three good friends getting ready to get on their Senior Float. They've been waiting since their freshman year to share this memory: Sami Bass, Cathy Norris, and Jenny Rosendin.

Seniors Amanda Hicks, Melinda Schoening, Katie Hustead, April Arland, and Kristen Carlile all show off in their Hawaiian leis and the double 00 on their faces, telling the upcoming freshman they'd better watch out and be nice.
Evolution of a Locker: While a locker doesn’t take over a million years to decorate—it does have definite stages. From empty, to barely decorated, to nicely colorful, and finally it ends up an advanced specimen of creativity.

Senior Renee Woodruff shares her traumatic freshman locker experience. “I had to have the lower locker. The person above me always dropped stuff on my head. I narrowly escaped death by a biology book once.”

“I keep lots of stuff in my locker. I have books, shoes, everything. It’s like a small room.” Quips sophomore Crystal Crane when asked what her locker holds.

“Never leave a banana in your locker for more than four days.” Senior Bob Allen imparts some upperclassman advice. Did he learn this the hard way?

“My half-sized locker attracted chicks, they would come up and say, ‘Hey, nice locker,’ to which I would reply, ‘I know’,” brags sophomore Seth Marrs.

Freshman Lauren Johnson points disgustedly toward her half-sized locker questioning the powers-that-be: “Do you REALLY expect me to fit all my stuff in this little space?!” Cheer up Lauren, it’s only for a year!

Junior Michelle Steward leans on her locker for support after an especially grueling session of vocabulary. Fellow junior Chelsea Pfeifer relaxes against her locker while smiling smugly over the ease of her assignments. Their friend, junior Janae Thomas, hurries to fill her bulging backpack and head home.

See if you can match up these beautiful faces with these beautiful lockers. Keep their personalities in mind while you match 1, 2, 3 to A, B, C! Sometimes just by looking at their environment you can tell what a person is like. Messy rooms and messy people, artistic lockers artistic people. Your personality is all you need to make something your own.

Junior Richard Harney takes a wide kick towards the goal and hopes one of his teammates will be there to boot it in if it were to fall short.

Senior Aaron Thweatt is looking pumped after spending one of the few nice days we have in Ketchikan skating it up. He used his day off wisely and kept himself entertained by trying to run over the silly tourists who think they can walk anywhere in the town. We all know what that’s like.
Using her head, sophomore Kristen Kuehl cringes as she does her best to head the ball to her fellow teammates. Junior William Stevenson and freshman Josh Robinson watch her in amazement.

What do you do in your spare time? Are you a couch potato, or do you get off your rear and take advantage of your youth and vitality?
Junior Lizzy Peters holds her dog Lily. Lily is a breed Chinese Pug. She is seven years old. Lily is extremely noisy and snores at night. She loves canteloupe.

Help! There's a bird on my head! Senior Riannon Maynard screams as Donald Munhoven's bird Yogi lands on her head. Luckily it didn't poop on her head like it does everybody else's. Watch out, Riannon: it likes to pick things out of noses and teeth!

MEOW! Senior Ethan Berto holding his cat. This cat looks very excited to be in Ethan's arms. See a resemblance? How CUTE!

Ms. Dorsey cuddles with her cute kitty, Stella. "May all your days be just like you, filled with warmth and love." -Stella's Motto

Sophie, figures out how to use the remote control. Sophie was a Rhodesian Ridgeback who passed away on September 3, 1999.

Junior Richud Harney has a pygmy albino hedgehog, her name is snowball. - Junior Richard Harney

Senior Carnival: The Party of the Millennium

Come party with these millennium girls! '90's rave girl Jodi Williams, '80's punk rocker Sami Bass, '70's hippy chick Jenny Rosendin, '60's go-go girl Riannon Maynard, '50's cutie Aftan Lynch, and '20's flapper Fe Villanueva look pretty fashionable as they show off the decades of the 20th century.

Below: "Anyone for some darts?" Melissa Morris, Jason Nichols, and Ryan Mortensen stay clear of any crazy punks who have a bad aim at the dart throw.

"You don’t want a piece of this!" Joe Nall gets ready to watch Officer Kurs fall into the dunk tank.

Nissa Cleman (above) gives a few helpful tips to 2nd grader Miles Munhoven before he throws down a few dollars for tickets at the plinko board.

LEFT: Never take a face painting from a stranger, especially a senior with a straw hat named Alexis Pahang. But hey, little Ortiz trusts him.

BELOW: “Cotton candy anyone?” These 3 girls of the class of '00 Tracy Day, Katy Parrott and Rayana White smile for the camera with some good looking cotton candy in each of their hands.

“Yale! You wanna play a hand or what? No gamblin’ till you’re 18!” Well, I guess we’ll let this slide. Steve Beedle deals to the players.

LEFT: “I think that I’m supposed to be working, but I’m not sure” Donald Munhoven, with wide eyes, looks a little confused as to what he should be doing during the Carnival.

RIGHT: You kids! Dena Conley (right) and Trevan Walker (left) do what they do best and lecture the kids to impose some of their infinite wisdom on them. These are two of the senior class advisors, and aren’t we glad that we have them.

A note from the editors,
We borrowed a few pieces of advice from Baz Luhrman and think they are worth remembering. We will dispense this information now.

- Wear sunscreen.
- Enjoy the power and beauty of your youth.
- Don’t worry about the future, or worry but know that worrying is about as effective as trying to solve an algebra equation by chewing bubble gum.
- Do one thing everyday that scares you.
- Floss.
- Remember compliments you receive—forget the insults.
- Stretch.
- Get plenty of calcium.
- Your choices are half chance, so are everyone else’s.
- Do not read beauty magazines, they will only make you feel ugly.
- Get to know your parents, you never know when they’ll be gone for good.
- Work hard to bridge the gaps in geography and lifestyle—the older you get the more you need the people you knew when you were young.

And now the section has ended
Our tale has all been told,
But read its pages often
For the memories they hold.

Our Kayhi days are finished
The end has finally come
But the future will only encourage
Our spirits as class of the next millennium.

The Faces of Success

The Faces of Success

Can you guess these faces?

Choices: Mr. Hughes, Mr. Mogen, Mr. Ortiz, Mr. Bolling, Mr. Bjur, Mrs. Tillotson, Mrs. Troina, Mrs. Hunt, Mr. Hamlin, Mrs. Karlik, and Mrs. Sande.

They've come a long way!
Juniors Jennifer Azure and sophomore Sarah Truitt take advantage of homework time during Algebra II by catching up on their out of class reading for English.

Junior Katie Corrao and Robert Garnick listen attentively to Ms. Dahle's fascinating lecture while sophomore Sarah Keene gets homework help from sophomore Chelsea Woodell. Sophomores Erika Van Slyke and Ian Roskam exchange gossip about what happened last hour while Heather Petrich listens half heartedly.

ABSTRACT FACES

Hey, Smithsonian! Make room next to the Picassos because Kayhi has some major artistic talent.

FACULTY FACES

It seems like two of Kayhi’s finest science teachers are quite possibly extraterrestrial entities! Chemistry teacher Mr. Dwyer looks seriously at the camera—wondering when his planet’s plan for the domination of Earth will finally be complete. Do you keep the keys to your spaceship in the pocket of your lab coat, Mr. Dwyer?

Mrs. Blankenship smiles sweetly when she thinks of the brightest science students she’s planning to abduct. Someone call Agents Mulder and Scully, . . . .
Michael Neterer puts her hand to work as she puts the final touches on this beautiful Japanese character. She adds a mark here and there to turn it into a beautiful piece of art.

Mrs. Kern is always happy to do anything that has to do with art, even the clean up!

Senior Katie Hopkins shows off her photographic talent in this touching rainy day photo. Some people, like Katie, have the ability to use a little black box and film to capture art - as it happens.

In these days of the new millennium a new art form is emerging - graphic art. Computer-savvy artist junior Liza Fisher created this image using a mouse instead of paint!

OUTSIDE THE

CLASSROOM

What could four wild and crazy teachers do if they had some spare time? Form a rock band, of course! What would this band be called? BALDY AND THE BEATS!! Baldy (Mr. Bjur) and his four faithful bandmates: Crockpot (Mr. Crockett), The Tillator (Mrs. Tillotson), Xsquared (Mr. Powell), and Quantum Man (Mr. Kralis) could have jam sessions in the auto shop garage and perform at pep assemblies. We even designed their first album cover (right). Rock on.

Juniors Loren Leonora and Lizzy Peters take time out during a very busy Staff Development to organize Lizzy’s locker.

Counselors Susan Dorsey and John Cote said, “Staff development lets teachers talk to other teachers that they don’t usually have a chance to talk with.”

Mr. Mogen says, “Staff Development is just in its infancy, and hopefully by next semester it will be on its feet doing what it was intended for.”
Mr. Maynard, Mr. Cote, Mr. Krali, Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Hughes, and Mr. Hamlin are just some of the teachers who attend the meeting.

Above: Seniors Tennille Walker and Aaron Thweatt use their time wisely to study for upcoming classes. While immature junior Mike Thompson writes love notes in senior Bocci Neilson's locker.

Above Left: Mr. Hamlin explained to us, "I'm looking forward to implementing a program, but now topics are not able to be discussed. I'd rather have all the periods everyday."

DID YOU KNOW?

About 30 different colleges are represented at college fair each year. This year a variety of Liberal Arts and Science colleges were here. Many of Kayhi’s students will start receiving packets in the mail soon from the colleges that they are interested in. This can be a good way to find out more about the universities or colleges to which they would like to apply.

The senior class and some straggling juniors participated in the college fair this year. Many people walked out with piles of information. Now comes the hard part: choosing where to go!

And the winners for tallest and shortest teachers are... petite Mr. Walker and giant Ms. Dahle!

Mr. Powell and Mrs. Zelensky are the most laid-back teachers this year.

Senior Joel Moore and the representative from Oregon State chat about the social scene down in the Lower 48.

Sherrell Scudero, and seniors Ethan Berto and Trygve Westergard fill out information requests to warm University of Hawaii. These guys have sunny beaches and surfing in mind. Senior Austin Chambers watches to make sure they fill out the forms correctly.

Superlatives

Wacky Mr. Hamlin and silly Mrs. Habberstad are the goofiest teachers of this century.

Stylish Mrs. Troina and groovin' Mr. Bolling pose with their fashion bud Austin Powers.

Java King and Queen, Mr. Kinonen and Mrs. Karlik show off their favorite mugs.
Sssshhh! If the teacher doesn’t hear us walk in, she’ll never notice! Junior Tara Miller and senior Tiffany Gillian sneak their way out of being tardy. Who’s going to tell them they won’t make it?

Here are juniors Carlie and Jennifer Parker, running to class because they will soon be tardy. Not knowing someone sees them, they laugh their way through the halls.

Junior Jamie Egner-Burns chuckles quietly as she slowly opens the door. Knowing she is tardy, she finds a way to make it funny.
Brian Wallin, a junior, looks around to make sure Mr. Pennington doesn’t see him run through the field to take the rest of the day off. Is it that easy to skip??

Senior Josh Wilson and sophomore Britney Fisher return from an hour of playing pool. Their guilty looks tell anyone who sees them that they just skipped.

Loren Leonora, a junior, quotes, “I had to run home during lunch because I forgot to bring my lunch to school. I totally lost track of the time so I was about ten minutes late for class. But I couldn’t help it. I was really hungry at the time. If only our lunch breaks were a little longer I probably wouldn’t have been late at all.”

Here’s Ginnie! Watch sophomore Ginnie Moriarty run...right out the high school doors to ditch her next class before anyone sees.

Ginnie runs!
We asked some of the students and staff members of Kayhi which teachers would have been most likely to win these awards when they were in high school. Here are the results...

Ms. Crockett won both Funniest Personality and the Biggest Slacker when he was in high school.

Ms. Dorsey's Most Embarrassing Moment of High School

"During my senior year I was president of the Latin Club. We decided it would be a good idea to have a Toga party/dance. Someone stepped on my toga -- it tore, and then fell off in front of everyone!"

Jakob Knudson, Elizabeth Hiscox, Tara Bolling and Jenny Rosendin.
Junior Elizabeth Hiscox from Broken Hill, Australia, poses with her best friend in their school uniforms. Elizabeth quotes, “There are always animals running around everywhere, kangaroos eating on your front lawn and lizards crawling on the road. When I found out I was going to Alaska I cried because most Australians think that Alaskans are Eskimo and live in igloos and they also think that Alaska isn’t a part of the United States. I was thinking more like California or Florida. Before I came here I had never seen snow and was happy to experience the ‘Real Alaska.’ I love Ketchikan because it is so different from home.”

Jakob Knudson is from the great country of Denmark. He is in Ketchikan for the 1999-2000 year. Since his arrival, Jakob has become greatly involved in the Kayhi Swim and Dive team. We hope he enjoys his stay in Alaska!

Juniors Angelina Martin and Taylor McDonald are the “Outbounds” for the 2000-2001 school year. Angelina started screaming and jumping up and down. She says she will miss her senior activities, but she is excited to experience a new world. “I am really excited to try new foods and I would like to go to Brazil to learn a new language. I started crying when I found out I was chosen for the exchange,” quoted Taylor.

Senior Tara Bolling spent the 1998-1999 year in New Zealand. “I had the experience of a lifetime. I made friends I will always have. While I was down under I enjoyed bungy jumping, bungy rocket, whitewater rafting, river surfing, jet boating, surfing, kneeboarding, water skiing, wake boarding and mountain biking. I traveled all over North and South New Zealand and I got to go to a six day conference on Fiji. When I was there I got to go snorkeling. The best part was that it was always sunny and not raining like good old Ketchikan.”

Mr. Hamlin won the Biggest Police Record for when he was a youngerster like us.

Mrs. Hanson’s Most Embarrassing High School Moment: “It was right after half-time for basketball and we went back onto the court. The ball was inbounded and I got the ball. I was dribbling it down the court and scored a basket. I looked around and wondered why no one was guarding me. It finally dawned on me that we switched baskets and I scored for the other team!”

Beraldi won for Biggest Flirt; he must have been flirtacious when he was in high school.

Ohhhhhhh yummmmmy! Those egg custard pies look good. That is just one of the many things that the Culinary Arts class has made. They have also made many delicious things like: cinnamon rolls, chocolate chip scones, gingerbread cookies, bread, rolls, bread pudding and chocolate chip cookies. They are planning on making things to sell during lunch like: various pastas, home made sandwiches, soups, and other tasty goodies everyone likes to eat.

“Yeah, can I get a tall single mocha with double caffeine, whip cream and a cherry on top! I need to stay awake during Mrs. Hunt’s English 3 CP class or I’m in trouble!” Left: senior Ryan Pickrell serves up a mean cup of Joe to those who need a little extra boost to get them started for the day.

Culinary Arts and Auto Mechanics were two of the classes that were just added to the list of elective classes that only sophomores, juniors, and seniors can take to learn some common skills on cooking and how to fix your vehicle if it breaks down. These two classes were pioneered during second semester last year and were only offered to seniors. Since the classes were a hit we now have three classes of auto mechanics and four classes of culinary arts. For

All the kids planning on taking these classes again there will be in Auto Mechanics and Culinary Arts II. These classes benefit everyone, even though not everyone is in these classes. During lunch and in the morning, culinary arts gives kids the option to buy their products from coffee to salmon burgers that can make it. The benefit to having auto mechanics is if your car breaks down and you have a friend in the class they might be able to schedule you in to give you a free fix.

Juniors Alex Klingelhut and Chris Nold tackle the arduous job of the lawn mower engine. Since it's color coated it should be no problem for these top mechanical gurus.
Freshman Anne Elliot bows down to the Seniors of 2000! She had double trouble getting hazed, she played in JV volleyball and JV basketball.

The Lady Kings warm up to play their first ball game against Metlakatla.

The Kayhi Drillteamer’s sophomores Cheryl Romero, Nicole Diverty, and Megan Cloudy, seniors Aftan Lynch and Nicole Carlin, and freshman Vanessa Booth perform in front of a great audience.

The K-Highlights show off their smiles they are going to be using for their next performance. Renee McCarthy, Jodi Williams, Janessa Valentic, Jamilah Pitchford, Cheryl Romero and Loren Leonora.

Kayhi's Cross Country Team!

Some Facts About the Cross-Country Team:
- Practice 5 times a week
- 1-2 Hours of running
- There are 24 runners
- They have the opportunity to go to 6 meets, including Southeast and State
- Southeast was the only home meet
- They do tons of stretching
- 1-2 miles for a warm-up run
- The races they compete in are all 3.1 miles
- They came in 2nd in the Southeast tournament

Right: Team captain Eliza Bolling shows the way for teammates Holly Thompson and Stephanie Patton.

Junior and team captain Lou Hu gives encouraging words to next year’s team, “We’ll get Juneau next year!” Lou placed third at Southeast Regionals.

“Some people join cross country to get conditioned for other sports, I do it because I love to run,” says sophomore Jodi Jakubek, who placed second at Southeast Regionals.

This year’s football team practiced every night except on Saturdays and Sundays, rain or shine. At practice these guys have to run a lot! To begin, they run around the field, then they have sprints, suicides, and finally they run around the field again! In between all that running, they do push-ups and sit-ups.

The Kayhi Kings football team played three games as a high school team this year. Sophomore Shaun Phillips, freshman Chris Cummings, and junior Geoff Nordland all scored touchdowns; way to go, guys! The Kings played against Sitka and Juneau this year. They expect to have better results on the scoreboard next year!

We had a young team this year, and it was also our first year as a high school sport. Next year we will kick butt! - Sophomore Seth Marrs

Freshman Marcus Garza struts his stuff at football practice. Marcus promotes good team spirit at their games. You can hear him miles away cheering for and encouraging his team!

Here is the team caught in some serious stretching. Ouch! Stretching is very important before practice starts.

"#44 sophomore Richard McAlpin just likes to hang loose.

#30 sophomore Seth Marrs

Check out this mass pile up against Sitka. Who is that poor guy under that dog pile?

Tackling the New Millennium
Having an older sibling on the swim team is really hard. But sophomore Joey Rauwolf explains to us that his older brother senior Mike Rauwolf isn’t much better than he is. The reason Joey enjoys swimming is because his ankles can’t handle sports like basketball and soccer. His initiation punishment was a “Soapy,” where they put soap in your speedo or bathing suit and give you mad wedgy. “Personally, it wasn’t that bad.”

Joey’s older brother Mike had a different experience than Joey’s Freshman year he went to state, and they stayed at the Westmark. “I’d never sleep-walked before this night, but for some reason I walked outside of our hotel room in the middle of the night. When I woke up, I was locked out of my room in my underwear and shirt. It was very embarrassing. One of the other team’s swimmers called my room, and told Eric Christensen that I was outside in my underpants. Eric didn’t believe him and hung up. Meanwhile, I was still standing in the hallway waiting for the door to open. Eventually Eric opened it, and asked what I was doing out there in my underpants.”

FUNNY STORIES AND PRANKS SWIMMERS HAVE TO ENDURE TO BE COOL AND BE ABLE TO SURVIVE THE WATERS!!

She started out eleven years ago and is still going like the Energizer bunny. Bonnie Autrey deserves more gold medals than she has already received for her effort and dedication. She has already earned one gold trophy in a relay race. When she is in the pool, she enjoys doing flips and turns. “One time when I was in Sitka, I was turning around and banged my head!” Although Bonnie laughs about it now, we’re sure it hurt then.

Ooohoo! A new little freshman to make it to the Kayhi Swim Team. Sarah Stenkamp quotes, “I am not really intimidated by the seniors on the team, because they aren’t too threatening about what they want to do to initiate me.”

“The reasons I like swimming are getting to travel, meeting new people and it takes up some of my time.”

“I had the worst initiation,” Natalie Ney tells us her story. “I was tied to a tree and they stuffed doughnuts in my mouth. One of the silly things that I have done on a trip, was to go to the ice dispenser and keep pressing the button because no ice would come out. I finally figured out that it was jammed, so I hit it really hard and all this ice came out, and fell all over the floor. I just got my ice and went back to my room like nothing had ever happened.”

Below: Megan Dillard with ball, Jenny Dupre (middle) and Anna Shepard (right) play a game of water polo before they start their intense training.

Joey Rauwolf tries and stops for a picture with us but he is racing to keep up with the rest of his team. Stroke by stroke and kick by kick he gets his laps down on time.

Freshman Erin Beasley hurries to get her warm-ups out of the way so she can get on to more fun things like diving or water basketball.
Above: Ohh! I almost got it! As junior Cassie White dives for the ball, she gets an awesome floor burn. Right: These guys have team spirit! Aleesha Shull, Zeta Moss, Janae Thomas, Eryn Sooter, Cheryl Romero, Dianne Kahle, Jill Steward, Cassie White, Jennifer Parker, Carlie Parker, and Becca Neilson.

Senior Becca Neilson is this year's team captain. Not only is she tough and ready for the fight, she's always anticipating her next move. Oh yeah, we love that war paint!!!

With wild arms, sophomore Jill Steward makes an attempt to slam the ball back over the net and score another point.

Waiting for the ball, seniors Becca Neilson, Aleesha Shull, juniors Cassie White, Dannette Kahle, and sophomore Zeta Moss watch while the other team waits for the send.

While freshman Jennifer Newell and sophomore Claire Lervick wait with anticipation, the rest of the team considers this their coffee break.

Junior Joey Fama has an intense look on his face as he tries hard to roll his opponent onto his back for a pin.

Senior Trygve Westergard gets ready to make his attack.

Juniors T.J. Milner, Richard McAlpin and Kenny Terpsma play some defense on the opposing team.

the Next Century!!

Lady Kings Facts

1. Lady Kings took third place during the Invitational after being defeated by the team from Australia.
2. Although there was some very tough competition during the Invitational, every Lady King scored a basket or more in each game.
3. The Lady Kings took first place at the Soldotna Peninsula Challenge up North.

Junior Johanna Johnson shoots for the basket as senior Mary Scudero prepares to get the rebound while junior Kelly Nausid boxes out Charles Hayes players.

While dribbling down the court, senior FeVillanueva plays good offense by watching her back for the opposing team who will attempt to steal the ball from her.

Junior Cassandra White says, “My favorite thing about playing varsity Kayhi basketball, is that we get cool uniforms, and get to run through the hoop while the pep band is playing.”

Senior Mary Scudero says, "My favorite thing about playing Kayhi varsity basketball is just playing with the other girls, having Nausid as a coach, being a team and uniting as one.”

"The funniest thing that ever happened to me on the court is when I aired a three!"
-Freshman Maria Swaim.

"I never tie my shoes very tight, so I have a tendency to trip and fall a lot on the court."

-Freshman Heather Evoy

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION! Wrestlers from many different schools all work together to make sure that the Bill Weiss Wrestling Tourney is a success, and it turns out that all of their hard work paid off; the outcome was stupendous!

FOR THE LAND OF THE FREE, senior Ryan Cronk graces the crowds with his excellent ability to play the National Anthem.

Bill Weiss Wrestling Tourney
HOT! Senior Steven Elliot calmly shoots to score three extra points for his fellow teammates.

IT'S A BIRD, IT'S A PLANE, no, wait... it's senior Donald Munhoven who is up in the air to make a basket.

INCOMING, the team from Angoon has to watch out as junior Brandon Nicholas comes in for a lay up and barrels through as if no one was there. Sophomore Jesse Richardson is there just in case he needs to back up his teammate.

“So, Matt, how did you like being in yearbook this year? I hear you almost didn’t make it.”

“I’m really glad it worked out. There was a conflict with seventh hour, but they started a new class, so it is all cool.”

“The lockers page was my favorite; it was something fun to work on, and it was also really colorful.”

“Now Lizzy, what was the most memorable thing about yearbook camp in San Diego?”

“Well, we were staying at the University of San Diego and it was really scary because our room was haunted, by a nun with a blue light.”

Left: The five steps to producing a yearbook. A lot of work goes into the actual making of a yearbook. Deadlines are rushed to be met, pictures are taken and developed, writing needs to be done, and it all must be proofread at least three times. Senior Rayana White demonstrates the first step: getting the pictures made. Senior Jeff Williams begins the second step, which is writing captions and copy. Junior Niki Steffen is the copy editor. Things must be fine “proofed” through here. Seniors Melissa Leary and Tracy Day are the chief editors—everything must be “proofed” through them after they are seen by Niki. The final step is the most rewarding—seeing the finished product. Senior Jenny Rosendin and junior Lizzy Peters admire a finished yearbook.

Juniors Brian Bergeron, Katy Spotsman, Valerie Ahyong, Janessa Valentie, seniors, Renee Woodruff, Donald Alderman, and Ethan Berto, the newly inducted members of NHS, proudly hold their candles as they accept their welcoming into National Honor Society. Careful guys, don’t burn those certificates!

New member, junior Liza Fisher says, “I didn’t think I would get in because I hadn’t developed my leadership skills. And I was happy that I got in. I’m proud to follow in my older sister’s footsteps.” Junior Libba Anglin says, “I’m pleased to be part of such an honorable society.”

Secretary, senior Alice Cook, gives her all to make her last year in the National Honor Society the best it can be.

Returning NHS member, senior Micah Cermele, is honored to induct the new additions to the National Honor Society.

“Being the president of NHS, I had a major role in the planning of College Fair and the Induction Ceremony. Both events went very well, until I forgot to light the first candle.” - Melissa Leary

Sophomore Tara Potter has been the president of her class since elementary, and every year she gets better and better at it.

Joel Cuplin, Caitlin O'Brien and Stephan Beedle pose for the camera for their glamour shot.

Sophomore Tara Potter, Stacey Stone and Christine Montecillo are good examples of how to have fun and work at the same time.

Sophomore Kateri Somrak shows her enthusiasm at an SBA meeting while she plans for something exciting to happen.

Sophomore Kristen Kuehl enjoys going to meetings and helping to plan events and activities at the school with the other members of SBA.

"I'm glad that I get to help make decisions that will affect me, too," says freshman, Kirsten Michael.

Sophomore Christine Monticello says, "I'm glad I ran for vice president, it's a good opportunity to work on my leadership skills."

"I like band because we can give Mr. Bjur a hard time for being bald. It is one of the few classes that you can see a break dancing trumpet player and get in trouble for doing your work fast," senior Brie Kenoyer shared with us when we asked why she liked band.
CONCERT CHOIR

Some people like to warm up by singing a few chords, or else a favorite song, like sophomore Elisa Bolling and Cheryl Romero, while others just grin and bare their teeth like junior Jake Baken.

Never have to just warm up your vocal cords to sing, you also have to have time to be relaxed. Juniors Brandon Nicholas gives Ahna Gillet a quick back massage before their performance while sophomore Stephanie Patting checks her lipstick.

When asked “What do you like about choir?” junior Katie Hopkins replied, “I love to sing. And some of the guys in class are hot.”

“A special thank you to Caitlin O’Brien for all of you extra hours of work to make sure that we were never without a wonderful accompanist.”

– Gerald Hughes and the Concert Choir

Helping youth is what it's all about. Senior Aftan Lynch helps youth out at the all-city Halloween party. This is one of Interact's main activities.

AIDS Awareness is not all serious. During the meeting things can come quite fun and a little out of control. Freshmen Cassy Stilsbee and Kirsten Michael run around and play a little game of tag.

World AIDS Day is a very important day at Kayhi. This year the Teen Task Force broke all records for the white face paint demo; over one hundred students who participated.

The students came together on World AIDS Day to show one another the facts about AIDS and how many people are affected. Seniors Jeff Williams and Heather Nelson broke all records ever set concerning World AIDS Day. Seniors Brooke Gibb, Heidi Weimer, Catlin O'Brien, juniors Claire Rowan, Beth Schafer, Jill Walker, Eunice Loyde, Pamela Solano, sophomores Alana Gross, Honey Phillips, Mike Marl and freshmen Joe Roth, Corey LaDuke, Josh Benson, Brendan Davis, Kraig Bailey, Forrest McGillis, Taylor Jones and Erin Beasley. All help in the fight to break all the records.

Helping others learn about HIV/AIDS and how it is spread is what this group is about.

AIDS Awareness is a good group to be in if you would like to be involved in the community.
-junior Cambre Skaggs
"Interact- is a group of wonderful youth who donate their time and energy to help others in their time of need. We are sponsored by rotary 2000, and meet twice a month in Mr. Mogen's room. We have helped at the first city Halloween party, and the children's Christmas workshop. We hope to have many other service projects throughout the year. It is really neat to see so many youth give of themselves for others."

-Tennille Walker
Interact President

"Ketchikan HIV/AIDS Awareness Teen Task Force- is a group which is dedicated to informing people of HIV/AIDS Awareness and prevention throughout our schools and community. The Teen Task Force is a youth-led group, which is sponsored by the city of Ketchikan and the Ketchikan Public Health Center. The Teen Task Force meets about 3 times a month, if not more. The group does several activities during the year to spread awareness. One of the most popular would be the demonstration on December first, "World AIDS Day". The group has done many things in the area of HIV/AIDS like participating in the Names Project AIDS memorial quilt and attending workshops to further their knowledge."

Symphonic Band

Concert Band

Freshmen Amber Williams, Megan VanCleave and sophomore Rebecca LaRose sing their warm up exercises.

Freshmen Almarie Cook, Alana Gross, Cassie Silsbee and Erica Fields stun the crowd with their beautiful voices.

Practicing for the big moment when they are on stage are freshmen Sarah Cermele, sophomore Kirsten Lewis, and freshmen Ashley Kolean, Shannon Slagle and Sarah Slenkamp.

At the piano:
Angela Garton and Jasmine Judson.

"On the Juneau trip we called our whole team Rosie. All the other teams were really confused because they thought we were all named Rosie," says junior Liza Fisher as she remembers the fun of short trips.

Sophomore Nikki Holt says that she decided to join ACDC because it looks good on applications and some of her "cool friends" also joined. Thanks to ACDC she learned the art of public speaking and met lots of people.

Junior Tesia Dobyndia claims she joined ACDC "to be in the yearbook and I missed the pic." Well, here Tesia, you get to be in a picture all by yourself (modeling your pj's).

Junior Brittany Hassell recounts a hilarious tale from an ACDC trip. "We were in Petersburg and the stewardess said that if it was anyone's birthday to tell her and we would sing to them. So I called her and told her it was Mr. Powell's birthday (it really wasn't). She got on the intercom and said, 'We have a birthday! Would Mr. Powell please stand up?' His face turned beet red and he stood up and the entire plane sang 'Happy Birthday' to him."

ACDC is (front row) Darcy Bengard, Petrina Short, Nikki Holt (back row), Erica VanSlyke, Liza Fisher, Katy Parrot, Brittany Hassell, Katie Sportman, Therese Beaver, and Christy Miller.

MAKING TESTING AN EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY!!
Behind the Faces

DEBATE

Freshman Alex Ortiz grins deviously as he prepares to watch junior Chasina Haynes and senior Caitlin O'Brien spar off. Debate is a lot more than just arguing—it's arguing with skill!

Junior Chasina Haynes is caught up in her case as she emphatically urges the class to see things her way. Debaters spend hours gathering research, preparing cases, and revising these cases—so it can be persuasive and informative to listen to.

Junior Sharli Hayter says she joined debate to learn speaking skills and gain the ability to speak fluently in front of a group of people. She encourages her peers to join future debate classes. "This class will benefit everyone, it's fun being in front of a big crowd too!" Sharli goes on to tell a memorable experience: "I remember my freshman year and Robin Miller [class of '98] was doing a speech on kissing. Ms. Sande was freaking out because the article Robin's speech was on was called 'Kissing from A to Z.' Ms. Sande thought it was a "corruption on teens' minds.'"

Fast fact: the debate team's food of choice is peeps!

The debate class watches their teammates argue. However, when Ms. Sande isn’t looking, they furiously pull out their glue sticks and note cards so they can finish cases of their own.

Getting to school at seven o’clock can be hard for anyone! Sophomores Steve Edwards and Josh Hales give us a blank stare. Go back to bed.

We can hear those brasses loud and clear!

Let’s play those good time blues.

New Millennium

Left at the piano, sophomores Andy Dupre and Christine Montecillo. Left at the drums, sophomore Rachael Neterer, and senior Ryan Pickrell. On the top row, starting at the left side: senior Brie Kenoyer, junior Dave Rockwood, senior Donald Alderman, sophomore Stacey Stone, and freshmen Nick Rosenfeld. Middle row, starting on the left: freshmen Seth Guthrie, freshmen Tyrel Faber, seniors Donny Soderstrom, Bobby Allen, Anthony Martinez, Andrew Gichard, Steve Beadle, Vicky Sweet, and Therese Beaver.

Drama Club members Josh George, Amy Serjeant, Travis Schenck, Darcy Bengaard, Angelina Martin, Heather Petrich, Erika Van Slyke, Tiffany Gillian, and Emily Miller and a few other Kayhi students Johnathan Parks, Therese Beaver, Donald Alderman, Josh Mutart, Elizabeth Hiscox, Gavin Piercy, Melissa Morris, Mike Fowler, and Jill Walker relax before practice of an upcoming play.

“Drama Club is a group of people who like to be dramatic. We memorize monologues, scenes, mimes, and interps. A member of Drama Club can compete with their memorized pieces at competitions in Southeast Alaska. If they are good enough they can go to the state level, in Anchorage.” – Angelina Martin

Why do you like to to play in the Pep Band sophomore Christine Montecillo replied, "I like it because it gives me a chance to show my school spirit, and I can play as loud as I want."

It isn't a proven fact, but there is rumor that if we were to concentrate the glare off of Mr. Bjur's head we could power the entire school into the new millennium.

Pictures and page design by Richard Harney and Matthew Hanson

Come on, it will make your lips look very red. Sophomores Cheryl Romero tries to paint Kristen Kuehl's lips instead of the Pep Club posters.

Protection from the Juneau Bears is Kayhi's very own super hero... CAPTAIN K-HI!!

Right: A group of seniors cheer at a pep assembly.

Left: Tara Potter and Katri Somrak hold a poster that Pep Club makes for our Kayhi teams.
Freshman Jason Cosky, Angela Garton, Heather Westeon, Cassy Silsbee, Bobby Crawford and Sam Peterson. Sit down and take a break before the day of classes begins.

Senior Becca Churchill hurries to get all of her note cards in on time. Just wait, all of you others who didn’t experience it this year will soon.

HURRY! Ever since that new tardy policy has been in act the in-house room has been full. Seniors Keith Davis, Donnie Soderstrom, and Juniors Elizabeth Hiscox, and Angelina Martin race to their next class, hopefully they are on time!

We all look so excited to be doing the Nutcracker! Here we have Niki Steffen, Elizabeth Schafer, Erin Massie, Amanda Coffin, Jessica Kenyon and Lizzy Peters before the performance.

Senior Rusty Etten works hard on all the difficult tasks of senior life. It's almost over and you never know, you might miss all the work... Maybe not!
THE LAST SCARE OF THE CENTURY!!

Senior Travis Schenck looks as though he could be a future Jedi Knight, or even another character from Star Wars.

Here we have a good example of our teachers getting into the spirit of Halloween: Mrs. Karlik dresses up in her Hawaiian attire.

Page design and layout by Jenny Rosendin, Joe Nall, and Sami Bass.
"Are manly men!" Juniors Richard Harney and Michael Thompson show us their bulging biceps they will use to save the school if there is any big trouble.

Sophomores Christine Stack, Josh Wilson, and Christina Kralis gather around to show off what they are for Halloween. So look out boys, these girls...wait, one of these is a guy...are looking really good!

Jennifer Azure, a junior, puts a spell on all of Kayhi, saying we will all pass with 4.0s! But that a wonderful ending, especially for the seniors!

Dana Shoup, a sophomore, shows up for Halloween at school in a styling top hat and sunglasses.

Are you two going to eat all that food? Sophomores Emily Jenkinson and Jim Auger enjoy their huge lunch. Hey, at least some of it looks healthy!

Junior Niki Steffen doesn't like to share her food! "I end up eating other people's food." Hey! is that fair play?

Junior A.J. Pattison lives life on the edge. "Once I accidentally jumped Third Ave. in my car, trying to get to McDonalds too fast!" Steer clear of this roadster!
Sophomore Erica Vanslyke attempts to eat and talk at the same time. Is that sandwich good?

"I think being a freshman at lunch is boring, we don't have cars so we can't go anywhere. All I do is read and eat." -Freshman Angela Garton.

"Most sophomores stay here at lunch, unless they're lucky and can get a ride with an upper-classmen!" -Sophomore Christine Monticello.

"It's cool being a junior at lunch because we finally have cars and can go get some REAL food!" -Junior Kyle Worman.

"I think most of the seniors leave at lunch, unless we have important senior stuff to do!" -Senior Joel Cuplin.

What happened to junior Steven Edwards? He sure got himself into a bind. Have fun tackling your way out of that one!

Seniors Leigh Grundy and Melissa Morris still take time out of their busy lives to hangout. Those are true friends!
There comes a time in every highschooler's life when he/she realizes that some things could just be better.

Thirsty senior Therese Beaver thinks the school should "get water fountains upstairs that actually work—they haven't worked since my sophomore year!"

Book fanatic Lauren Johnson states that if she were in charge, "I would make the library huge, filled with all the books in the world!" Happy reading.

"Hmmm, a flat roof in Ketchikan, that's smart! With a flat roof all the rain water drains to the center of the roof and that causes leaks!" points out sophomore Dustin Wilson.

Junior Libba Anglin, an active member of pep band, feels what this school really needs is more school spirit. Pep club works hard to paint posters for the commons, put up lockers signs, and cheer on Kayhi's teams but sometimes the student body just has bouts of the anti-spirit virus.

"Heaters. More heaters," shivers poor Joey Fama. Sometimes it seems like the school is trying to turn us into student-sicles.

Yup. Sometimes school is just plain dull. Junior Natalie Ney has a solution. "They should have a week of really interesting classes so that we can experience possible careers we aren't normally exposed to—like a massage class."

"I'd bring back flex," quips Jake Belfry who longs for the free Wednesday afternoons of the previous 3 years when students got out at 1:15 on Wednesdays to study, get help from teachers, make up work, or just take a breather from the hectic week!
IF YOU COULD CHANGE ONE THING ABOUT KAYHI, WHAT WOULD IT BE??

Some Common Complaints:

Why in the mural outside the gym are so many of the Kayhi athletes losing? This is supposed to boost school morale how? Hmm. I think I saw this same scene on a PeeChee folder once....

The school looks like a giant bathroom! True, the school does remind lots of people of a lavatory with its box shape and abundance of tiles. On the bright side, at least it doesn’t smell like one!

Junior Megan Dillard isn’t one for change: she spoke out about the new tarty policy and the new schedule.

While the ocean scene made out of metal dangling above the commons doesn’t draw many complaints, quite a few students are interested in taking the canoe down and seeing how long it will stay afloat in the pool!
The big crowning moment, Mr. Neilson crowns Joel Cuplin.

Seniors Becca Neilson, Molly Berntson, Jon Erickson, Ryan Pickrell, Chris Corrao, Joel Cuplin, Keith Davis and junior Gavin Piercy prepare for the march into the gym.

Mr. Bjur helps tie senior Ryan Pickrell’s tie, don’t tie it too tight!
Winter Ball 2000
SETUP

Sophomore Stephanie Woodruff, junior Jamie Egner, and sophomore Tina Reese all help out by making giant snowflakes for the Winter Ball. These girls are showing off their skills in the art of making snowflakes. Great job girls!!!

Senior Stephanie Woodruff helps out with the Giant Snowflakes for the Winter Ball. She is showing off her skills in the art of making snowflakes. Great job girls!!!

LEFT: Senior Dan Yates gets jiggly with it, while sophomore Christine Monticello laughs. The dress code might be formal but the attitude is definitely not!

RIGHT: Sophomores Sarah Keene, Chelsea Woodell, Tara Potter, and Juniors Richard McAlpin and Chris Campbell are all ready to dance. The best part of Winter Ball is being with all your friends and having the time of your life (not to mention looking great).

Freshman Taylor Jones and sophomore Mary French grin because this night has FINALLY arrived and they get to spend it together. They are pumped to head onto the dance floor and show their moves to the rest of the school! Each and every Winter Ball is unique and unforgettable. Winter Ball is more than just a dance—most attendees get ready with friends, go out to dinner, dance, and party afterwards!!!

Russell Blanks and Whitney Hofstedt, both freshmen, accompanied each other to the dance. Russell looks proud to be seen with such a great person and Whitney points to herself, warning other girls that "This boy is with me." Both look thrilled to have made her first Winter Ball and are now no doubt looking forward to their next three.

FIVE WILD AND CRAZY GUYS!!! These guys are really excited about being at the Winter Ball. Freshmen Joe Roth Forest Mc Gillis, and Corey La Duke are all ready to go out and dance and show’ em what they got! Be careful boyfriends—these hipsters could be out to steal your girlfriends for the evening. They also look like they might just be the new Backstreet Boys or maybe they are gangsters... anyway, whatever the look they were going for EVERYONE LOOKED GREAT!!

Faces Behind The Scenes

They’re not working on the stage, they’re “study-” Junior Elizabeth Schafer takes a break after hard day. Are you getting your work done?

Moving the acoustical shell takes a while. When the stage crew doesn’t finish, they pawn the job off on senior Andrew Gichard. He doesn’t mind but then again, it’s usually a job for 3 to 4 people.

What is your favorite thing about stage crew?

“I like the headset conversations. There is nothing better than making fun of people.” -Senior Devin Hopson

“My mission is to find Boochee!” -Senior Andrew Gichard

“I like stage because you get to watch stuff for free.” -Senior Josh Wilson

“The stage crew is very strange and fun to work with. I’m always wondering what is going on in the catwalks.” -Teacher Mr. Bjur

“You don’t want to know.” -Junior Jake Martin

“I like designing lights and being involved with productions.” -Senior Therese Beaver

“I enjoy giving Mr. Bjur a hard time about his hair, or lack thereof. I liked moving the shell too, until it fell on me!” -Junior Niki Steffen

“I like being able to push buttons and working with the lights.” -Junior Elizabeth Schafer

Rookie and the experienced. This is junior Jeni Lystad’s first year with the stage crew. “I like working with the diverse group of people and helping out with the shows.” This is senior Vicky Sweet’s second year on the stage. “I like being into shows for free and working the spot light for the endcracker.”

Audio is a very big part in the productions. Senior Ryan Cronk helps out by making sure all the connections are made correctly and that everything sounds good.
Faces on the Stage

Performing Arts

During the Festival of Lights, seniors Travis Schenck, Therese Beaver, juniors Elizabeth Hiscox, Andy Suiter, Jill Walker, and Angelina Martin performed a play for the children at the Salmon Landing Market. It was a great success!

Performing for her drama class, sophomore Amy Serjeant shows us her stuff. Mr. Barnes sure knows how to have a good time!

Seniors Riannon Maynard and Alexis Pahang get ready to waltz.

Playing the part of Dr. & Mrs. Stahlbaum are senior Rayana White and junior Richard Harney.

What was your favorite part about Nutcracker?

"I liked getting to work with so many different people."

-Junior Amanda Coffin

"I loved the adrenaline rush of walking out and seeing all of the people. At first I was pretty nervous, but once I was on stage I realized that it was not so bad."

-Junior Brandon Nicholas

"I loved looking out and seeing everyone watching me and being able to express myself to the audience."

-Freshman Sarah Holliman

What was the worst part about Nutcracker?

"This was the first time I ever had to wear makeup. I'm glad I'm not a girl so I don't have to put make-up on everyday. It was worth it though."

-Junior Matt Hanson

"The strap to my snow costume broke during dress rehearsal. I felt really dumb doing my dance and trying to fix the strap down somewhere!"

-Junior Niki Steffen

"The make-up took forever to come off! It was the first time I had to wear make-up and it just felt weird."

-Junior Matt Valentic

Please don't drop me! Junior Jessica Kenyon is held in the air by Gordon Guthrie in the Arabian dance. Hold on tight!

Nutcracker '99 111
In local fashion news, Jay Jacobs, which was one of Ketchikan's more up to date and current clothing stores recently closed its doors nationally. Senior Samantha Bass is saddened at the thought of her past job being gone. Jay Jacobs was one of the first stores to go into the Plaza. With it being closed, Ketchikan shoppers are forced to shop out of town a lot more.

For as long as many people can remember there has always been that little special store down the hill from the high school. Some adults can remember going to Race Ave. Drug store to sip soda and chat with friends when they were still in school. Teens today know the store as somewhere you could find almost anything. Race's closed its doors near the end of December, after being bought out by Safeway, who earlier bought out Carr's. The store carried a wide selection of items all year round with an excellent holiday section during those special times of the year. It is sad to see this store go, but we cannot move on without change. The building is currently for lease.

The Ketchikan road system has changed in the last couple of years. This small town's downtown went from wooden roads to two lane concrete roads. In late summer of 1999 Ketchikan's roads dawned a new stop light and a striped, which has three lanes.
In June, 1999 senior Jeff Williams traveled to Washington, DC to receive a national award for his work in the field of HIV/AIDS prevention. He was one of the twenty youth selected as part of National AIDS Fund’s “Caring Counts” awards program. Jeff has been involved with HIV/AIDS prevention for the last 5 years. There comes a time when all stars get to shine. In December of 1999 sophomore Jamilah Pitchford traveled to the great land of Paris. No, she did not just go there to shop. Jamilah was elected to dance with their drill team during Christmas break. Jamilah, also known as JP, has been involved in drill team for four years, both at the high school and junior high level. When it comes to dancing she has what it takes to make it to the top.

Everybody loves to wake up and run down to their local McDonald’s to pick up a hot Egg McMuffin, coffee, and the local Daily News. This is the way it has been for years, but in the last couple of months McDonald’s internationally have been switching to a new system called “Made for You!” This system replaces the old warming bin, which means your food is made fresh just for you!

Recently the Ketchikan Entertainment Center took a step up in current technology! After many years of manual scorekeeping the entertainment center traded in its old and tired telephone machines and replaced them with automatic scorekeeping computers.

Attention Wal-Mart shoppers! In the middle of 1998 Ketchikan was faced with the question of bringing one of the nation’s largest discount stores into Ketchikan. Many local people were against the idea, including the Ketchikan Downtown Business Association. Some people think that when Wal-Mart comes to Ketchikan it may slow down the locally owned and operated stores. After facing all the opposition Wal-Mart is scheduled to open its doors in the spring of 2001. This date was delayed about one year from its original opening date. The store should bring a variety of new items to Ketchikan. The Ketchikan store is going to be about 7,000 sq. ft. This will be a rather small Wal-Mart, but officials say that the size will fit the Ketchikan economy perfectly.

The Ketchikan teachers have been discussing many different items that they would like to change, including a pay raise and the option to help in selecting who works on to curriculum committees. After long meetings no agreement was made. In November of 1999 the Ketchikan teachers went on strike. The teachers picketed outside in the rainy fall weather, the high speeds blowing right past their faces. Three days into the strike some sort of agreement was made. The teachers returned back to school where most of the students approved of their actions.

“I think the teacher strike was a big deal, cause we got out of school for a couple of days, but it sucked for the teachers because they had to picket in the rain.” —junior Katie Jenkins

“I think that just the changes that Ketchikan has endured in recent times has been the biggest thing.”
—senior Heather Nelson

“I think that the teachers’ strike was a big thing. We got to sleep in and miss a couple of days of school.”
—freshman Brittany Maxwell

“I think that Safeway has a lot better selection for shoppers now. Carr’s had a very poor selection of items.”
—freshmen Bobby Crawford

Student Life

Ahna Gillet shows off her school spirit with her KHS sweatshirt, but she isn’t as fierce as Lisa Bolling, Holly Thompson, and Jodi Jakubek. They are still in their Cross Country uniforms as they give us a “grrrrr” to show us how strong they are.

“SCHOOL’S OUT FOR...only the weekend”, yet Riannon Maynard seems like she has something really special planned! Donald Munhoven looks like he could definitely use a break! All cuddled up Sami Bass, Trygve Westergard, Fe Villanueva and Jenny Rosendin discuss their weekend plans together!!
Kathy Carlson gives us a little insight on what it is like to be a freshman at Kayhi. "It's better than last year and we get more privileges. The big school is really intimidating, but it's a lot more fun!"

Being here two years you get used to things and how the school works. Ashley Skidmore says she likes the bigger lockers but not the harder classes like Algebra II!!

Andy Suiter shares his views of the ups and downs of being a junior. "I can't pick on freshman because they are all bigger than me, but now that they are here there are more chicks for me to pick up on! And since I have a hot ride I can take them out."

Of course, being a senior is the time of your life. Kyle Burnette explains all the great things of being one. To the left you will see Kyle is getting really into the initiation of freshman even if he does get a day of in-house. "I don't like English IV or American Government, but I'm outta here so it doesn't matter."

Chris Corrao, Michelle Steward, Lindsey Barnes, Alisa Gubatayao, Chelsea Pfeifer, and Stuart Mecham sit around a table in the Kayhi commons and chit chat about the latest gossip that has been going around the school.

Jay Miller is working hard at the huge 150 problem homework assignment Mrs. Karlik gave. Jay has to study hard to keep up in school so he can play soccer!

Ian Roskam licks his fingers after taking a swipe of frosting from Kateri Somrak's freshly frosted chocolate birthday cake.

Brittany Fisher grins in anticipation of the rapidly approaching snack break period.

My Worst Nightmare About High School

"Getting lost was my worst nightmare!"
—Erin Beasley

"My worst nightmare? It would definitely be seniors!"
—Sven Westergard

"I was afraid all my sophomore friends would ditch me because I was a lowly freshman."
—Lauren Johnson

"Everything about high school was my worst nightmare!"
—Kelly McDonald
Ready for summer again. Junior Kelly Nausid gives a big grin. Her sunglasses show that she is ready for the sun to come back.

Sophomore Chelsea Woodell has her new in-style butterfly clips carefully placed in her hair. Chelsea has a great sense of fashion.

Freshman Anne Elliott said, "I got my belly button pierced with Cassie here in Ketchikan. I was very proud to get it because I had to write a long letter to persuade my mom to let me get it."

"I got my tattoo in Palm Springs with Chelsea watching me grip a chair because I was sunburned and it was hurting. I was sort of used to the pain, though, because it was my second tattoo." - Junior Mandy Peters.

Junior Jackie Jorgensen has her own trend. She has one strand of hair that is three times as long as the rest of her hair.

"Ross, an outlet store, because everything is like ten dollars!

IT'S HIP TO ZIP! Senior Nele Leonora, juniors Matt and Janessa Valenti, and seniors Dan Yates, Aftan Lynch, and Riannon Maynard, in their hip Old Navy Tech Vests.

When asked what is the most "in style" accessory, freshman Erin Traudt said, "I would have to say sparkly glitters!"

My favorite store to shop at would have to be Old Navy Outlet Stores and Polo Ralph Lauren because there is so much to choose from. -Freshman Emily Stanker

The five most fashionable brands are A & F, Old Navy, Hilfiger, Gap, and Nike. -Freshman Xanth Kirschenman

Juniors Trent Birch and Meghan Paulson collect wood for their Sunday First Lutheran Church Youth Group. Trent wishes he was as tough as Meghan so he could carry a big piece of wood too.

"Recycling can be a lot of fun!" says junior Brian Bergeron. He is in Kayhi's Recycling Club. Brian and the other club members gather up the paper to be recycled every Monday.

"I work at Race Avenue Drug. One of the days I work is Tuesday. I work from after school until 6:30 pm. I also work Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. I will have to find a new job, though, now that Race is going to close down." -Junior Mandy Peters

"I have ballet four days a week. On Tuesdays I do ballet and jazz. Ballet can be really stressful during the week. I really have to manage my time wisely. But in the end it is definitely worth it."

-Senior Molly Berntson

"Monday mornings I record music in Production Tech with Holly Temple and Matt Jones. Holly and I have a band called Bobby Brady, so we're always thinking of new songs. I go to my classes and talk to my friends and see how their weekends were."

-Junior Brittany Hassell

"During staff development time Kristen, Kateri, and I are usually doing pep club things. Other Thursdays we sit in the commons and socialize while drinking Culinary Art mochas and eating cinnamon rolls. It's fun!"

-Sophomore Elisa Bolling

Wow! That's one big piece of wood! Freshman Kaelin Gillet helps out at her Sunday Youth Group.

Friday

"Restaurant hopping is a fun way to relax with friends, especially after a bad week of school. It's also fun when the waitress try to pick up Pickrell."
-Senior Mike Rickert

Saturday

"I have drill team at 8:00 on Saturday morning. This is second year in drill team and I think that it is really fun. I don't like getting up early on Saturdays, though."
-Junior Jennifer Parker

Sunday

"I work at Ocean View restaurant on Sundays from 11:00am to 5:00pm. I make about $10.00 an hour in tips and $7.00 an hour. I drive my Nissan Pathfinder around town to deliver to people. It's cool 'cause I get free food too!"
-Junior Max Swaim
Dear Friend,

Please replace these answers with your own, and forward this message to everyone on your list.

How many friends do you have on your icq list?? define friends

What is the longest you have ever been on the phone?? does it count if I accidently left it off the hook?

What is your screen name?? I.M.Cool

If you send this to:
0-5 people... All your hair will fall out
6-10 people... Your crush will ask you out
11-15... You will find a $50 bill in a public restroom
16 or more... You will live in your own Utopia
These Kayhi Students Spill Their Easiest, Fastest and Favorite Ways to Communicate, and We Quote...

"I send my friends e-mail each other cards which we can print and keep, send music, and keep each other informed of how things are." - Junior Amy Stepper

"I still friends all over the world." - Junior Angelina Martin

"When people want to find me, I am usually at my house in the winter for hybernation, but in the summer, my pager is used quite frequently." - Junior Brian Wallin

"I have a pager but the batteries are dead." - Senior Caleb McCamy

"I procrastinate too much to be a good letter writer." - Sophomore Heather Petrich

"I have a pen pal in Cali and he can’t call me all the time so I write him letters, but that was taking too long so I use my email. And we write constantly. Mostly everyday." - Junior LJ Cadiente

"I like the phone and I only use ICQ when I am writing an essay or something like that." - Sophomore DeAnna Hallman
Volunteers: How Youthful Faces Help in Ketchikan

A group of Kayhi seniors do their ten hours of volunteer work by saying, "Vote for Pfeifer and Pickrell." Angela Pfeifer, Kyle Burnette, Luisa Villanueva, Donald Munhoven, Steven Elliot, Brie Kenoyer, Keith Davis and Renee McCarthy.

Junior Kelly Nausid is a Kayhi Lady Kings Basketball player. Since she knows so much about the game she had a chance to teach a few of the future Kings. She helped out at the Recreation Center during one of the many basketball camps. "It was fun to be able to work with all the little kids. It was also really embarrassing too. I was talking in front of the group with all the parents around and this little girl came up and panted me!"

Brie Kenoyer has been doing her own radio show on KRBD since her freshman year. "The most embarrassing thing is when you think the microphone is off, when really it is still turned on and everyone who is tuned in hears what you have to say! My first experience on air I got really nervous and when the other guy in the room I freaked out and got even more nervous than before!"

Okay boys, you have only a certain amount of time to blow up all of these balloons. What do you do? What do you do? Senior Jakob Knudson and freshman Ryan Seaver join the rest of the swim team by blowing up balloons for a raging millennium party at the Pioneer Home.

Katie Hopkins, a junior, gives the camera a smile as she washes her hands. Katie volunteers in the maternity ward at Ketchikan General Hospital. She really enjoys being around all the cute little babies. Her duties include giving support to mothers during birth, cleaning up, and playing and helping with the babies.

Senior Jasmine Judson twinkles out a little tune of happiness. "My dad is the pastor of the church we go to, so I get to play the piano and teach the Sunday school class. I have lots of fun with all the young children."

Being part of the "Friends" program is hard and stressful at times. However, it can also be a good way of getting out of your other classes! Seniors Jennifer Johnson and Edelweiss Muench enjoy a nice dessert on the Rhapsody of Seas after they teach young tourists about good old Ketchikan.

Freshmen Kraig and Kyle Bailey

Freshmen Robert and James Phillips-Thomas

Sophomores Jessica and Britney Fisher

Congratulation...To the Class of 2000!

Student mug shots are not indexed under each student’s name. Your mug shot will be on the pages which are listed at the top of these pages by grade level. Also large group shots may not have been indexed so look throughout the book carefully. There are faces of the new millennium hiding on each page. We hope that you enjoy the memories, which we have put together for your pleasure.
This spot reserved for:
THE KAYHI ANNUAL OF THE

MILLENNIUM

TAKES ITS BOW AND HOPES
FOR YOUR APPROVAL

THE FACES OF THE SECOND MILLENNIUM
HAVE LEFT THEIR MARK.
AS WE CHANGE WITH PASSING YEARS,
THE FACES OF OUR YOUTH WILL STILL BE REMEMBERED AND CHERISHED,
CAPTIVATED IN THIS MEMORY BOOK FOR ALL TIME.

THE YEAR
NINETEEN-HUNDRED NINETY-NINE
THROUGH TWO THOUSAND
HAS BEEN ETCHED INTO THE HISTORY OF KETCHIKAN HIGH SCHOOL,
NEVER TO BE FORGOTTEN.
FACES
OF THE NEW MILLENNIUM
2000
REGION FIVE TOURNAMENT

GET IN GEAR

LIP BAND PRIDE!
Darcey Bengard, Tyler Davis, Tracey Stone, Brie Kenoyer, Erica Van Slyke, Lindsay Hofstled, Jackie Jacobson, David Rockwood, Jeff Pedlocke, Alice Cook, Melissa Morris, Libba Anglin, Micah Isomel and Mark Davey are just a few of the members of Hyh's outstanding pep band.

SHE SHOOTS, SHE SCORES!
Mary Scudero, Johanna Johnson, Brandynce Nelson, Amanda Kolanko, Kelly Housid, and Sarah Keene warm up for their big game.

WHAT'S THAT SOUND?
The crowd watches in awe as our drill team performs an awesome drill. Way to go drill team!

CAREFUL...
BATTLE OF THE MASCOTS...
All the mascots run out on the floor, while the basketball players are getting pepped up for the big game. The chiefs, wolves, and fish all seem to be having a great time out there at center court.

LET'S GO KAYHI!!!!

AND THE CROWD GOES WILD!
A big part of these tournaments is the crowd support. For Southeast, the gym was packed, and the teams definitely got plenty of support.
The zany, wacky, and fascinating cast of Kayhi's popular spring performance: "John Lennon and Me" take a breather between sets. Pictures from left to right are: Anthony Martinez (out front), Julie Guthrie, Steven Edwards, Cambry Skaggs, Heidi Nash, (2nd row) Alex Ortiz, Tom McCarty, Becca Lakesie, Kirsten Michaels, Jason Snook, (3rd row) Brittany Hassel, Mr. Barnes, Melissa Morris, Nicole Hack, Tracy Brown, and Amanda Burrous.

Junior Amanda Burrous grinds her teeth as she's about to give this thing what it deserves! Don't mess with this woman, or you'll be running for the door!

Crowded around for some good old entertainment by famous guitar player and vocalist, junior Heidi Nash, sophomore Jason Snook, freshman Alex Ortiz, and senior Tracy Brown.

4 School Play
Drug Free Faces of Ketchikan
ADFY Conference 2000

Fun with Joy! Margaret Neilson, Joel Cuplin, Chris Corrao, Forest McGillis, and Billy Pfeifer joyfully show off their creative talent at Alaskans for Drug Free Youth Conference 2000. These kids are the definition of being drug free and proud. Good job guys, we’re proud of you!

You can tell the weekend was a success from the shining faces of this family group (right)! Pictured: Jon Erickson, Kraig Bailey (1st row), William Stevenson, Dustin Moore, Katie Hopkins, Meghan Paulson, and Erin Massie (3rd row), with their Schoenbar pals.

Music Festival 2000!

Some people traveled to Juneau for many different activities. Sophomores Zeta Moss and Jonnae Ostrom made Kayhi proud, both in Symphonic Band and Softball.

We truly have a gifted school in the area of music. Wind Ensemble, Concert Choir, Jazz Choir and Symphonic Band all took superiors. This year was the first year a Symphonic Band received all superiors. Go Kayhi!
Looking so sweet while they ride the Taku are seniors Lynne and Renee McCarthy.

"HOW FAST YOU GOING TO RUN?"
"LIKE A LEOPARD!"
Freshman Caleb Mickel tries to catch his breath after running home and adding to their growing lead.

Junior Richard McAlpin is ready and primed to get a grand slam! This guy knows how to make sure that the opposing team knows what they are up against.

Senior Ethan Berto pitches a beautiful fastball. Hopefully this was the strike that Kayhi was hoping for!

Wanted dead or alive (preferably alive) for assault with a flying foot to all body parts of the opposing team! From left to right trainer Neil Kinunen, Tyler Davis, Jeff Updike, Taylor (Gaemnon) Jones, Ryan (Sphinc) Avila, Gavin Piercy, Donald Alderman, Ryan (Ter) Pickrell, Coach Abdul (Baldy) Yrriberrri, Coach Wayne Kinunen, Aaron Thweatt, John (Echo) Fain, Weston Wade, Dana (Tink) Shoup, Bob (Preach) Allen, Jon Demmert, Mike (Taco) Lyshol, Jerry (Puddles) Weston, Jason Palmer, Joey (LionHeart) Fana, Mark Anglin, Geoff Harney, Jay (Powder) Miller, Jim Auger, Richard (Ref) Harney, Josh Szurlcys, Lindy (Phat) Zhuta.

With his Bible in one hand and goalie glove in the other senior Bob (Preach) Allen protects the goal from other forces.

To everyone else soccer is a fun sport, but to the team captains, seniors Ryan Pickrell, Mike Lyshol, and Junior Richard Harney it's a serious matter.

With the open shot junior Richard Harney as he goes for the goal with no such luck. Too bad, maybe next time.

How sweet!!! It's the Prom King and Queen. Seniors Dan Yates (Yayee-ates!) and Samantha Bass are crowned prom king and queen. They stand smiling together just after being crowned.

Seniors Renee Woodruff and Katherine Short are looking so gorgeous at the prom. It was the most magical night of all, I never wanted it to end." said Katherine.

"Prom turned out pretty well. It looked decent, but it took a long long time to set up for it, and Nicole Carlin looked hot," says Senior Steven Elliot.

Senior Donald Munhoven is just chillin' during prom. "The prom was pretty cool but it was all the people who made it that way. It was fun to get dressed up and to be with my friends for the last time in a long time."

Senior Becca Neilson has something to say about prom..."Senior prom was a lot of work! But, in the end it all paid off. The decorations were good and sharing time with my friends really made it a memorable experience. I loved it."
Senior Melissa Morris helps setup on the Friday before the big night. She is twirling lights around one of the enchanted trees.

"Prom was pretty fun. It's always nice to get all dolled up and get your pictures taken," says senior Becca Churchill.

"It marks the end of your days with all your school friends. Dinner was the most fun because the parents took pictures of about 20 of us on the porch. Those will be pictures to hold on to," says senior Kristen Carlile.

"It was a lot of work to set it up, but it was definitely worth all of it because it looked so beautiful, and Steven Elliot look very hot!" says senior Nicole Carlin.

After Prom party!!! Senior Mike Rickert is having fun bowling. There were a lot of parties going on during this night but most of the people went to the bowling alley to bowl. They didn’t want the night to come to an end.
The junior class of 2001 worked exceptionally hard to make this senior tea one of the best ever.

Junior Dave Rockwood was in charge of the mood music. The music included past and present hits as well as his own compositions.

The famous tablecloth. Every year at senior tea, all the seniors who attend can sign their names on it. They are kept as memoirs of past senior teas.

Listening to junior Dave Rockwood play the piano are juniors Michelle Steward, Lindsey Barnes, Alisa Gubatayao, Elizabeth Schafer and Janae Thomas.

Junior Johanna Johnson is the only one tall enough to hang the tablecloths over the door. Juniors Lindsey Barnes and Alisa Gubatayao laugh at their own attempts.

Set up was a great success. Juniors Alisa Gubatayao and Johanna Johnson work on hanging up the tablecloths from the old senior teas while juniors Erin Massie, Katie Corran, Lindsey Barnes, Steve Edwards, Holly Thompson, and Mr. & Mrs. Karlik get the goodies ready.
Look at these well-behaved seniors. Edelweiss Muench, Scott Edwards, Jasmine Judson, Melissa Morris, Jed Michael, Bobby Allen, Ryan Mortenson, and Anthony Martinez await their doom. Hopefully they’ll remain dry for as long as possible!

Tracy Brown of the rat pack, gets his thrills from ketchup and axes. Due to an unfortunate accident, Tracy was unable to be thrown in the water.

After a quick throw-in by Steven Elliot, Alexis Pahang, Tom Byron, Joe Nall, Aaron Thweatt, and Leif Thompson, the group goes out and looks for their next victims. Spectators Nicole Carlin, Brooke Gibb, and Louisa Villanueva hope they aren’t next!

Warming up after a plunge in the the big blue, Brie Kenoyer, Tara Dilling, Katherine Short and Ryan Cronk hang out by the fire and try to generate body heat.

Hanging out high and dry, Jason Nichols prepares to roast a hot dog.

Ha Ha Ha! I’m dry and you’re wet! Renee Woodruff better watch out because someone is coming up behind her.

We believe in you.....

Only a couple more minutes!!!! These seniors, Jed Michael, Leigh Grundy, Scott Kenyon, Jennifer Lewis and the rest of the senior class are getting very anxious for the moment they've all been waiting for. Or at least most of them are. Others are reminiscing about the good old days when they were in kindergarten playing with playdough and building blocks.

Caitlin O'Brien sings and plays "I Will Remember You" as a tribute to all of her friends and fellow classmates as everyone prepares to go their separate ways.

Valedictorian Donnie Soderstrom addresses his class with a speech rather than doing something dramatic, like shaving his head.

18 Graduation
The Class of 2000

Leif Thompson's cheesy jokes, Lynn Castillo tries to act serious while walking to her seat.

Valedictorian Lindsey Hofstedt smiles beautifully as she prepares to give her speech and to sing a song, "Hero," for her classmates and the audience.

Here they are, the Class of 2000. This class is so ready to graduate! Forget all the long speeches and awards, they are thinking. They are ready to get those diplomas! They're pumped to go celebrate and have a great time.
I've watched you go from crawling to walking tall. You've stood your ground and fought hard for your beliefs. Because of this, I know you will succeed in whatever you choose. I'm so proud of you & everything you have accomplished.

Love you tons
