Twinkle Twinkle Summer Stars...

Senior Nick Rosenfeld spent part of his summer in Washington, D.C. He even got a chance to meet President Bush.

Sophomores Mitch Patten, Paula Shultz, Katie Geidtaker, Kathryn Brookes, Rachel Johnson, and Jennifer Strassel in San Jose, CA.

Senior Jerry Dupre chills with seniors Amy Forstad, Katrina Patton, and Jillian Gailjer.

Senior Sarah Hambson checks out a so-called mander on the job.

Sophomores Paula Schultz, Katie Geidtaker, and Jennifer Strassel are picking up trash for a servant event in San Jose, CA.

Senior Sarah Hambson, junior Xiao Kinchenen, and senior Stephanie Patton flex at Misty Fjords for their summer Forest Service job.

Seniors Tara Yus and Brooke Orr are taking a risk by diving into the cold Ketchikan ocean.

Look at our president now. He can be our next Bill Clinton.
How I Wonder Where You Were

Seniors Lauren Johnson, Brooke Orr, Jennifer Hewett, and Whitney Hofstede act as tourists this summer by posing in front of the Ketchikan Eagle.

Senior Tyrel Faber examines a salmon this summer. 'Way to show school spirit Tyrel.'

Senior Janie Cool acted as 'Memory Man' in front of hundreds of kids in Romania.

Right: Seniors Whitney Hofstede and Lauren Johnson make a new friend in Romania.

Seniors Keila Jones and Brittany Maxwell chow down their grub on their summer vacation.

Rule #8
Be Nice!

Chelsea Anne Palmer

Family members and friends of Courtnie Tunstra and Chelsea Palmer, who died Aug. 1 from injuries sustained in an auto crash, gathered together Thursday afternoon for a prayer service at First United Church's basement. The gathering was designed to raise awareness about the dangers of drunk driving and to remind community members of the need to be cautious on the roads. Chelsea's mother, Vicki Ulm, shared her thoughts on raising awareness and the importance of being vigilant in our community.

The Ketchikan Daily News carried an article and photograph of a tattoo tribute for Chelsea and Courtnie.

Everyone may remember her as the sporty jock who made people laugh, but I remember her as my best friend. She never asked questions cause she just always understood. She stood up for me against others and even against myself. She could always keep a secret and never passed judgment. She was the most beautiful girl inside and out, that I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. Though I've lost my closest friend, I live on for her and I hope she knows that everything I do is in memory of my best friend. 'Court.' -Jennifer L. LeBaron

"Courtnie was one of the first people I met. She always had a smile on her face. I miss her very much." -Laura Thornburgh

Kate Bernston, a talented artist, was commissioned by Kaye students to paint the memorial painting. Katheryn Brooks and Elizabeth Harpold organized the effort. Ms. Bernston, who works at Ketchikan General Hospital, said after spending time with family and friends of Courtnie and Chelsea, she painted the road going up a mountain into a nest representing that the girls are out of view but still continuing on a journey.

"In Loving memory of Chelsea Ann Palmer and Courtnie Marie Tuinstra: The painting is dedicated to Chelsea Palmer and Courtnie Tuinstra.

"Two beautiful stars faded from the sky but never from our hearts." -Stephanie Patton Nicole Carlson: When I first met Kate Bernston she was sweet, and was really focused on whatever she was painting at the time. You can tell by viewing her paintings that she puts a lot of thought and soul into her paintings.

"You were the light of many lives, especially mine. There's not a day that I don't wake up thinking of you. You'll always be in my heart. We had so many awesome memories. I just wish we could have had more. All our plans for the future I now pursue alone, but then I remember you'll always be with me. I've heard things happen for a good reason...I honestly don't see any good in this one. I love you, miss you, and will never forget you guys.

Love always and forever. TMC.

"Even though I didn't know the girls that well, they were always really sweet." -Nanci Fogley

Autumn’s Gift

As crimson leaves drift to the ground on Autumn’s breeze
Floating aimlessly as my thoughts......
Destined to be surrounded, layer upon layer
Each leaf having unique but similar substance

And in their fall to await death their beauty has never Been quite as lovely, nor their colors nearly as vivid Returning to eventual mulch, nourishment for a new beginning
Only hinting that they are renewing life with a whisper of the wind

What Would You Do for a Klondike Bar? 97
Mr. Maynard - "While I was coaching a basketball game, I yelled at the referee and my gum accidentally flew out of my mouth and onto the referee's face."

Alicia Vasquez - "My most embarrassing moment was when I tripped and almost fell down the aisle at my wedding."

Mrs. Bruce - "On the absolute top of my list, I won't tell you, so there. I'll never lie it down. But I can tell you I loaded my rifle with a cartridge from the wrong box one time and when I got to the deer, his neck was blown to the smithereens."

Andrew Russell - "When I was in the 1st grade I liked to watch that really dumb show called Mighty Morphin Power Rangers. Yeah, I know, but I was little. One day I was at school I went to the bathroom. Well, while I was in the bathroom I started singing, not just any song, but the Power Rangers theme song. I knew that song, from beginning to end, and I even did the sound effects. I washed my hands and I walked into my classroom and everyone started laughing at me. I frantically asked why everyone was laughing at me. They told me I was a great singer. (They heard me through the wall.) My face turned red, red as I sat back down in my seat."

Brandon Morris - "Way way way back when, oh about 6 years ago I woke up from a人iirating nap. It was great. Little did I know that I was actually sleepwalking. I left my bed and walked out into the living room. I was greeted by my brothers, Seth and Aaron. Aaron asked me how I was and what I was up to. I told him I was going to the bathroom. He said OK and let me go. To his surprise, he saw me walk into my kitchen, take out the garbage, and start perving in the garbage can. He yelled at me and that is when I found out what I was doing. It was really embarrassing and it was horrible."

Nichole Aaron - "I was climbing on the rainbow jungle gym at Point Higgins when the bell rang to go inside. I jumped down, but one of the prongs caught the back of my shirt. I just hung there, slowly falling out of my shirt. I had to get a friend to help me down. Everyone was laughing."

Carrie Morris - "I fell down the stairs, hit my head on the door and made a hole in it."

Stars of

Gavin Berkey - "I've always worn really baggy pants, and my friends like to joke about it. So one day during my freshman year, Corey Labuke pantied me in the commons to teach me a lesson for not wearing a belt."

Kate Gallaway - "One time, at Bible Camp, I saw this very cute boy with his shirt off and I went back for a second glance and ran into a tree. A couple days later I heard a song about someone running into a tree, a song that all the guys wrote me."

Michelle Mikolajczek - "One fine morning, I was in a hurry to get ready for school so I just threw some clothes on and ran out the door. As I was walking, to my car, I got real cold, and these people were all staring and laughing at me. So I reached in my pocket to get something, to pass them with, but then I couldn't find my pocket, and that's when I realized I had no pants on."

Kraig Bailey - "I fell asleep in Mrs. Green's class and I woke up with drool all over my face and the teacher told me to wake up and threw a Kleenex in my face. Everyone was laughing."

Tory Edwardsen - "Xina and I were walking home from school, and we saw my 'uncle's truck' so we got in, shut the door, and we saw a stranger eating a bag of chips."

Courtney Hayes - "I was at the beach watching these really hot guys. I fell asleep and when I woke up they were gone and I was really sunburned. I was called 'lobster' for weeks."

 Courtney Hayes - "I was at the beach watching these really hot guys. I fell asleep and when I woke up they were gone and I was really sunburned. I was called 'lobster' for weeks."
Mrs. Bowlen - "When I was in 7th grade, I was playing Hide-n-Seek with my friends after hours at school. I went downstairs to hide in the basement stairwell and fell into the uncovered septic tank."

Brendon Mix & Nate Horton - "We were up in Sitka on a basketball trip and at half time of the JV game we went to the girls locker room to change and go to the bathroom. When we were going to the bathroom the Drill Team came in and started doing their hair and we were still in the stalls."

Dawn Reno & Contessa Pahang - "I was eating at Oceano with Contessa and I saw my future husband across the room. I smiled at him and he kinda smiled back. Then he started mouthing something to me, but I couldn't understand what he was trying to say. So he walked over to me, bent down, came close to my face, and whispered, 'You have salad between your teeth.' I freaked out, grabbed the nearest napkin and accidentally knocked over Contessa's pop. It spilled all over her pants so it looked like she had an accident."

Marcus Robecker - "One time, when I was changing after wrestling practice, Xina walked in on me and umm, yeah."

Jillian Gallyer - "Once upon a past embarrassing moment, I was in the ice cream/candy shop in the SeaTac Mall. There was an ice cream cone on the counter and I thought it was a really realistic so I stuck my finger in it. And all of a sudden this woman said, 'Uh, that's my ice cream.' I got all red and felt so dumb."

Casey Klose - "One time, when I went to Canada for basketball, I was sitting in line to get into the building, I suddenly remembered that I forgot my I.D. So I looked in my wallet to grab my school I.D., then I realized I forgot that too. So I had to beg the custodians guy to let me through. Then my coach came. I got in, but the custodians guy told me I was stupid."

Amy Farstad - "I was on a softball trip in Oregon. The whole team would drive around in a big van. There was like 15 of us. Well at a big intersection we all jumped out to do the Chinese fire drill, I jumped out, but the seatbelt caught my foot, and I kinda just tumbled out. That was neat."

Christa Boyer - "My freshman year at the Clarke Cochrane I was walking out of the building, and looking at these really cute guys, and right when I hit the carpet I tripped and fell on my face. It was horrible!"

Darby Pierce - "During cheerleading practice, Andrew, Sarah and I were getting ready to do a basket toss with Ryan. We got into position and started counting, 1, 2, and on the count down I let it out, a really loud one. Once Ryan landed our hands she quickly got off and asked if I cut the cheese. I said yes, and everyone started cracking up. It was very funny for everyone, but it was traumatizing for me."

Melissa Williams - "One time during class, when I fell asleep, the teacher was talking to me and I kept talking back until my friend woke me up. I don't remember what I said, but I guess it was funny."
The Yearbook Staff
(top, row, left to right): Freshmen
Corrina Troll, Lacey Dunn, Lenny Kuni, Jennifer Hoyt, Shanna Chambers, Nicole Carlson, sophomore Naomi Figley, junior
Erik Natkang, seniors
Maureen Pangyan, Whitney Hofstede, Sarah Brandon—Nolten, Jenny Dupre, Stephanie Patton, editors Gabie Guthrie, Aaron Manuel, and freshman Olima Escuela (not pictured: Laura

Freshman Nicole Carlson looks like she's having fun making yearbook badges
for everyone in Willow to wear.

Senior Maureen Pangyan and freshman Corrina Troll, two of our poster girls, are hard at work making ex-quise posters for Kahi to gaze upon.

Freshman Lacey Dunn crops her pictures so Jostens will know the approximate measurements to shrink or enlarge the pictures.

This year is sophomores
Naomi Figley and Laura Thomburg's first year in Willow. Expect many great photos from these girls!

This is senior Sarah Brandt—
Erik Natkang's second year in Willow.
She is an important asset to the production of the yearbook.

Senior Jenny Dupre is our Seniors Editor: "Being in charge of all the seniors pages is a great responsibility, but we all know she'll get the job done!

Juniors Gabie Guthrie & Ollie Nolten, our first year yearbook students. The first year in yearbook can be a lot of work and very stressful but, these girls will get past that and make awesome pages.

photogenic girls in class. Be sure to look for their other exuberant pictures.

Sometimes, freshmen
Shanna Chambers, Nicole
Carlson, Corrina Troll,
Jennifer Hoyt, Lacey Dunn and Olima Escuela get a little crazy.
Although there are deadlines and other important dates to worry about in Willow, there are other days where we can all just sit back and relax, which would usually be during the 2nd semester of the course.

Mrs. Stillman shows freshman Lenny Krum how to fill out receipts for yearbook sales. Getting the correct information for the sales is important, so everyone who bought a yearbook gets what they paid for.

Our poster girls made some awesome posters this year trying for a more unique and creative look than in previous years. We will think poster chick freshmen Corinna Troll, Shanna Chambers, Nicole Carlson, Jennifer Hoyt, poster guy Lenny Krum, and senior Maureen Pangan for all the hard work in getting students and teachers aware of the yearbook sales.

Yearbook cover design $2,000.
Poster chick fresmen Lacey Dunn put up posters for Friends Ads. Ads are an important way of preserving memories and generating income for yearbook production costs.

Index by the Willow Class organized by Aaron Manuel Standing, high and proud, junior David Mann looks down on the other wrestlers. Throughout the long, tedious practices of wrestling, season David gave his all, earning the title of State Champion in the 103-pound division, said Coach Collins.

With hard work and determination, sophomore Ian Hamilton succeeded at being #1 State Champ in the 275-pound division.

Following, round after round of rigorous competition, senior Matt Haselton acheived the status of State Champion in the 145-pound division.

Not pictured: Houston Laws and Tim Eide. Congratulations to Mr. Collins and Mr. Karlik, and the 10 wrestlers who competed (Aidan Minshall, Matt Haselton, Zach Thompson, David Mann, Joes Boyd, Danny Cook, Houston Laws, Jarrod Fudge, Ivan Brown, and Brian Brown). Katli placed 6th in the State Wrestling Tournament and also won the Sportsmanship Award.

Junior Houston Laws goes for a low single leg to get his take-down points.

Below: Jon Hamilton slams his opponent on the mat and makes a pin.
